High Winds Snap Roof Off Lodge

Winds clocked at up to 100 miles an hour yesterday morning snapped the roof off a wing of the Tiburon Lodge and blew trees and utility wires down throughout Marin as heavy rain flooded homes and triggered minor slides. (See pictures, page 6.)

The 100-by-30-foot tar, gravel and timber roof on the south wing of the lodge blew off like an airplane wing at 9:54 a.m., and smashed down into the center patio and swimming pool.

Damage to the lodge, including to six other rooms, was estimated at $100,000 by Ben A Farlatti, operator of the lodge at 1651 Tiburon Boulevard.

One young girl occupying one of the topless rooms said it sounded "like the whole world exploded" as the roof tore away, Farlatti reported. Pieces of the roof were blown several hundred feet to the north, and some richocheted off the east side of the east wing.

James H. Lee of 322 Prospect Drive, San Rafael, who was working in an office across the street, said he saw "the roof just peel away."

Also in Tiburon, plate glass windows broke at Tiburon Tommies and at the Sierra National Bank, both on Main Street. Other Main Street roofs suffered damage, and a portion of the roof on the Safeway Store, just north of the lodge, blew off.

One of the new gas lamps recently installed on Main Street also was broken by the wind.

All of the wind damage occurred at about the same time that the Mill Valley Air Force Station clocked gusts up to 100 miles an hour.

In Belvedere, trees were blown down and three boats broke loose from their moorings, and one the Nui-Nui, was blown against the seawall on Beach Road.

In Mill Valley, there was a minor landslide on Underhill Road between Stanton Way and Middle Court.

Granton Park near the College of Marin was flooded.

Several houseboats reportedly pulled away from their docks at Gate Six at Waldo Point, and a few were driven onto mudbands at Strawberry Point.

At Hamilton Air Force Base, the Santa Claus at the north gate was toppled by the winds, as was the fence at the golf driving range north of the base.

In Novato, some streets were flooded as leaves quickly plugged storm drains.

Storm damage sent firemen to two homes on Penny Royal Lane

Justices Bar Draft 'Delinquency' Rule

Some Resisters Chance Prosecution: High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft boards may not use "delinquency" regulations to take away the exemptions of divinity students and groups of other young men shielded from the draft by Congress, the Supreme Court ruled 6 to 3 today.

At the same time, however, the court held that draft resisters who do not have a congressional exemption must — in order to test their 1-A classification — chance prosecution for draft evasion. (See also Supreme Court story, page 6.)

Besides divinity students, Congress has authorized exemption of: (1) persons under 19; (2) veterans of military service; (3) members of the National Guard and the reserves, and (4) sole surviving sons.

Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices Hugo L. Black, Abe Fortas and Thurgood Marshall supported Justice William O. Douglas's opinion. Justice John M. Harlan also voted with the majority but wrote a separate opinion.

Justices Potter Stewart, William J. Brennan Jr. and Byron R. White dissented, accusing the majority—in Stewart's words "of casual disregard" of Selective Service law.

Equally important, perhaps, was a companion decision by the court that, generally, a draft registrant cannot challenge his 1-A classification in court except in two difficult ways—by refusing induction and thereby becoming a defendant in a federal prosecution that could lead to jail or in the extremely difficult procedure of accepting induction and then bringing habeas corpus action to try to get release from service.

In a California case, a federal judge had ruled young men must have the right to sue to block their induction without having to refuse inductions and risk prosecution.

The high court flatly disagreed, saying a permit pre-induction court review of the general variety of "delinquency" classificatins to 1-A would massively hamper operation of draft procedures.

The case involved an Alameda County draft board's classification of Charles Joseph Gabriel to 1-A over his claims that he should be exempt as a conscientious objector.

Unlike congressionally authorized exemptions for divinity students, the court said in an unsigned opinion, rejection of conscientious objector status "involves a determination of fact

Story Links Burns, Insurance Companies

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Senate President pro tem Hugh M. Burns sponsored legislation aimed at helping some insurance companies while Burns was president and a major stockholder of another insurance firm, the Los Angeles Times said today.

In a story by reporter Robert S. Fairbanks, the newspaper said Burns and two partners began their company in 1962 "with a modest investment" and sold it five years later "at a profit of more than $500,000."

The Times said "about half" of the profit "came from insurance industry sources that benefited greatly from legislation that Burns helped enact. The other half came from a speculative maneuver approved by a former state insurance commissioner."

Burns said today "the story is fairly accurate" although he said the owners did not realize a full $500,000 profit from the sale.

"This was just simply another stock transaction, which I dabble in now and then," Burns told reporters who gathered in his Capitol office to ask him about the report. "I didn't pay a lot of attention to it."

But he acknowledged sponsoring the bill. Asked about the bill's origin, Burns said, "I think it probably came out of the insurance fraternity somewhere along the line."

Burns said he saw nothing illegal and unethical about his participation in the firm.

Burns is a 32-year legislative veteran who has been president pro tem of the Senate and chairman of the house's rules committee since 1957.

That committee assigns all bills to other committees for hearings, something that often determines whether a measure will pass or fail.

The Times said Burns, D-Fresno; David V. Oliver, an insurance industry lobbyist, and John J. Sullivan, a former savings and loan official in Fresno, were partners in the Menlo Life Insurance Co., incorporated May 15, 1962, in Phoenix, Ariz.

Oliver is registered as lobbyist for the Association of California Insurance Companies, an organization of the state's major casualty and fire insurance firms.

The Times said that Menlo did most of its business indirectly with two firms — Household Finance Co. of Chicago and Beneficial Finance Co. of Morrison, N.J.

Menlo, the paper said, had contracts involving the two companies and a form of life insurance known as "credit life" — a policy that assures banks, auto dealers and others

$250,000 Worth Of Silver Stolen

LONDON (AP) — A gang robbed a London silversmith of $250,000 worth of bullion during the night and drank the firm's Christmas whisky.

The raiders cut through a three-inch steel safe with a thermic lance—a superpowerful blow torch—and hauled away gold and silver in sheets and ingots.

As they worked they drank whisky which had been sent to the firm's directors as Christmas gifts.

To get in they bypassed two elaborate alarm systems, but they triggered one as they made their getaway.

"The gang must have known something about the firm," said Paul Knight, son of the firm's owner. "They struck when there was an unusually large amount of property in the strongroom."

Slow Driving Brings Drug Dealer Suspect

A 25-year-old Berkeley capenter wound up in Marin County Jail Saturday on suspicion of possessing marijuana for sale and transporting it all because he was driving too slowly.

The suspect, Leonard Gilbert Nathan, 25, drew attention of California Highway Patrol Officer Kent B. Berquist because he was driving slow and impeding traffic along Highway 101 northbound, south of the Alto overcrossing, at 3:30 p.m.

After he was halted, Nathan lied about his brithdate, and was put under arrest for giving false information to a police officer, Berquist reported.

Then came a routine inventory of the car before impounding it, Berquist said. The inventory included three plastic bags of what appeared to be marijuana on the rear floor, two plastic bags of hashish in the glove compartment, and a suitcase with four kilos of marijuana in the trunk.

No value of the haul was given.

There were papers in the car indicating that Nathan was in the process of making deliveries, Berquist reported.

At the jail, officers found what appeared to be five marijuana cigarettes in Nathan's pocket, and a plastic bag of marijuana under his undershirt, Berquist said.

Nathan was booked on suspicion of drug charges and of driving without a left hand rear view mirror and driving without a license. He was placed under $6,250 bail.

Kuchel Viewing Law Firm Post

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Republican Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, who leaves the Senate next month to be replaced by Democrat Alan Cranston, may join the law firm of former Democratic National Committeeman Eugene L. Wyman.

Wyman yesterday said he and Kuchel "have had some preliminary discussions" about the possibility of the senator joining the firm of Wyman, Bautzer, Finell and Rothman.

Kuchel, defeated in the Republican senatorial primary by Max Rafferty, is "definitely going into private practice" when he leaves public office, according to his administrative assistant, Ewing Hunt.

EXTERMINATION BEST?

Black Studies Instructor Cites Education Problems

By ANNE BARDWELL

"You can educate anyone — black, yellow or white — but once he is educated then you have to deal with him, and you have to call down 600 cops to deal with him; it's easier to exterminate than to teach," said Sarah Fabio, black poet and teacher, speaking Saturday at a forum on black studies in Marin City.

The all-day forum, "Black Studies: What and How" was at the Manzanita Center and was sponsored by Project Breakthrough, the Marin City parents organization, and the Sausalito Teacher Education Project (STEP).

Mrs. Fabio is a poet, lecturer in Black Literature and Subject A from a black perspective at the University of California at Berkeley, coordinator of Project Interaction at the U.C. at Davis and co-founder of the pioneering black studies program at Merritt College in Oakland. She is also 40 years old, the wife of a San Francisco dentist and the mother of five children.

Rather than give a formal lecture on black studies, Mrs. Fabio chose to present a two-hour freewheeling commentary on the education of the black man in today's society.

The problem in teaching blacks, Mrs. Fabio said, is not in the student but in the teacher's attitude. Teachers today, she said "Assume blacks don't want to learn so they can't teach them. It is just a good excuse for the teacher to sit in front and gab."

"In Tennessee (she graduated from Fisk University), I assumed students wanted to learn and I wanted to teach. There was no trouble."

Commenting on Merritt College where she taught for two years: "You couldn't have wanted them (the blacks) to learn if you created such a horror pit for them to learn in."

On teaching: "I taught black junior high students in Tennessee language for a participatory democratic society. The only problems is that there is no such thing for them when they are out of high school."

"You can teach old blacks, new blacks, nonblacks. A hungry black does not make a smart Negro."

On Subject A: "Subject A is culture oriented, not IQ oriented. It is testing your capacity to be stuffed into a white sardine can. When blacks are given questions relevant to their culture they do well in Subject A."

On creativity: "A white kid is not creative because of the white man's burden; blacks are creative because they're black. Being born black is the most nonconformist thing you can do."

On black poetry: "You can't just scream when someone steps on your toe; you have to blow when you do your own thing."

On white help: "The best role for the liberal, wealthy white person is to help blacks speak out. They could provide us with a printing press."

On newspapers: "Few blacks read the newspaper because they know that what's in the paper isn't really happening."

On current black thought: "You find it in the Negro Digest, put out by Ebony magazine, known as 'Life in Brown'."

On integration: "I have integrated everything from Germany on. I was the Hertz rent-a-Negro for dinner parties and visiting black dignitaries for years."

On black universities: "Cornell or U.C. will have meaningful black studies before Howard University. Fisk and Howard were set up for black children of white slave owners who didn't want to send them to Harvard or Yale."

On her current work: "I'm writing a dictionary of black language. I have 300 words so far including 'honkology' — a study of white man's attitude toward the blacks."

"I also have just completed a 25-page paper by White Writers on Blacks and Black Writing, Specifically: White on Black and Black on White."

During the morning session Sid Walton, author of the "Black Curriculum" and director of the multiethnic project in the Palo Alto School District, spoke on a black studies program.

San Mateo College Opens With Identification Checks

SAN MATEO (UPI) — The College of San Mateo, scene of student activist violence last Friday, opened its hilltop campus with a police check of each arriving student and faculty member.

Long lines of cars piled up at the two entrances to the campus as police inspected identification cards for morning classes, usually heavy on Monday.

"Everything was quiet and quite orderly," said a college spokesman.

Precautions were taken, he said, because many of the activists participating in last week's fracas were not students of the San Mateo school. Many were believed students from San Francisco State College, now closed for the holiday vacation.

Nine Marin law enforcement officers left at 6 a.m. today to assist at College of San Mateo.

Included were two deputies from the sheriff's department, two each from San Rafael and Novato police departments and one each from San Anselmo, Fairfax and Mill Valley departments.

Robert L. Ewigleben, the college president, had warned all students to arrive early because of the police check. Local police were augmented by 50 officers from San Francisco.

Stinson Beach Motel Raid Nets $5,000 In Marijuana

Six persons were arrested last night in a raid on a Stinson Beach motel, where federal, state and county narcotics agents seized more than $5,000 worth of marijuana.

Arrested on suspicion of possession of marijuana for sale, a felony, were Paul Stanton Gladman, 22; Gary Lee Arthur, 22; Michael Taylor, 30, all of whom gave the Fern Motel as their address; Charles Mather Weiner, 19, of Stinson Beach, and Robert Leighton Leoni, 23, of Bolinas.

Emmitt Warner, special agent in charge of the San Francisco district of the federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, said that agents had been watching the group, which used the Fern Motel as headquarters for about a month.

Warner said that an agent bought marijuana last month from one of the men. He explained that since the agent was a federal officer, the six men will be turned over to the U.S. marshal in San Francisco.

In addition to the 25 kilos of marijuana agents found in the motel, a Volkswagen which they said was used to transport marijuana for sales was impounded.

The suspects were held today in Marin County Jail without bail, awaiting transfer to San Francisco, where they will be placed in the San Francisco County Jail.

Wreckage Of Downed U.S. Plane Found

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Searchers found the wreckage of a twin-engine Air Force plane today and located the bodies of six of the aircraft's eight crewmen. The plane had been missing since Saturday.

The wreckage was sighted near El Yunque, a peak 25 miles southeast of San Juan.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

New Commander

ATHENS (AP) — Lt. Gen. Obysseas Angelis was named yesterday by the military-backed regime today to be commander in chief of the Greek armed forces, a post traditionally held b the king.

The new appointment makes Angelis the strong man of the armed forces and strips self-exiled King Constantine of control, leaving him only as titular head of the armed forces.

Angelis' new duties will include decisions on promotions, transfers and retirements of officers and planning for the country's defense.

Under the old constitution, the king was able to influence such decisions and even rule on the structure of the armed forces. The 27-year-old monarch now lives in Rome following his flight from Greece a year ago, when he failed to oust the ruling junta in a countercoup.

Final Exams

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — With the condition for their moon voyage smoothly under way, the Apollo S astronauts today received the final major physical examination for the flight.

Space agency doctors began examining Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders in a session scheduled to last four or five hours to make certain the spacemen are in excellent shape for the mission.

Back To Normal

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazilians stramed to their jobs and other pursuits in normal fashion today after a weekend crackdown by President Arthur da Costa e Silva on the opposition to his regime and its military backers.

Regularly scheduled morning newspapers were on the tands but all lacked editorial comment on a weekend political upheaval in which 200 persons were reported arrested.

Available information indicated there were no incidents in any part of the nation, South America's largest and potentially its richest.

Found Dead

HOVE, England, (AP) — David Jacobs, lawyer for the Beatles and a number of other stars, was found hanged in the garage at his seafront mansion yesterday, police reported. An inquest was ordered.

The body was discovered by a servant. Friends said Jacobs had appeared to be under a strain for some weeks.

It was the second time death had come close to the Beatles in recent years. Brian Epstein, their manager and another client of Jacobs, died in August, 1967 of an accidental overdose of sleeping pills.

Jacobs was 57 and unmarried. In addition to the Beatles, he had represented Sir Laurence Olivier, Marlene Dietrich, Judy Garland, Liberace, Shirley Bassey and Zsa-Zsa Gabor.

Weather Probe

VANDENBURG AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — The eighth weather satellite is orbiting the earth, photographing the cloud cover every six minutes.

The 290-pound spacecraft was launched yesterday after being dalyed for three days by high winds. A U.S. space agency spokesman said the launch was flawless.

The two cameras aboard ESSA 8 were designed to photograph from a 900-mile-high circular orbit around the poles. They will radio pictures to earth stations enabling coastal countries and islands to get pictures of approaching storms.

Bulgarian Pact

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Radio Havana said yesterday that Cuba had signed a 1969 trade agreement with Bulgaria.

The European Communist country will supply Cuba with industrial machinery, medicine and foodstuffs, said to the broadcast monitored in Miami. Cuba will export sugar, molasses, citrus and other commodities to Bulgaria, the governent radio said.

Two Children Drown In Pool

SYOSSET, N.Y. (AP) — A 6-year-old boy and his 4-year-old sister, playing in the season's first snowfall, fell through ice and snow and drowned yesterday in a half-filled swimming pool near their home.

Police, summoned by a neighbor, found the bodies of Diane and Scott Naughton in a 16-by-32-foot concrete pool on the lawn of an unoccupied house.

Police said the children had opened the gate of a four-foot-high chain-link fence surrounding the pool and had walked out on the ice. The ice at the shallow end of the pool supported them but the ice at the deep end gave way.

As the accident occurred, Diane and Scott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Naughton, were making final preparations for the christening of their third child, Richard Jr., born a month ago. The christening was postponed.

22 Hikers Survive Mountain Snowstorm

MANCHESTER, Vt. (AP) — Twenty high school hikers and two teachers, trapped on Mount Tabor when a rain turned to a blinding snowstorm, lasted the night in a lean-to by singing songs and pairing off to watch for signs of frost bite.

The nine girls, 11 boys and teachers from the hiking club of Shenendowa High School at Elnora, N.Y., were brought down yesterday by rescuers. They had kept warm by a fire on the lean-to's shelves plus dead wood found in the area.

Two girls, Janice Naylor, 16, and Virginia Morton, 17, suffered frost bitten feet. After treatment by Dr. Clifford B. Harwood, who accompanied the rescuers, the girls were allowed to accompany their school mates home. Then they were admitted to a hospital in Schenectady, near Elnora, where a spokesman said they were in good spirits and would be discharged in two days.

The 20 students, led by teachers Martin H. Granger, 22, of Ballston Spa, N.Y., and Daniel Willa of Elnora, started the hike over the Long Trail between Mount Tabor and Bromley, a ski resort, Saturday.

Snow, winds of up to 50 miles per hour and zero cold forced the group to seek shelter.

Granger said the party missed a side path, realized it was near dark, and took shelter in the lean-to, using a machete to cut down fire wood.

"We never slept, it was too cold," said Lynn Focht, 17. "We sang and talked."

"It rained for an hour and a half after we started walking," she said. "We all got soaked. None of us had ever walked in this area before."

After the group's bus driver reported that they failed to make their rendezvous point, a search was started by more than 50 persons, some traveling in snowmobiles or on snow shoes.

10 Perish In Michigan Fires

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Fires claimed 10 lives in Michigan over the weekend, and eight of the victims were children.

A mother and three of her children died in a fiery explosion which burned their home and tore it apart yesterday on Kalamazoo's South Side.

Five children perished in a Saturday fire on Detroit's West Side, and 79-year-old Alex Lindquest of the Auper Peninsula community of Gwin was fatally burned Saturday night in a fire that destroyed the home where he lived alone.

A broken gas main under the driveway of the home next door was blamed by authorities for the Kalamazoo explosion and fire. Cause of the Detroit blaze was undetermined. Police said Lindquest apparently dropped a lighted cigarette accidentally before retiring.

Clifford's Saigon Slap Angers Ky

PARIS (AP) — Nguyen Cao Ky said today it was wrong for Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford to suggest South Vietnam is holding up the Paris peace talks.

The South Vietnamese vice president, referring to remarks made by Clifford in Washington yesterday, told newsmen: "Ever since he came into office, Secretary Clifford has shown a gift for saying the wrong thing at the wrong time.

"GOOD WILL"

"We came here a week ago full of good will and prepared to sit down at any time."

He added the Saigon government does not expect the other side to surrender "but they cannot expect us to surrender either."

The talks had been set to start early in November among the United States, North Vietnam, South Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

STATUS HANGUP

The talks have been delayed by a hangup on the status of the Viet Cong's envoys and the shape of the table that should be used.

"It is not a dispute over the shape of the table," Ky said. "That is really a secondary matter. What is important is the matter of principle on which we cannot give way."

The South Vietnamese refuse to accept the principle that the National Liberation Front is an equal unit in the negotiations. It holds the front to be a direct agent of the North Vietnamese.

Ky spoke to newsmen after conferring with Pham Dang Lam, the nominal head of the Saigon delegation. South Vietnamese sources said they conferred on what was described as mounting U.S. pressure for Saigon to make some procedural concessions that would get the talks started.

NOT CONFIRMED

Neither Ky nor Lam would confirm this.

Lam told newsmen: "It is not we who are raising procedural issues. We haven't raised a single one since we came here.

"We came ready to sit down at a two-sided conference exactly as it was agreed, and we are still ready to do so at any time."

The United States originally wanted a two-sided conference with Washington and Saigon envoys on one side and Hanoi and the North Vietnames front on the other.

U.S. Frees Seven Hanoi Captives For Christmas Release Of Pilots

SAIGON (AP) — The United States today returned seven civilian seamen to North Vietnam, and Radio Moscow confirmed that Hanoi has announced it will release some American pilots at Christmas.

A U.S. spokesman said the release of the seven North Vietnamese was arranged in Vientiane, the Laotian capital. He said Hanoi's representatives had given no immediate indication that their government planned to release any of the hundreds of American fliers it has captured.

But a spokesman for Moscow Radio confirmed a broadcast by the Soviet radio Saturday which said: "Radio Hanoi stated today Dec. 14 that a group of American pilots who were taken into captivity when their planes were shot down over the territory of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam will be released at Christmas."

The Hanoi broadcast had not been heard by monitors in Tokyo, Hong Kong or Saigon, and in the absence of official word from the North Vietnamese it was thought Moscow might have been mistaken.

The report relayed by Moscow gave no indication exactly when or how the fliers would be released.

The U.S. Command in Saigon said the release of the North Vietnamese seamen was an "action of good will" which it hoped would "lead to further release of prisoners."

The men were released offshore about 13 miles northeast of Vinh, a coastal city 145 miles north of the demilitarized zone. The U.S. Command said the amphibious transport Duluth put the men into a 45-foot motorized fishing junk and a U.S. helicopter observed them until they were about 9,000 yards from the beach.

A spokesman said the U.S. and North Vietnamese diplomats in Vientiane who negotiated the release "gave assurances that the operation would be safe from military action." But no cease-fire was declared because President Johnson's order halting all aerial, naval and artillery bombardment of North Vietnam on Nov. 1 made that unnecessary, the spokesman explained.

Last Oct. 21 the United States and Hanoi declared a 36-hour cease-fire covering a 288-square-mile area along the coast to return 14 North Vietnamese navy men. At that time the United States said it held no other prisoners of War. North Vietnamese prisoners usually are turned over to South Vietnamese authorities.

U.S. Navy spokesmen said the seven men released today were rescued in 1967 from "a small boat in international waters in the Gulf of Tonkin after an attack by U.S. aircraft on North Vietnamese cargo boats suspected of supplying the enemy in the South."

North Vietnam had announced earlier arrangements would be made to forward Christmas packages from the United States to prisoners in the North.

Hong Kong Flu Shuts More Universities

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hong Kong flu has caused three more universities to begin Christmas holidays early but several others tentatively scheduled reopenings this week. Among the victims of the illness is Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston.

In many hospitals, visiting privileges have been canceled or drastically restricted to avoid further spread of the malady.

Classes at George Washington University were ordered suspended today as about 50 per cent of the school's 2,500 undergraduates were reported ill. The holidays at the Washington, D.C. school had been scheduled to begin Friday.

Four Virginia colleges, which normally would have closed later this week, shut down last Wednesday and Thursday. Starting today, three central Virginia hospitals began discouraging visitors to protect patients from the flu.

Central Michigan University canceled all classes until Jan. 6, while Northern Michigan University also closed a week early because of "flu-like" illnesses.

Two Maryland schools, closed last week, planned to resume classes this week in view of no significant outbreaks over the weekend.

In Cleveland, Ohio, three Catholic schools closed last week will open today.

Cardinal Cushing was forced to cancel his appearance Sunday at the 60th anniversary celebration of St. Brigid's Parish in South Boston.

In Wisconsin, health authorities said blood tests showed Type A incidence of the flu up as much as 17 per cent in some localities compared to 3 per cent in November. In Milwaukee, about 10 per cent of the schools' teachers were absent last week, while more than 20 Milwaukee-area hospitals cut down drastically on the number of visitors.

In Pittsburgh, hospitals reported an upsurge in flu-like illnesses but pinpointed only five cases as being of the Hong Kong variety. To guard against any possible general outbreak, six hospitals restricted visiting privileges.

Step-Saving Teen Survives Span Collapse

THOUSAND OAKS (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Alfred Streit took a shortcut yesterday across a massive, steel-reinforced six-lane overpass under construction in Thousand Oaks when the bridge collapsed with a roar.

In the tons of steel girders and wood pilings the boy was found with only a broken heel.

The 35-foot-long bridge crashed onto Hillcrest Drive, just missing two cars as it fell 15 feet.

Young Streit was taken to Conejo Valley Community Hospital. His foot was put in a cast and he was released.

Authorities couldn't immediately say what caused the bridge's downfall. But a California highway patrol spokesman said last night that no one should have been on it since the ends of the bridge had yet to be connected permanently to concrete abutments.

What was Alfred doing there?

His mother Marjorie, telling Alfred's story today while he slept after his ordeal, said in a telephone interview that her son was out collecting money on his newspaper route and he decided to take a short cut.

"It never looked dangerous to me," said Mrs. Streit. "An awful lot of kids play around there."

She speculated that "maybe it was the rain soaking it" that loosened the bridge. A wet Pacific storm hit Southern California over the weekend.

The bridge was to be part of a six-lane freeway linking the Conejo Creek Freeway from Ventura to the Simi Valley Freeway in Simi.

Young Alfred told officers at the scene that he was starting across the bridge when it "started to wobble and then it collapsed." Seconds before the crash, two cars including a sheriff's cruiser had passed underneath.

Humphrey Announces Two Jobs

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey announced yesterday he will return as a professor to two schools in the Twin Cities which hold especially fond memories for him.

Humphrey, a 1939 graduate of the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis and a teacher at Macalester College of St. Paul in 1943 and 1944, has accepted a joint professorship at the two schools.

The vice president said at a gathering in Macalester's fine arts center that after 25 years in politics he has some things he wants to say and the job in his home state should provide a very good atmosphere for both teaching and learning.

The courses which Humphrey will teach after his duties as vice president end Jan. 20 have not been outlined in detail, but there are indications he will give some regular lectures and hold some seminars.

Humphrey also said he hoped in his new position to work on solutions to some problems facing society.

"It is clear that many of the answers which were satisfactory even a decade ago are no longer acceptable. The universities have become a forum for the expression of this dissatisfaction, as well as the place where better answers are being sought," Humphrey said.

The vice president added one of the reasons I wanted to be president was that "I thought that was the best forum for teaching. Well I've had to settle for second best, but that's pretty good."

The Minnesota Democrat, who lost in this years presidential election said teaching was not his main objective in returning to the state.

"I come back to learn and to have my mind and senses stretched once again by the students and faculty with whom I will be associated," Humphrey said. "And I can hardly wait to begin!"

The vice president will receive $30.000 for teaching nine months at the two schools, $20.000 from Macalester and $10.000 from the University, according to University President Malcolm Moos.

Sen. Kennedy Lauds Young In Bomb Halt

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (UPI) —Sen. Edward Kennedy yesterday credited "brave young Americans" with the efforts that brought about a bombing halt in the Vietnam war and other major peace moves.

"So powerful was their example that by late this year all the major presidential candidates had come to their beliefs," Kennedy said in a talk at the University of Santa Clara.

The Massachusetts Democrat was at the school to receive an honorary doctor of laws deree. About 1,500 persons attended the ceremony, including San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto and former Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

"A year ago," Kennedy said, "we were told that even to suggest a bomb halt was 'obscene.' But now we and our friends and our enemies are sitting down to negotiations in Paris."

"The faith of those who worked for change is being vindicated," he said.

Kennedy said the Vietnam war was "a national tragedy," but he added that, "Its lessons will serve us well in the future."

"In some respects, I believe, the Vietnam war and its lessons are helping to ease the racial tensions in this country," he said.

"Last summer was the coolest summer in years. And, if Martin Luther King had not been killed, it would have been even cooler."

After his Santa Clara speech, Kennedy drove to San Francisco to appear at a $100-a-plate dinner at the Fairmont Hotel. The event was arranged to raise funds to pay off the California campaign debts of his late brother, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Houseboy Captured; Warden, Wife Safe

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — "We treated him like a son," said the warden of State Prison who was stabbed by his houseboy in an escape. "I don't know what happened to him."

The houseboy, David F. Mabery, who was serving a life term for the slaying of a 15-month-old boy, was caught yesterday in downtown Hartford by two policemen.

Warden Frederick Reincke, 69, said Mabery attacked him Saturday at his home at the prison in Somers, 20 miles north of Hartford, and forced him and Mrs. Reincke, 63, to drive to Hartford, where he fled. Reincke, attacked with a knife-like object, was reported in satisfactory condition at Hartford Hospital with minor stab wounds. His wife was treated for shock and released Saturday.

Mabery's duties as a trusty in the Reincke house had been primarily to look after the warden's 90-year-old mother-in-law.

One of the arresting officers, rookie Mike McConnell, said he recognized Mabery from a photograph. Mabery offered no resistance. He had pleaded guilty Feb. 21, 1961 in the slaying at New Haven of his girlfriend's son. After his recapture he was charged with aggravated assault and carrying a dangerous weapon.

While the search for Mabery was on, Ellis C. MacDougall, state commissioner of corrections, ordered a suspension of trusty assignments at the homes of prison officials pending a re-evaluation of the inmate classification program.

Blaiberg Defends Heart Doctor's Courage In Book

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's longest lived heart transplant patient has defended the "cold, calculated courage" of Dr. Christiaan Barnard, who performed the controversial operation.

The patient, Philip Blaiberg, said of the pioneer surgeon, "He it was who had the courage to transplant a new heart in me after his first patient died."

"The cold, calculated courage he has shown, while the world watche him, was courage indeed," Blaiberg wrote in a book, "Looking at My Heart," published today by Stein and Day.

The transplant operation had been criticized as premature before Blaiberg, a retired dentist, became the world's third transplant patient last Jan. 2. Before the operation, Blaiberg's condition had been considered hopeless.

In the book, Blaiberg says he and his wife resumed marital relations on April 5, their wedding anniversary. He had left Groote Schuur Hospital in Capetown, South Africa, on March 16.

Blaiberg said Barnard suggested he relate this "to allay the fears of some men who believe their potency might be impaired after cardiac surgery."

Stereo Stolen

A stereo player and tapes, valued at $137 were stolen yesterday from his car, Steven Sooper of 116 Sausalito Boulevard told Sausalito police yesterday.

Motorbike Stolen In Corte Madera

A motorbike, four car wheels and tires, and a small amount of tools were stolen from the home of William C. Otey, 9 Palm Avenue, Corte Madera police said today.

Otey told officers entry was apparently via an unlocked garage door yesterday. The items were taken from the garage.

The child's prayer beginning "Now I lay me down to sleep" had been recorded as early as 1160 A.D.

Berkeley Campus Simmering Down

BERKELEY (AP)—The University of California, which built the mold for worldwide student disorders with the Free Speech Movement four years ago, has simmered down to what its chancellor calls "a bubbling pressure pot."

The pot could explode or boil over again, but the chancellor doubts it.

Across the bay at San Francisco State College, student turmoil has disrupted the campus for more than a month.

The Berkeley campus, relatively calm for the past two years, was disrupted by two brief sit-in demonstrations last October at Sproul Hall, the university administrative center, and nearby Moses Hall.

Chancellor Roger W. Heyns promptly called in police, and 197 persons were arrested including 154 students and one professor. Suspensions and prosecutions followed.

A proposed strike in favor of the demonstrators failed to gain any enthusiasm among the 28,000-member student body.

The incident contrasted with 1964, when university officials tried to reason with the Free Speech Movement.

After more than two months of intermittent demonstrations and disorders, dissidents seized Sproul Hall. They finally were ejected by police, with more than 700 arrests.

The issues of student discipline and nonstudent incursions on the campus continued, eventually costing the jobs of Chancellor Edward W. Strong, who had favored stern discipline, and University President Clark Kerr, who had favored persuasion and discussion.

A brief sit-in opposing Navy recruiting in November 1966 was broken up when Heyns, the new chancellor, had the leaders arrested and prosecuted for trespass.

The latest flare-up in October resulted from refusal of the university regents to allow academic credit for an experimental course on racism, including 10 lectures to be given by Eldridge Cleaver, militant Black Panther spokesman and convict.

The regents ruled that an unqualified guest lecturer could give only one talk in a course carrying credit.

Cleaver made several appearances, in a classroom provided by the chancellor, but credit was not allowed, despite the demonstrations.

Philosophically reviewing the campus, Chancellor Heyns told an interviewer that to have violent disruptions, "You must have an issue, a radical minority, and a general frustration with bureaucratic redtape.

"We are dealing with a general frustration about being 23 years old and not being able to be in a position of influence.

"That goes all the way from, 'We couldn't stop the war,' to 'We couldn't nominate McCarthy,' to, 'We couldn't change the regents' minds on the Cleaver course.' "

An assortment of students, instructors, administrators and outsiders offered various opinions as to why the campus has been calm, such as:

The students have just given up and are not much interested in confrontations;

Discipline is a strong deterrent;

Public reaction and "political interference" have become too strong.

"I think there is a real turning away from violence," the chancellor said.

A pensive, pipe-smoking man of 50, Heyns said he constantly talks to as many students as he can, and, thinks, "There might be a reversion to violence but I doubt it.

"The bulk of the students recognize that violence is counterproductive. It brings on intervention from outside, so as a technique, it just hasn't been effective."

They said their aim was to "open up the channels of communication with the administration and the regents," but started eating again after each lost several pounds.

They decried what they called "student impotency."

He is Peter Camejo, 28, leader of the Young Socialist Alliance.

"Nothing is over," Camejo insisted. "Anything could happen, but the emphasis now is on being defensive. We have to be better organized."

Camejo was suspended during the Free Speech Movement and faces felony charges of conspiracy to break the law in the Moses Hall sit-in.

Camejo also was a leader in last summer's movement to have Berkeley's Telegraph Avenue turned over to the "street people."

Nearly 200 were arrested, but under threats of new violence they induced the city council to set aside two blocks of the avenue for a massive but peaceful July Fourth demonstration.

The section has been generally quiet since then, but police say it has the city's highest crime rate, mostly due to narcotics traffic.

University authorities are pleased to disclaim any connection with Telegraph Avenue's problems.

Faculty members prefer to talk of academic freedom, which some see as an issue in the Cleaver lecture affair.

The 1,200-member Academic Senate has had authority since 1920 to set up courses, and is prepared to resist any move to reduce that power. However, it twice postponed action on a resolution asking credit for the Cleaver course.

Prof. Sheldon Wolin, chairman of the 200-member Faculty Alliance, which sought credit for the Cleaver course, sees the problem as a desire by the regents and legislature to tighten control.

The 101-year-old university, which boasts 12 Nobel laureates, has traditionally been a leader in experimental education.

Cleaver, however, gave opponents ample fuel with such lecture statements as:

"There are a lot of Jews who need killing. There are a lot of Italians who need killing. There are a lot of Irish who need killing. There are a lot of Anglo-Saxons who need killing."

He led his class in a chant of four-letter obscenities aimed at Gov. Reagan and other public officials.

"We don't have a problem here with militant blacks," observed Professor Wolin, "but it could come."

The student body leader, Palmer, and student editor, Berlandt, both white, say that when the establishment ignores student points of view, the students have a choice of overt action or "dropping out."

Chancellor Heyns suggests a different path:

"You try to make life pleasant with a minimum amount of frustration with bureaucratic education. Then you try to resolve the larger and more important issues in a way that is acceptable to the students...

"If you are going to get them to reject violence and intimidation, you have to have other mechanisms and they have to work."

Skin From Cancer Patients Effective

JERUSALEM (SS) — An odd sidelight on the problems of bodily rejection — one of the key difficulties in transplant surgery — has been turned up here in studies of skin grafts.

Skin taken from donors who died of cancer is effective much longer than skin from healthy donors.

Skin grafts are a kind of nature-made bandage. In cases of severe burns or other severe injuries, they can prevent infection and stop the leakage of proteins, electrolytes and other vital substances.

Unfortunately, the body may quickly reject the foreign skin tissue, and the patient will lose his biological dressing. The result may be increased sickness and even death.

Now Dr. Mahum Ben-Hur and others at the Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center in Jerusalem have found that in 40 patients, who were subjected to two skin transplants, one from a normal donor and one from a patient with cancer, the survival of the grafts from the cancer patients was significantly prolonged.

In one case, a young patient at the Hadassah Medical Center with second- and third-degree burns involving 70 per cent of his body, treated for burns for 19 days, received several different grafts, one from a patient who had died of cancer of the larynx and three from others who had died from nonmalignant diseases.

The graft from the cancer patient survived for over 60 days; those from the other patients only 12 to 18 days. The prolonged survival time enabled the patient to overcome the critical period, and after 126 days, he could leave the hospital.

By this time, the grafts from the cancer victim had sloughed off as well; the patient was meanwhile covered by his own regrown skin. A similar experience is recorded with a patient with severe bedsores.

The usually accepted method of combatting rejection to grafting is to try to depress the number of antibodies being produced by the host to fight the foreign protein. this is done by administering cortisone, cytolox ic cell agents, anti-white-cell serums, or by means of radiation.

Dr. Ben-Hur and his colleagues prefer to treat the graft itself instead of the patient after he receives it: so that the antigenic pattern of the tissues being grafted is changed or decreased, and the tissues are then less likely to promote the formation of antibodies. In this way, the survival time of the graft is prolonged before rejection.

The scientists came to this approach when they began to ask themselves why the female body does not reject the fetus, which is, after all, one form of grafting of cells of a different genetic constitution.

From this, they went on to wonder why a certain type of cancer of the uterus, which develops after pregnancy and also contains the father's genes as well as the mother's, is not rejected.

They then found that tumors are extremely useful for the clarification of the immunological laws governing tissue grafting, because when cancer cells infiltrated and spread in the body, they seem to do so without the antigen-antibody immunity reaction.

Driver Nabbed For Speeding

A San Rafael man was arrested yesterday after a three-block chase at speeds up to 70 miles an hour, San Rafael police said.

Billy Joe Taylor, of 229 Humboldt Street, was first spotted speeding on E Street between Third and Fourth streets and was arrested on Fifth Street between G and H streets.

Taylor was released on $120 bail from Marin County Jail and will appear at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court to answer the charges.

Library Change To Be Studied

A public hearing on a proposal for Corte Madera to withdraw from the Marin County library system and from a joint powers agreement with the county for a new regional library is scheduled for the 7:30 p.m. meeting today of the town council.

Proposed is a $500,000 library on a 2.7-acre site on Meadowsweet Drive.

The council also will have a public hearing on an application to permit restaurants in professional and administrative zoning.

that consumer loans will be paid if the borrower dies.

Household, through another firm, turned over a portion of credit life business to Menlo, according to the Times.

The Times quoted Paul Welbon, Household's senior vice president for administration, as saying the firm decided to turn over 10 per cent of its California business to a California firm for business reasons.

Household gave the business to Pacific Employers, which gave 85 per cent of it to Menlo. Welbon said Household had no objection to that.

Edward A. Dunbar, vice president of Beneficial said his firm wanted to give a share of business to a California firm to help secure proper representation for itself, the Times said.

In the 1965 legislative session, the paper said, Burns introduced a bill that would permit finance companies such as Household and Beneficial to sell another form of consumer insurance—credit disability.

His bill was stalled in a Senate committee, but the provisions became law when they were included in another bill by Assemblyman George Zenovich, D-Fresno.

The bill was signed into law by then Gov. Edmund G. Brown June 17, 1965.

The Times said Household collected $2.9 million in disability insurance premiums last year year and Beneficial collected $640,000.

However, there is no record that Menlo ever handled any of the disability credit insurance.

Teen Nabbed As Suspect In Burglaries

A 19-year-old Novato youth, arrested Saturday night as he approached a house which had been burglarized the night before, is allegedly responsible for other recent burglaries in Novato, police said today.

Peter Michael Casali of 684 Hancock Street was arrested on suspicion of burglary and possession of narcotics.

Police said they stopped Casali as he approached the home of Eliza Potter at 835 Reichert Avnue, where watches and rings valued at $305 had been taken on Thursday night.

Casali had with him an opal ring which fit the description of one taken from Mrs. Potter's house, police said. He also was carrying a flashlight, steak knife and glass cutter when arrested.

A packet of white powder, believed to be speed, was in his wallet, according to police.

Police claimed that Casali, and possibly other confederates, were linked to other burglaries, including the homes of Olin Jaris Cawthorn of 821 Reichert Avenue on Dec. 7; Walter George Coburn of 72 6Lamont Avenue and Ann Redding of 900 Railroad Avenue, both on Dec. 9, as well as the theft of a purse from the Novato Community House on Friday.

Casali was booked into Marin County Jail with bail set at $3,000. He was to appear in Municipal Court today.

COLLEGE

which has an enrollment of 8,500 students.

The closed campus policy was adopted Saturday during an eight-hour emergency meeting of trustees of the tax-supported college. It came as a result of a riot Friday by about 150 young militants.

The demonstrators raced through the campus, swinging metal pipes and tire irons. A dozen students and faculty members were injured badly enough to require medical treatment, and damage to campus buildings was estimated at $15,000.

Warrants were issued for five persons involved in Friday's violence, and there were indications at least 20 more would be drawn up during the week.

"People will be surprised at the number of suspensions, expulsions and arrests that will result from the violence," said Ewigleben, who promised to expel every student identified as taking part in the riot.

The disturbance broke out at the end of a rally sponsored by the Third World Liberation Front and the New Black Generation to demand upgrading of educational opportunities for minorities.

Ewigleben said he was never presented a list of the demands.

"They were to hold their rally, then present their demands," the president said. "Instead, they stuck them in their pockets and decided to destroy part of the school."

In announcing his "armed camp" policy, Ewigleben said, "We have to demonstrate to everyone, even to other colleges across the nation, that a firm stand must be taken."

Hams Stolen

Canned hams worth $100 were reported missing Saturday from the Mayfair Market, 340 Third Street, San Rafael, police said.

and an exercise of judgment." This judgment, the court said, is reserved under federal law for draft boards to make.

The vote was 8 to 1, with Justice Black opposing the court's action. He said simply that the court should have heard the Gabriel case.

The court acted summarily—that is, it ruled without first holding a hearing.

In other action today, the court:

Agreed to an indefinite delay, asked by the Justice Department, of the merger of the Great Northern Railway, the Northern Pacific Railway, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and other railroads. The merged lines would stretch from Chicago to Seattle and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico.

Said it would hear a case, from Arkansas, that questions the constitutionality of allowing juries, without some guidance from trial judges, to impose the death penalty at their own discretion.

Agreed to hear an attack on Alabama election laws which were challenged as racially motivated and designed to keep Negroes from winning public office.

Consented to a request that it decide if unions can force companies to bargain although certification elections have not been held. The National Labor Relations Board, which made the request, said the fact that a majority of the workers signed up with the union is sufficient to force bargaining.

STORM

in Terra Linda. First, at 8:30 a.m., the backyard at the home of Sven Olund, 760 P enny Royal Lane, began flooding, apparently because of plugged drains, but water did not enter his house.

Then, at 9 a.m., a 20-foot section of a tree fell on the roof of the J. C. Reynolds home at 787 Penny Royal Lane. It did not break through the roof, however, and firemen pulled it off.

The storm, which came off the Northern California coast at about 4 a.m. yesterday, was followed by sparkling skies last night and today, and the U.S. Weather Bureau predicted fair weather through tomorrow.

The high tomorrow will be in the 50s, and overnight the low will be in the 30s and upper 20s. Winds will be light.

Rainfall counts for the 48 hours up to 8 a.m. today were led by Terra Linda, where firemen reported a total of 2.19 inches. Other 48-hour counts were San Rafael, 1.67; Sausalito, .64 of an inch; Mill Valley, 1.06; Bolinas, .87; Hamilton Air Force Base, 1.54, and Novato, 1.09.

In Tiburon, only .48 of an inch was recorded in the 48 hours — the wind blew too hard for the rain gauge to work.

In the Tamalpais Valley reading of 1.04 for the 48 hours, .65 of an inch fell in only one hour between 9 and 10 a.m. yesterday.

OBITUARIES

IRWIN SCHWASSMAN

Private funeral for Irwin Schwassman, 78, of 226 Magnolia Avenue, San Rafael, was held today at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Schwassman, who had lived in Marin three years, died Saturday at a local hospital after a short illness.

Schwassman was born in Brazil and lived there until after he retired from the accounting business. He moved to New York before coming to California.

He is survived by his wife, Kate Schwassman.

HELEN HALL

Helen Elizabeth Hall, 64, of 516 Richardson Street, Sausalito, died at her home at 7 a.m. yesterday.

She was the wife of Jeff M. Hall, a retired public relations executive with the American Cancer Society.

Deputy County Coroner Richard W. Madigan reported that death resulted from natural causes.

Mrs. Hall was a secretary for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Francisco for 40 years. A native of Alamosa, Colo., she had lived in Marin 16 years and in California 54 years.

She is survived by her husband.

Funeral arrangments were pending at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

ANNA KAUSCHA

Mrs. Anna Fassbind Kauscha, 79, of Larkspur, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Switzerland, she lived in California for 60 years, the past 15 in Marin. She resided at 15 Wiltshire Avenue.

Mrs. Kauscha was a member of the Decorations Guild of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

She reportedly has no immediate survivors. She was the widow of John A. Kauscha Sr.

Requiem Mass will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Anthony's Church, San Francisco. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Gantner-Felder-Kenny Mortuary, San Francisco.

MAY MILLER

May Miller of 36 Mercury Avenue, Tiburon, died at her home Saturday following a long illness. She was 83.

A native of Lompoc, Santa Barbara County, Mrs. Miller moved to Tiburon as a young girl and lived there from 1901 to 1906, when she moved to San Francisco. She lived in San Francisco until 1964 when she moved back to Tiburon to live with her daughter, Wanda J. Roby.

Mrs. Miller also is survived by another daughter, Gloria J. Kavanaugh of San Jose, six grand children and one great-grandchild.

Private funeral will be held tomorrow at the Memorial Chapels of Russell and Gooch in Mill Valley. Interment will be at the Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

6, 8, 10 or 11 years from now, we expect to have some nice used Volvo 144's

And that should tell you something about the nice new Volvo 144's we have now: they were built to last a long time.
Since they're Volvos, they ought to. Volvos last on average of 11 years in Sweden. And while we can't guarantee how long a Volvo will last in America, it's a fact that over 95% of all the Volvos registered here in the past 11 years are still on the road.
If you don't want to wait 6, 8, 10, or 11 years for a used Volvo 144, come in today and test-drive a new one.
Or, test-drive a Volvo 122. We've been selling that model a few years longer, so we've had time to get some nice used ones.

FBI'S HOOVER TO REMAIN AS DIRECTOR

NEW YORK (UPI) — John Edgar Hoover, 73, the only boss the Federal Bureau of Investigation ever had, will be back for another tour of duty in the Nixon administration.

Hoover, who headed the FBI since it was created in 1924, will be permitted to serve when President-elect Richard M. Nixon signs a waiver of the compulsory retirement age of 65. President Johnson did it four years ago.

The announcement Hoover has agreed to remain was to come today from Nixon's press spokesman, Ronald Ziegler, at a briefing before the president-elect meets with Republican congressional leaders.

Oregon Senate Recount Slow

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — more than 8 per cent of the ballots already recounted in Oregon's U.S. Senate race have been challenged and, as a result, observers say it may be Christmas before the recount is complete.

No significant change has emerged in the recount requested by Democrat Wayne Morse, a senator for 24 years who lost by a margin of 3,445 votes to Republican Robert Packwood.

Thirteen smaller counties of Oregon's 36 have completed their work, but that represents less than 13 per cent of the total vote.

GOP Advisers Urge Doubled Crime Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — The House Republican Task Force on Crime has advised President-tlect Nixon to double the number of Justice Department lawyers assigned to fighting organized crime, the New York Times reported today.

In a Washington dispatch by Fred P. Graham, the newspaper said Nixon's main congressional advisers on crime also urged him to use electronic eavesdropping "on an extremely selective and carefully controlled basis."

The task force submitted its recommendations in a 9,000-word report about 10 days ago, the Times said.

The report recommended:

Increasing the number of lawyers in the Justice Department's Organized Crime Division from about 60 to at least 120 by June 30, 1970;

Working out guidelines for using electronic surveillance against racketeers;

Expanding the Justice Department's antiracketeering "strike forces" initiated by Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, who was a prime Nixon target during the campaign;

Promptly enacting new federal gambling laws to replace the gambling tax declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court last spring.

National Crime Rate Up 19 Per Cent Over 1967

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The national crime rate for the first nine months of 1968 was 19 per cent above the same period last year, the FBI said today.

Cities of more than 250,000 population had an average crime increase of 21 per cent for the period, suburban communities had a 19 per cent increase and rural areas a 13 per cent, the agency said in a periodic report compiled from statistics provided by local law enforcement agencies.

For June the FBI said violent crimes in the first quarter of 1968 were up 18 per cent over the first three months of 1967. In September, it reported crimes of violence in the first half of 1968 increased 21 per cent over the first six months of last year.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said violent crimes in the first three-quarters of 1968 were up 32 per cent from last year, forcible rape up 17 per cent, murder up 15 per cent and aggravated assault up 13 per cent.

Hoover said firearms were used in the commission of 65 per cent of all murders during the nine-month period and in 23 per cent of all aggravated assaults. The use of firearms in serious assaults rose 26 per cent over the previous year, he said.

Street robbery, which accounted for more than half of the robbery offenses in the FBI report, increased 37 per cent; service station robbery was up 31 per cent; holdups of business establishments, 28 per cent; chain stores, 20 per cent, and robbery of residences, 19 percent.

Thefts of more than $50 rose 23 per cent, auto thefts were up 22 per cent and burglary 16 percent. As a group, property crimes registered a 19 per cent rise over the comparable 1967 period.

On a regional basis, crime rose 25 per cent in the Northeast, 19 percent in the West, 17 per cent in the South and 16 per cent in the North Central states.

The statistics are based on voluntary reports from 4,490 police agencies representing a total population of 146,857,000.

Supreme Court Upholds Gag On Sirhan Discussion

Sirhan is scheduled to go on trial in Los Angeles Superior Court Jan. 6 on a charge of assassinating the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy last June.

The Superior Court issued the publicity-curbing order June 7, the day Sirhan was indicted and two days after Kennedy was shot at a primary election victory celebration.

The order is not directed to news media, but rather to attorneys, police, grand jurors, subpoenaed witnesses and others officially connected with the case. It directs them—on penalty of "swift action to punish for contempt" — not to release or give opinions about evidence, documents, exhibits or similar aspects of the case.

The order exempts basic facts and information which has already been made public in legal proceedings.

The order was challenged by Los Angeles Dist. Atty. Evelle J. Younger, who is prosecuting Sirhan. Younger's petition to strike down the order was denied by the California Court of Appeal and the California Supreme Court refused to review the case.

In appealing to the U. S. Supreme Court, Younger said the curb on discussion failed to balance the need for a fair trial with the right of free speech and predicted it would give rise to irresponsible speculation.

"The only feasible way to meet this danger of false charges and rumors is to allow responsible public officials to indicate, on occasion, why certain witnesses have not been used, or how certain leads have proven false or irrevelent," he said.

The district attorney called the restriction particularly unfortunate in light of the national and international political interest in the trial.

In replying, attorneys for the Superior Court cited the Supreme Court's 1966 ruling that publicity had prejudiced the murder trial of Dr. Samuel Sheppard. They said that without some restriction, prejudicial publicity was likely to occur in the Sirhan case.

In its brief, the Superior Court said the order did not suppress all information, and did not restrain free speech since it was not directed to the news media.

The Superior Court said it felt the order was supported both by recommendations of the American Bar Association's "Reardon Report" and by the Free Press-Fair Trial" report developed by a committee of the U.S. Judicial Conference. It said the latter report "specifically recommends special orders in widely publicized and sensational cases."

Prison Official Gets New Post

Dr. Homer J. Hastings, an associate warden at San Quentin, will become departmental supervisor of education in the California Department of Corrections in January, replacing Lorentz E. Wormly, who is retiring.

Dr. Hastings has been in charge of classification and treatment at San Quentin for the past three years. Before that he was head of the prison education program.

Wormly began his educational career with the Monterey Union High School District in the 1930s and later became assistant state supervisor in the department of education. He established the National Defense Training Program for the Bureau of Trade and Industrial Education.

CIA Director Exchanges Vows

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Richard M. Helms, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, and Mrs. Cynthia McKelvie of Washington, were married here Saturday.

It was the second marriage for each. Both previous marriages ended in divorce.

Helms, 55, became director of the CIA in 1966 when Adm. William F. Raborn retired.

Driver Is Bruised When Car Overturns

Eduino Pimentel, 29, of 673 Plum Street, Novato, was treated at Novato General Hospital yesterday for bruises of the neck, chest and hands after the car he rode in overturned on the Point Reyes-Petaluma Road, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The CHP said the accident occurred at 7:30 a.m. when the car, driven by Jose A. Jorge, 34, of 676 Plum Street, Novato, slid off a curve in heavy rain.

Cuba Claims Capture Of Exile Invaders

HAVANA (AP) — The government announced today it has captured five cuban exiles who landed with arms on Cuba's north Coast Dec. 2.

The announcement, published in the Communist party newspaper Granma, identified all five as from Miami, Fla.

It said the five made their landing from a small launch in Pinar del Rio Province, which makes up the western end of Cuba, and split up into two groups, but were seized two days later by units of the armed forces and the Interior Ministry.

The launch was described as "of a type used by the CIA (meaning the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency) in its incursions against our country."

The announcement said the group was armed with six grenades, a signal pistol, three rifles, two .45-caliber pistols and a quantity of ammunition.

Granma, which published photographs of the five, identified them as Ernest Diaz Rodriquez Lorenzo, Antonio Manuel Rodriguez, Emilio Nazario Perez Sargent, Felipe Sanchez Olivera, and Hemenogildo Rodriguez Perez, all of Miami.

They will be put at "the disposition of revolutionary courts," the announcement said.

The landing site was pinpointed as El Morrillo Beach, near the minor port of Cabanas 38 miles southwest of Havana.

It described Rodriguez Perez as a nephew of Fulgencio Perez, "who completed missions of infiltration under orders of the Central Intelligence Agency and was captured in October 1965."

Two of the group, according to the announcement—Diaz Rodriguez and Perez Sargent—belonged to anti-Castro exile organizations, Alpha 66 and the Second Front of Escambray.

Granma said the two exile organizations had a record of attacks against Fidel Castro's government and that they recently formed a coalition. It reported a coalition leader, Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, had been captured with others in Oriente Province, at the eastern end of Cuba, but gave no date.

Pleads Guilty In Rail Car Thefts

Ronald David Halverson, 19, of San Rafael, pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court today to a charge of petty theft for the theft of items March 12 from a Northwestern Pacific Railroad car in San Rafael.

He was originally charged with burglary and possession of stolen property for the crime, but that charge was dropped by the district attorney today.

Halverson was told to return to court Jan. 13 for sentencing.

Woman Reports Attack Attempt

A 35-year-old Petaluma woman reported Saturday that a man she met Friday night at Nave Lanes Bowling Alley, Ignacio, tried to assault her after an evening of eating and drinking in Sausalito.

The woman told deputies the man offered her $50 for her panties and then exposed himself, while the car was parked on Highway 101, between San Rafael and Ignacio.

She said she became alarmed and tried to leave the car but a struggle ensued during which she claimed the man tried to choke her, deputies reported.

She said a passing motorist picked her up and took her home. She could not identify the man, sheriff's deputies said.

Nixon To Make Call On Thant Tomorrow

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — U.S. President-elect Richard M. Nixon will make an informal call on Secretary General U Thant tomorrow afternoon, it was announced today.

Nixon will be accompanied by William Rogers, his secretary of state designate.

Golf Course On Tap At San Rafael Council

A proposed 18-hole golf course on the Smith Brothers Ranch north of Gallinas Creek will be discussed again by the San Rafael City Council at 8 p.m. today in the city hall.

The city in July passed a resolution encouraging creation of a nonprofit corporation which would issue bonds to finance the $1.3 million course and lease it back to the city.

In October councilmen asked for more study of other cities which have similar arrangements before going further with the proposal.

Also on the agenda for the meeting is a proposed new ordinance prohibiting loafing or loitering on commercial property. An ordinance adopted to protect Northgate merchants from long-haired youths who loitered at the center was declared unconstitutional Dec. 6 by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court.

The council also will discuss a proposed agreement between the city and Marin County to finance jointly a study of traffic patterns around the courthouse.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said that in order to attract commercial enterprise to the courthouse square, which is to be vacated by the county this spring, better access will have to be provided.

Olympic Coins Taken

Someone broke into a parked car owned by Cora T. Jackson of 18 Billou Street, San Rafael, yesterday and took 25 Mexican peso pieces honoring the Olympic Games, worth $15; a $20 razor, and a $20 transistor radio, police said.

New School Idea Subject Of Meetings

Faculty of Terra Linda and San Rafael high schools are meeting this week with architects to discuss a proposed "school within a school" concept which may be used for a third high school in the San Rafael High School District.

Dr. John F. Plank, district superintendent, said the board of education asked the meetings to hash out the feasibility of a different type of school for the northern part of the district.

The concept would include students having a corps of teachers for basic subjects, with specialties such as industrial arts and music separate. The idea of the plan would be to make education more personal and individualized, he said.

Representatives of Marshall and Bowles, San Francisco architects, are meeting with Terra Linda High faculty today and tomorrow and San Rafael High teachers on Wednesday and Thursday.

If the new concept for a third high school is not adopted, the board of trustees has asked the firm for an alternate plan of enlarging the two current schools to 2,000 students each, according to Plank.

Foot Chase Capture In Auto Theft Probe

A San Francisco youth who allegedly tried to evade a California Highway Patrol chase, was caught on foot by Sausalito police near Rodeo Avenue Saturday morning.

The youth, Gary Anthony Acosta, 22, of 1645 Burrow Street, was booked at the Marin County Jail on suspicion of auto theft and possessing a forged prescription and placed under $1,200 bail.

Acosta was driving south on Highway 101 near Marin City shortly after 8 a.m. when California Highway Patrol officer D. R. Welty spotted him in a car reported stolen from James J. Becker of 522 Baker Street, Petaluma.

Welty halted the car south of the Waldo tunnel and Acosta got out of the car, but when Welty motioned him to step off the highway, he jumped back onto the car and fled, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Acosta doubled back on Highway 101 and took the Rodeo Avenue exit into Sausalito, where he was caught by Sausalito police when he got out of the car and fled on foot to the walkway of the Ardilla apartments, 45 Rodeo Avenue, officers aaid.

Market Robbed By 'Grubby' Man

An armed man, described as "dirty and grubby," last night forced employees of the Purity Store, 210 Western Avenue, Petaluma, to empty the contents of the store safe into a shopping bag. Store officials said the amount of loss has not been determined.

Employees said the man entered the store at the 7 p.m. closing time and ordered clerk Bob Lee to empty the safe. Lee said the man waved a .38 caliber revolver.

As he left the store, the robber said "this is for real," employees said. He was reported to have driven away in a green or black volkswagen. The man was described as five feet, six inches tall and between 30 and 30 years old. He wore a black navy watch cap, dirty old clothes and green bubble sun glasses, they said.

Pickets Greet Sonoma Students

The students had been picketing in front of Stevenson Hall in an attempt to have others join in a boycott of classes. When this failed, leaders of the strike committee moved to the main entrance "just to let others know a strike is going on," they said.

The committee canceled requests for students to assembled in San Francisco today when strike leaders there called off a unity rally at Civic Center. Leaders said they would work for solidarity at Sonoma State instead.

Hub Driver Nabbed For High Speeds

A San Anselmo driver was cited for speeding and reckless driving after a 100-mile-per-hour chase through the San Geronimo Vally at 3:50 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported

Cited was William Bicknell Lewis, 57, of 1623 San Anselmo Avenue, officers reported.

Officer Irwin W. Cantieri reported that he pursued Lewis's car eastbound on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Lagunitas to San Geronimo before Lewis halted east of the San Geronimo Valley National Golf Course.

Cantieri said he had to use his red light and siren and push his patrol car over 100 miles an hour to reach Lewis. Cantieri, who had been westbound, said he saw Lewis pass a jeep on a blind turn near Lagunitas thereby forcing another car to leave the roadway. He made a U-turn and gave chase.

Youngster Hurt In Car-Bike Crash

An 11-year-old Corte Madera boy was released from Marin General Hospital yesterday after treatment for multiple scrapes and head injuries suffered in a car-bicycle accident about 5 p.m. Friday on Paradise Drive in Corte Madera.

Police said Brian Cox of 101 Sonora Way was riding his bike near the Paradise Hardware when it collided with a car driven by Paul Della Santina, 16, of 57 Staghound Passage, Corte Madera.

Suspect Held For Auto Theft

Paul K. McSweeney, a resident of the Bermuda Palms Motel, San Rafael, was arrested yesterday on suspicion of auto theft, San Rafael police said.

McSweeney was apprehended at 35 Fairfax Street after police had spotted a salmon-white, two-door Chrysler sedan, reported stolen Dec. 11 by Novato police, leaving the Bermuda Palms.

He was released from Marin County Jail on $1,200 bail and will appear at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Project Easements Will Be Discussed

Requests from the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project for easements will be considered at the 8 p.m. meeting today of the Kentfield School District Board at Wolfe Grade School.

A 15-month temporary construction easement along the Adaline E. Kent School campus and a permanent right-of-way at the school to enable moving of equipment, are sought.

28-Foot Cruiser Sinks At Dock

A 28-foot cruiser owned by William J. Rogers of Oakland sank at a dock at the Loch Lomond Harbor, San Pedro Road, Saturday morning the San Rafael Fire Department reported.

Firemen said the cause of the sinking was undetermined. They were called out at 11:20 a.m. to disperse gasoline which had leaked onto surrounding water.

Phoenix is Arizona's capital.

MEET YOUR ARTHUR MURRAY DANCING TEACHER OF THE WEEK:

Dark-haired, green-eyed Al Parrish started dancing in his home town, Teheran, Persia (Iran). A ballet student at 11, he was active in theatrical work (drama and dancing) in high school and passed a screen test.

Nine years ago, Parrish came to the U.S. on a student visa to attend the University of Michigan, then California Polytechnical College in San Luis Obispo. He is enrolled at Heald's College of Engineering.

Ballroom dance training began at San Francisco for Parrish and he has been teaching for five years, specializing in Latin and International dancing styles. He has been one year with the San Anselmo studio.

Ten Persons, Nine In One Car, Hurt As Cars Collide

Ten persons, nine of them members of a Petaluma area family, were injured in a head-on crash on Highway 116, a half mile west of Watmaugh Road, southwest of Sonoma, at 6:48 p.m. Saturday, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Officers said a car driven by Robert Anthony DeJoria, 51, of 295 Eucalyptus Avenue, Cotati, traveling on the wrong side of the highway, collided with a car driven by John R. Pruett, 49, of 4381 Middle Two Rock Road, west of Petaluma.

Pruett suffered a head cut, and James Pruett, 11, his nephew, suffered a fractured right leg. Other passengers in the Pruett car suffering minor injuries were Mrs. John Pruett, 40, the Pruett's daughter, Jan 11; James Pruett, 45, and Jean Pruett, 40, and their children, John, 9, Jeffrey, 8, and J. J. Pruett, 5, all of the same address, 4381 Middle Two Rock Road. They were treated at Sonoma Valley Hospital.

Closed Session On Teen Roles

Appointment of teen-agers to the Rohnert Park Recreation and Cultural Arts commissions will be studied in a closed session of the Rohnert Park City Council at 7:15 p.m. today.

In open session, the council will consider an ordinance requiring the licensing and regulation of dances and dance halls. The ordinance is sought by Bradley Koch, public safety director, to give police more control over dances.

SEASON'S FIRST SNOW

It's all downhill in New York's Central Park after the city's first snowfall of the season yesterday as a youngster, enjoying his ups and downs, takes a flyer at sledding. Snow, high winds and plunging temperatures kept most Northeast residents inside during the weekend. Additional snow was forecast today. (AP Wirephoto)

Arctic Air Pours Down Into Florida

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures plunged to freezing as far south as Florida today as Arctic air poured behind a storm center which dumped up to a foot of snow in some areas of the Northeast.

Miami recorded a 34-degree temperature reading early this morning — the coldest for any day in December since 1940. Patches of frost occurred inland from the Miami area northward through Florida. Atlanta reported an overnight reading of 21.

Heavy snow warnings and hazardous driving conditions remained in Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine as the storm center edged northward along the Maine coast.

The storm in the Northeast Sunday blanketed New York City with three inches of snow—the city's first measurable snow fall of the season — and closed Kennedy Airport for nearly seven hours.

Heavy snow fell in upper New York State and the Albany area had up to eight inches on the ground.

Three inches of snow covered the Pittsburgh, Pa., area and drifts up to two feet were reported in suburbs.

A hard freeze for the second consecutive night hit Alabama, Georgia and northern Florida. Freezing temperatures dipped south to New Orleans and the eastern Gulf Coast cities.

A 75-year-old woman was found frozen to death yesterday in a cotton field near her home in Winterboro, Ala. Authorities said Addie Lee Price was exposed to freezing temperatures Saturday night and early yesday.

Fair skies and cold temperatures prevailed over the nation's midsection.

Argument Over Ride Leaves One Person Dead

SAN LEANDRO (UPI) — A drug store owner was shot to death Saturday evening during an argument with the former owner over whom a woman clerk—the former owner's estranged wife—planned to ride home with.

Police said George Brignola, 59, owner of a West San Joaquin Avenue drug store, was killed by several .22-caliber bullets fired by William D. Perry, 66, a retired pharmacist, who once owned the store.

Police said Brignola and Perry's estranged wife, Geraldine, left the store about 6 p.m. and were confronted by Perry, who drove up in his car.

An argument ensued over who was going to drive Mrs. Perry home, and officers said Perry pulled out a pistol and opened fire.

Right-Wingers Meet Secretly

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — The editor of a West German right-wing newspaper said today 50 right-wingers met secretly last weekend to form an association to "promote a nationally-minded policy."

Dr. Gerhard Frey, editor of the Deutsche National und Soldaten Zeitun—German National and Soldiers' Newspaper—said he attended the meeting of various right-wing groups, including the National Democratic Party, or NPD, at Starnberg, upper Bavaria.

He said the new association plans to enlist support from nationally minded members of all West Germany political parties and was not directed against any existing parties. Frey added he did not join the association to insure the "absolutely independent" character of his paper.

The meeting was called by the former Munich district chairman of the NPD, Judge Jochen Kotzias, and a former Bavarian state legislator, Walter Bronner.

Session Canceled

The December meeting of the Marin County Democratic Central Committee, scheduled for tomorrow evening in the Marin County Courthouse, has been canceled because of the coming Christmas holiday, chairman S. Robert Peltier has announced.

School Hit By $75,000 Blaze

OAKLAND (AP) — A fire that authorities said was set deliberately damaged two classrooms today at Lowell Junior High School.

Loss was estimated at more than $75,000.

The incident did not prevent resumption of classes in any but the two scorched rooms.

Sam Snead won the Masters golf tournament three times.

OPENING OF LA FEMME' BEAUTY SALON

The public is invited to come in and see the newly opened, ultra modern La Femme' beauty salon anytime Monday through Saturday, from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. The salon is located at 252 Almonte Blvd., Mill Valley, in the same building as Chinese Kitchen #2. Telephone number is 383-1464.

Richard Foster and Joseph Reed are the proprietors of this new salon. They offer the very latest in both fashion and styling. They cater both to the woman who wants her hair done in the traditional way as well as the modern sophisticate.

The operators specialize in cold wave permanents, relaxing permanents and hair coloring, hot iron curling, facials and manicures may be obtained.

Foster is a graduate of Sutton's College of Beauty in Los Angeles. He also attended Los Angeles City College and Gannon College of Erie, Pa.

Evelyn Walker, a graduate of Charm Beauty College, and Edward Banks, wig stylist, are associates of Foster and Reed. Miss Walker is formerly of Marin Beauty Center.

San Franciscan Injured In Wreck

Kathleen D. Mayer, 23, of San Francisco, was injured yesterday when her car ran off Petaluma-Valley Ford Road at Roblar Road, west of Petaluma, and struck a fence and utility pole.

She was treated at Petaluma General Hospital for facial cuts. The California Highway Patrol said the accident happened at 10:30 a.m.

Fair-Marin Contract Going Before Board

A formal contract with Fair-Marin Inc. to operate the 80-acre fairgrounds and veterans memorial auditorium will be presented to the Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow morning.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney will present a draft of an agreement under which Fair-Marin would operate the fairgrounds with a degree of autonomy, with the county retaining control over the budget.

The supervisors will also consider an agreement to have Marin Municipal Water District and North Marin County Water District serve as consultants on the county's sewerage plans.

Presiding Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court will report a workload crisis and ask for additional help in the court clerk's department.

The board meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

Major item in the afternoon is a hearing on the proposal to dissolve Novato Sanitary District and have the North Marin County Water District take over its services.

The supervisors will also discuss a joint agreement with Corte Madera to get an option to buy 2.6 acres of land owned by Fred R. Sanford on Meadowsweet Drive near Highway 101 as a library site. Price of the parcel is $210,000.

County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker will ask for a zoning ordinance change to increase the parking ratio for multiple-family dwellings.

Vietnam Veteran Shot To Death In Bar Holdup

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A recently returned Vietnam War veteran was killed yesterday and another man critically wounded during a bar holdup by four masked men.

Police said the gunmen entered the tavern and took $50 from the cash drawer. They then ordered the customers to place their billfolds on the bar.

As the customers were doing this, one of the robbers turned to Robert J. Dooley, 29, of Long Beach, and shot him in the back, killing him almost instantly. Witnesses said there apparently had been no provocation for the shooting.

Two other men walked in shortly after the shooting. When they saw what was happening they tried to back out, but one of the gunmen fired, hitting Clifford Bean, 44, in the head. The four gunmen then fled.

Bean was hospitalized in critical condition.

Shower Injury

K. Craig Moyer, 43, of 414 Stuart Drive, Petaluma, was injured yesterday when he fell through a glass shower door at his home. Reported in good condition at Hillcrest Hospital today, he suffered severe cuts of the left arm, back and legs.

Britain Names New China Envoy

LONDON (AP) —Britain named a new chief envoy to Red China today but at below-ambassadorial level, underscoring the chill in London's relations with Peking.

The new man — John D. Denson—was appointed acting charge d'affaires. The post of charge d'affaires, held by Sir Donald Hopson until his return home last August, will remain vacant.

China's envoy to London, Shen Ping, also is acting charge d'affaires.

Denson, 42, will replace Percy Cradock, the only member of the present diplomatic staff in Peking who was with the mission when it was sacked by young Red Guard demonstrators last year. He is at present assistant head of the Foreign Office's Far East department.

Special Workshop

The Lagunitas School District board will have a special workshop session at 7:30 p.m. today at Lagunitas High School to review the building program for the San Geronimo Valley Elementary School.

Apollo 8 Mission Will Climax 10 Year Dream Of Moon Flight

By AL ROSSITER JR.

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The moon has awed man since his beginning. But he waited until Aug. 17, 1958, before trying to do anything more than gaze at it.

On that summer day in what was still the dawn of the space age—when men were still having difficulty placing satellites into earth orbit—a team of ambitious American rocketmen tried to send an 84-pound space machine into orbit around the moon.

They failed. Their skinny Thor-Able rocket blew up after traveling only 10 miles of the 238,000 mile journey to the sphere that has orbited earth for several billion years.

The moon turned out to be an elusive target for U. S. space scientists for six more years.

The Soviet Union, however, was more successful. An 860-pound capsule and burned out rocket combination named Lunik 2 smashed almost dead center into the side of the moon facing earth on Sept. 13, 1959.

Lunik became the first man-made object to touch another celestial body, and it led the way for a wide variety of space machines that were to follow.

In all, man has tried to send probes to the moon 50 times. He has failed more than he has succeeded.

Now, the United States is sending three men into orbit around the moon—a feat that is hardly routine for unmanned spacecraft.

If Apollo 8 astronauts Frank Borman, James Lovell and William Anders are successful, and soar into a 69-mile high lunar orbit as planned, they will have taken the most important step in man's drive to conquer the moon since the age of space began 11 years ago.

They will see the moon as it has never been seen before, and they will be looking for the unexpected—something a machine can't be taught to do. But more important, they will be leading the way for a manned landing on the moon next year.

Robots have played a key role in laying the groundwork for the Apollo moon adventure by reconnoitering and giving man an idea of what to expect, and what to look for.

The first successful closeup lunar photographic probe was America's Ranger 7, an 807-pound bundle of television cameras that beamed 4,308 pictures back to earth before crashing as planned into the moon's Sea of Clouds on July 31, 1964. It's photographs were up to 1,000 times better than the best taken from earth.

Rangers 8 and 9 followed in 1965 and transmitted back 12,951 more high quality closeup moon pictures.

The Soviet Union at this time was concentrating its efforts on more ambitious landing attempts. And it was not having any success.

But finally, on Jan. 31, 1966, a Russian spacecraft named Luna 9 managed to land on the moon's surface in operating condition. It was a relatively crude spacecraft—far less sophisticated than the American Surveyors that had not yet flown—but it was first. And it returned 27 pictures of the lunar surface before its batteries died.

Then, two months later, a Soviet craft named Luna 10 scored another first — it achieved an orbit around the moon.

America's new entry in the lunar sweepstakes—Surveyor 1—beat heavy odds against it and landed softly on the Sea of Storms June 2. The amazing three-legged spacecraft used a rotating television camera to transmit 11,237 highly detailed pictures of the moonscape back to earth.

It was followed, in a pattern not unlike Russia's, by the successful flight of a twin-eyed camera satellite named Lunar Orbiter 1 into orbit around the moon on Oct. 29, 1966.

Four of the next six Surveyors successfully landed on the moon and transmitted thousands more closeup pictures of the lunar surface—confirming once and for all that the moon is safe for manned landings.

All five American lunar orbiters were successful and complemented the Surveyor surface exploration by snapping detailed photographs of Apollo astronaut landing sites.

Russia aso succeeded in additional lunar probes and then, in October and November this year, the Soviets took another major step forward by firing the Zond 5 and 6 spacecraft around the moon and back to earth for the first time.

But the biggest step of all will be taken by America's three Apollo 8 astronauts, beginning Saturday. Their mission will be surpassed only by the actual landing of men on the moon, and that could come as early as next summer.

FRIDAY 13TH JOKESTER

Atlanta expressway motorists were just getting used to the new traffic safety signs when this new one appeared in the 5 o'clock rush hour last Friday — the unlucky 13th. The safety series was designed to prevent the growing number of accidents, but this one almost caused a few. (UPI Telephoto)

Couple Killed As Car Slams Into Their Bedroom

LIVONIA, Mich. (AP)—A man and his wife were killed today when an automobile tore into a bedroom where they were sleeping in this Detroit suburb.

They were Charles Raymond Oja, 35, and his wife, Jaqueline Ann, 29. Both were in bed when a Cadillac went out of control on Five Mile Road and swerved into a corner of their home, tearing its way into the bedroom at 12:12 a.m.

The driver, Neal Gardiner, 35, of Livonia, was seriously injured and hospitalized. Police have been unable to question him.

Service Station Robbed Of $25

Four young men, drinking wine and one armed with a knife, early yesterday robbed a service station attendant of about $25, Corte Madera police reported today.

Officers said James C. Davis, an attendant at the Standard Oil Station at the Corte Madera Center, said the quartet, all Negroes, arrived in a brown and white car about 2:30 a.m. and one ordered $3 worth of gasoline.

While he was servicing the vehicle, he said, one placed the knife against his back and demanded money from the cash box. Davis said he complied and the four, who were drinking from a gallon bottle of wine, drove off.

Davis described the knife-wielder as tall, wearing glasses, and having a blue turtle-neck sweater. He said another was of medium build, with a beard, and the third was small and wearing a striped shirt. The fourth was wearing a small derby hat, Davis added.

Forehead Is Cut In Auto Accident

Deborah Brunsell, 16, of 225 Martinique Avenue, Tiburon, suffered a minor forehead cut yesterday after her car apparently was involved in an accident on Paradise Drive near Westward Drive, Corte Madera police reported today.

She was treated at Marin General Hospital. Officers said the hospital notified them of the injury at 3:30 p.m. yesterday. The car was found on Paradise Drive but details of the accident were not immediately known, police said.

Clash Seen Between Nixon, Congress On Information

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A clash between Congress and President-elect Richard M. Nixon on the question of how much information about the government a president may withhold from congressional questioners was foreseen today by an expert in the field.

Samuel J. Archibald, Washington director of the University of Missouri's Freedom of Information Center, noted that Nixon during the campaign answered a question about "executive privilege" by saying he would assert it "only in rare circumstances."

But, said Archibald, "He appears to be saying he will return to the system in effect in the Eisenhower administration. At that time, department heads and other lesser employees of the executive branch cited the president's privilege in refusing information requests."

According to records of a House information subcommittee, President Eisenhower's 1954 letter asserting his right to refuse to present information requested by a Senate committee was cited 44 times by lesser executive branch officials to justify refusals to make information public.

In 1962, invoking the same claim for himself, President John F. Kennedy told Congress that "executive privilege can be invoked only by the president."

In response to questions posed by the American Society of Newspaper Editors during the campaign, Nixon said:

"Executive privilege must be very narrowly construed. It should be asserted only in rare circumstances and then only by the president or by a responsible top echelon subordinate acting under guidelines clearly set out by the President."

Archibald pointed to Nixon's willingness to extend the claim to subordinates in predicting a collision course between Nixon and the 91st Congress, which will be controlled by Democrats.

At the same time he predicted that the Nixon administration will generally be more open in its public information policies than the Johnson Administration has been.

He said Nixon's public pronouncements on the public's right to know and his appointment of Herbert G. Klein as the administration's "communications director" portend fewer information barriers.

Archibald made his comments in an interview.

Ouster Asked Of FAA Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government union air/traffic controllers has demanded removal of Acting Federal Aviation Administration head D. D. Thomas on grounds he authorized use of "inadequately trained and unqualified personnel."

The FAA responded that there was nothing new in the complaint by the professional air traffic division of the National Association of Government Employees, including the complaint of understaffed control centers.

"That's why we got permission to hire 2,000 more controllers," the FAA man said.

Jewel Case Taken

A small jewel case containing $770 in jewelry was taken from her home sometime in November, Patricia Ann Briggs, 34, of 1412 Cambridge Street, Novato, reported Friday to Novato police.

Injuries Minor In 101 Accident

Arlene Jane O'Brien, 21, San Francisco, suffered a minor cut on the right temple when her car struck the median barrier on Highway 101 at the San Rafael viaduct at 7:45 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Her car struck the barrier after the left front wheel blew out, officers said. She told officers she would be treated by her own doctor.

New Republic Magazine Founder Dies

TOTNES, England (AP) — Dorothy Whitney Straight Elmhirst, 81, a founder of The New Republic magazine and various educational projects, died Saturday at Dartington Hall in Devon.

The daughter of William C. Whitney, American financier and President Grover Cleveland's secretary of the Navy, Mrs. Elmhirst spent her life campaigning for social and educational "adventure through unity, not uniformity."

In 1911 she married Willard Straight, a banker.

Influenced by Herbert Croly's "The Promise of American Life," the Straights founded The New Republic. Straight enlisted in World War I and died in France in 1918.

She married agriculturist Leonard K. Elmhirst in 1925 and moved to Britain, where the couple purchased Dartington Hall, a roofless ruin populated by chickens and pigs. They turned it into one of Britain's leading coeducational boarding schools and model farms, founded a center for arts and crafts education in the west of England and built a glass factory.

Accidents in the home took 28,500 lives in 1967, says the National Safety Council.

Ammonia Molecules Discovered In Space

BERKELEY (UPI) — University of California scientists have announced the discovery in outer space of ammonia molecules — believed to be one of the "chemical ancestors" of life.

"The discovery marks the first time that a relatively complex molecular compound has been definitely identified in the vast regions between the stars," said an announcement yesterday.

"The finding gains added interest, at least in a speculative sense, because ammonia substances have often been proposed as chemical ancestors of organic compounds and hence as necessary steps toward "the origin of life," the announcement added.

In addition to detecting ammonia molecules in space, the scientists were able to estimate their density and measure their temperature.

Scientists said the discovery represents a breakthrough in radio astronomy, the science in which radio waves from distant stars are analyzed to determine their chemical sources.

Ammonia molecules were found to be "quite abundant" in clouds of dust and gas which float between the stars in our galaxy. These clouds are also known to contain hydrogen and nitrogen, but this is the first time a more complicated molecule has been identified there.

The clouds which were analyzed are located in the direction of the star Sagittarius towards the center of the Milky Way galaxy, of which our solar system is a part.

The scientists said they have not determined how far away the clouds are, but the center of the Milky Way is about 30,000 light years(from earth one light-year is about six trillion miles).

The clouds, measuring "a few light-years" in size, are probably mostly hydrogen, the researchers said. But there may be other compounds as well as ammonia, including water, methane and other combinations of hydrogen, oxygen, carbon or nitrogen atoms.

Arrest Made In Assault Probe

A Forest Knolls man was booked into Marin County jail on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon Friday after he allegedly attacked two Pacific Gas and Electric Co. employees when they tried to collect an overdue bill, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Roy C. Stolzheise of Santa Rosa and Francis L. Leach of Napa told deputies Louis Fred Cisco, 25, of 175 Resaca Avenue, forced them from his home at rifle point and hit them with the barrel of a .30/30-caliber rifle when they tried to collect a $25.11 bill.

Cisco was held in lieu of $1,250 bail and was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Driver Reports Stab In Back From Hitchhiker

Grant Pierce, 38 of 127 Oak Springs, San Anselmo, was treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday for a stab in the back he said was inflicted by a hitchhiker, sheriff's deputies reported.

Deputies said Pierce told them he picked up a youth between 17 and 20 on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Highway 101 about 3 a.m. Saturday.

He said he reached to retrieve a fallen windshield wiper knob in the vicinity of Bon Air Road and the youth hit him in the back and told him casually, "There's a knife in your back."

Pierce reported he was unable to remove the knife, so the assailant did and then got out of the car while Pierce continued to the hospital for treatment of a 1.5 inch puncture wound, deputies said.

Trustees To Hear State Grievances

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California State College board of trustees have agreed to hear grievances of a teachers union at San Francisco State College.

American Federation of Teachers Local 1352 had warned it would go on strike Jan. 6 if "meaningful negotiations" did not take place before classes resume.

The board of trustees earlier said it opposed mediation and noted that the local—with about 250 of 1,100 instructors at the college as members—had no contract.

But George Johns, San Francisco Labor Council secretary, said yesterday he received a telegram from Trustees Chairman Theodore Meriam of Chico, outlining circumstances for such a hearing.

Johns said the offer had been accepted and suggested an early meeting be held.

Meriam's telegram said the trustees or their representatives were authorized by law on a proper request to meet with an employee organization or representative, Johns said.

It said the AFT local was such an employee group within the law.

Teachers have demanded better working conditions, more autonomy for the campus and resolution of student problems which have kept the campus in turmoil for more than a month.

S. I. Hayakawa, acting San Francisco State president, said he was glad to hear of the trustees' action and added "As a communicator I believe in communication." He closed the school for the holidays a week early because of the campus turmoil.

Students In France Calm Down

PARIS (AP) — Students agitated at Nanterre again today but were cooling it elsewhere, perhaps as a result of severe punishment authorized over the weekend.

Fewer than 1,000 Nanterre students paraded around the campus on the outskirts of Paris, shouting for the rector to resign. They also yelled, "Kick out the police," and "End police repression!"

Several busloads of police watched calmly for a while, then took up positions by the entrance to the school buildigs. The students went to a big amphitheater for a meeting. There was no violence.

At Marseille weekend troubles subsided and at Clermont-Ferrand a strike call was only partially successful. Elsewhere calm was the rule.

The government during the weeken authorized rectors to ban any student for five years if he was guilty of acting against the liberty of others or public order.

Units Patrol Campus As Arsonists Strike

The Kansas fire marshal, Arthur Ramey, said the fire Friday night which left only the walls of Nichols gymnasium was "a set fire." He also confirmed that one of the ROTC guards scared off someone who was possibly trying to set fire to Farrell Library early yesterday morning.

Officials said an unidentified person reportedly made a statement at a student-faculty forum Thursday night that the university might be burned if students are not given a greater voice in curriculum and policies.

"I can say it was a set fire and an accelerant was used," Ramey said. Debris from the fire is being analyzed in a Topeka laboratory.

Ramey said an ROTC student saw a person in the early darkness yesterday apparently pouring a liquid at the base of the five-story Farrell Library. The person fled. A foreign substance was found on the ground beside the library, and it also is being analyzed.

"The investigation is continuing," Ramey said. "It hasn't been very fruitful yet. There is no conclusive evidence and no good suspects."

The Kansas Bureau of Investigation also is involved in the probe.

Furious Knife Fight Leaves Roommate Dead

Police investigators were waiting for Lee Gaffney, 24, to recover sufficiently to explain what provoked the battle in the Pacific Heights apartment he shared with Erwin Freund, 26. Freund died of approximately 40 knife wounds in his chest and abdomen.

The Saturday night battle was overheard by two other men in the apartment building. As one of the men called police the other broke into the apartment and tried to separate Gaffney and Freund.

The fight did not stop, however, until police officer James Pera arrived and pulled Gaffney away.

According to Pera, Gaffney tried to flee the apartment but collapsed of his own wounds.

Negro Occupation Of University Ends

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The 10-day occupatton by about 40 Negro Students of two offices at Washington University ended over the weekend.

A hearing is scheduled today by a panel selected by the students and university officials concerning four campus policemen. Their arrest of a Negro graduate student Dec. 5 set off the demonstration by Negro students who alleged he was roughed up. The students have demanded that three of the policemen be dismissed and the fourth suspended.

The students, carrying blankets and pillows departed the school's accounting office in Brookings Hall Saturday afternoon.

The leader of the group, Robert Johnson of Philadelphia, said "We decided to leave because we felt we had accomplished about all we could with this kind of demonstration."

"From now on we will work with faculty committees, student groups and administration committees to achieve our goals," he said.

Chancellor Thomas H. Eliot said no concessions were made at a meeting Saturday morning with the students. But, he said, "there was a fairly wide area of agreement from the beginning." Eliot said the university agreed to try for increased Negro enrollments in the professional and graduate schools.

Archbishop To Visit Vietnam

The archbishop is the Roman Catholic military vicar of the U.S. armed forces, a post held by Cardinal Spellman until his death a year ago.

Archbishop Cooke said he will visit Germany, Turkey, Iran, Thailand, South Vietnam, the Philippines, Taiwan, South Korea and Japan before returning Jan. 5.

Missing GI Turned Over To Authorities

Claude Melvin Phillips, 23, of 419 Drake Avenue, Marin City, has been turned over to military police at the Presidio of San Francisco following his arrest by sheriff's deputies Thursday on a charge of desertion from the Army.

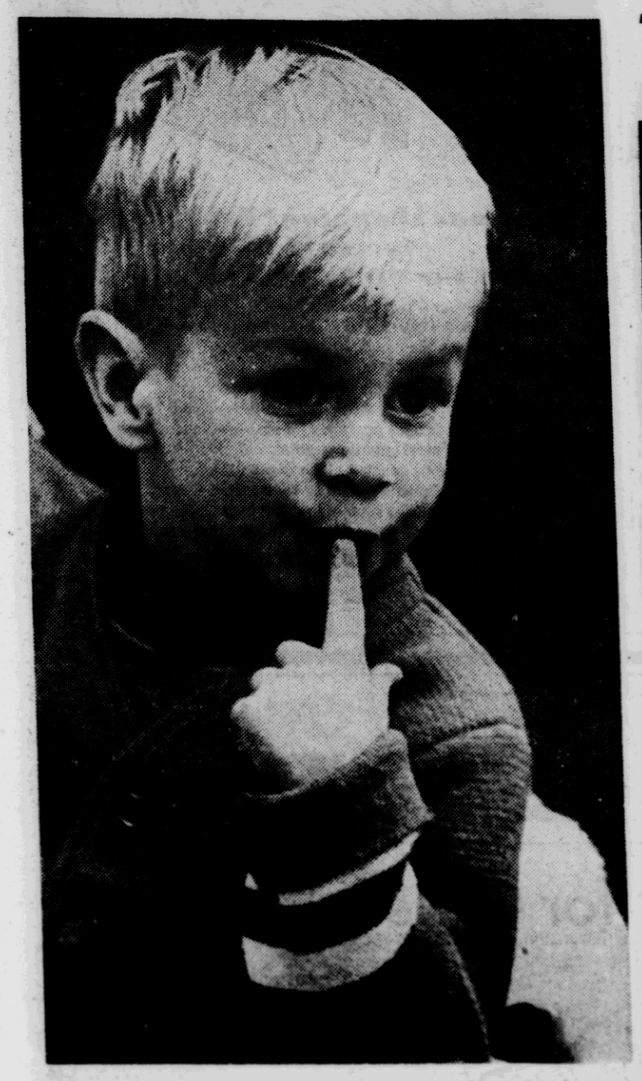
Tots Talk To Santa Claus



LET ME SEE. . . . Oh yes, I remember what I want, could be the thoughts of this young man sitting on Santa's knee in the Northgate shopping center. Like most who come to talk with Santa, he is a little shy yet excited and eager.

THE JOY OF CHRISTMAS in the faces of two happy little girls frames the rosy cheeks of jovial Santa Claus. The gentleman from the North Pole hears many requests and listens to them all but the best came from a small boy wishing everyone could have a happy Christmas. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

I'M TWO, SANTA CLAUS! And another child reflects the excitement in having his moment with possibly the most beloved of all American traditions. With a smile like that maybe Santa will just empty his big bag of toys at this tot's house.

While Parents Show Emotions

By GRACE HENDERSON

Santa Claus is not dead, he lives in the hearts of boys and girls everywhere. He is very much alive and carrying out the traditions of Christmas time, USA, 1968.

Amidst news of unrest, riots, strife and war the Christmas spirit comes through and once again American children are flocking to department stores and street corners to get in a few words with the "big man in the red suit."

Marin children are no exception as a recent afternoon in Northgate shopping center proved. In one day, alone, more than 200 small fry stood patiently, not so patiently; happy and not so happy, in line at a department store to tell Mr. Santa Claus that they have been good children and "I would like . . ."

Nursery age tots were for the most part non-talkative and five-year-olds seemed awestruck. With the beginning of school the shyness vanished and Santa heard them "loud and clear."

A very polite Katy requested a jeweiry making set and three-year-old Kevin said he would like a walkie-talkie "when I grow up." For now he will settle for a robot along with approximately ten per cent of those expressing their wishes.

Standing in line, sometimes ten deep, children anxiously anticipated what they would tell Santa in their turn. Two boys and a girl came hurrying to the line and one, obviously unable to control his excitement, shouted "I told you Santa Claus was here!" One lad stood nonchalantly chewing his gum while another sucked his thumb and a third rehearsed his speech.

A little five-year-old "doll" with a pink ribbon in her hair seemed to have an inside track to Santa's ear and was followed by twin boys, 4, one bashful, looking as though he could shed a tear in fright, and the second more outgoing and eager to talk.

Twins seemed to dominate and Linda and Nancy informed Mr. Claus they would celebrate their birthday the day after Christmas to which Santa replied "You must have been a big surprise the year you came." Linda was quick to inform the public "I'm five minutes older than Nancy."

Santa showed his understanding for the problems of parents with his approach to children reciting long lists of demands. He listened patiently then responded with "I'll tell you what we'll do. Now listen very carefully . . . you have given me a long list of things you want but I'll promise you one thing. O.K.? I'll remember what you have told me and think about it and then I'll just bring whatever I think is best for you." This was usually agreeable.

Television advertising was most apparent with the requests. Santa now and then would inquire as to whether the child had seen the toy they wished for. Most answered they had not but that they saw it on television.

Bryan, 2, was more interested in the candy kisses beside Santa's chair which were given at the end of each visit. He refused to cooperate until he had a piece of the candy in his hand, them promptly demanded some for his six-year-old brother, Bobby.

Several tots mentioned having seen Santa earlier in the day. One related "I saw a ginger house and that Santa Claus gave me a candy cane." Another, a bouncy lad named David, told Santa he was six years old to which the next in line put him down with "You're four." But David was not to be repulsed and stayed on his main theme, that of having seen " 'nother Santa Claus."

Not many showed overwhelming interest in the flowing white beard bringing to mind the many beards seen on men this year. Perhaps their daddy has one at home. One little lady said after her visit with the North Pole gentleman that her Daddy used to have a beard but now he doesn't have one. And added she likes it better this way, because his face doesn't scratch now.

Red-haired, freckle-faced Terry said he would like a five-speed bike and Santa responded he had seen one in the workshop "just the other day." His elf was riding it he said, but when he (Santa) tried he found he was just too big. However, he thought a boy like Terry really would enjoy a five-speed bike.

John, who said he wants ice skates and a horsey this tall was drowned out by his friend Randy, next in line, with "I've got a lot more on my list than he does."

As usual, a few requests were made for babies in the family but by and large most lists were traditional, naming a horse, train, dolls, etc. But the most refreshing words of all to busy Mr. Santa were those of children asking for simple things: a candy cane, "anything you decide," and topped off by a small boy with an earnest request:

1968 Is Milestone Year For Christmas Cards

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The year is one of milestones for the Christmas card industry.

For one thing, the Yule card is observing its 93rd birthday in the United States.

SECONDLY, the world observes the 150th anniversary of the beautiful "Silent Night, Holy Night." The carol, although not of U.S. origin, provides one of the central religious themes of the 1968 greeting cards because of this anniversary.

Thirdly, U.S. families will send 3.8 billion cards this year, a record. Last year, the total was 3.5 billion. This year's record, close to 70 cards on the average for each U.S. family, means that Uncle Sam will collect close to $230 million in postage during the holiday mailing season. Senders will select from more than 50,000 designs.

The 3.8 billion cards estimate comes from Steve Q. Shannon, Executive Director of the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers.

RELIGIOUS MOTIFS enjoy a renaissance this year, Shannon said, making up 30 per cent or more than one billion of all cards sent. Because of Vietnam and concern for peace, there also is a strong patriotic motif —"there isn't a single line (by any manufacturer) that doesn't have some of the peace symbols in it," said Shannon, in an interview. "And not on a protest, but on a prayerful basis."

He said another trend developing is the return of color to the envelopes. And a note on mailing: Whatever the shade of envelope, the U.S. Post Office recommends that for ease of processing during the Christmas rush that decorations such as the Christmas seal go on the back of envelopes.

ABOUT THAT 93rd anniversary. It was in 1875, that Louis Prang, a lithographer in Roxbury, Mass., hesitantly introduced the country's first Christmas cards—and wondered whether anyone would buy them.

One of his women employes suggested that he print "Merry Christmas" on some of his floral cards in the space left blank for a signature. They first caught on overseas. But offered to the American public in 1875, they were an instant success. By 1881, Prang was printing five million Christmas cards a year.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Would A Padded Woman Also Pad Her Company Expense Account?

DEAR HELEN:

I applied for a position which entails travelling and meeting the public. I evidently passed the 2-page psychology-type questionnaire included with my application form, as I was called in for an interview at the personnel office.

Dressed in good taste for a woman of 34, and armed with excellent references, I thought there would be no problem. Not so! First the man looked me up and down as if I were a slave at auction, and asked, "Do you ever wear a wig?" I said, "Occasionally."

Then he said, "And I suppose you wear a padded bra too."

I implied that was my business, not his, and he said, "Anyone who would pad her bra might also pad her expense account. Honesty begins at home."

Before he demanded an inspection, I got out of there.

Is this some sort of new approach to hiring? — MISS C. T.

DEAR MISS T:

This is some sort of "Honesty is the bust policy" nut. Report him to the company manager. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Our son has been in and out of Juvenile Hall for the past two years, for running away, being beyond parental control, the drug bit, etc.

He was made a ward of the court and placed in a group home, but that didn't work. He ran away. We hired a lawyer to get him back home and for a while all went well, even his school work.

Then he was picked up for burglary. He is an habitual liar, and I think is mentally off balance. He seems to have a split personality.

My husband, who thinks his way is the only right way to do anything, insists our son should take his medicine at a boys' correctional institution, but I think we should have him committed to a state hospital, where the conflict between him and his father could be examined and treated.

Is there any hope for a boy like this? — MRS. C.

DEAR MRS. C:

The best hope for your son is a consulting psychologist — and probably separation from a family which may go overboard on punishment (father), and protection (mother). Sometimes a child's "split personality" is the result of split discipline and the three-way resentments it creates.

I don't know your case well enough to advise further, but I do know that the juvenile court judge in your city is an outstanding man. His decision will be fair, and for the best. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I want my child baptized in the church. The only trouble is her father is married to a woman who won't divorce him. Can I have my little girl baptized in her father's name? His name isn't on the birth certificate as he is a well known businessman here. But I think he owes his daughter something, if only recognition in church. Don't you? — OTHER WOMAN

DEAR O.W.:

The "other woman" has no right to a married man's name, nor should she use the church to advertise her affair.

Whether you're out to win him or ruin him, this isn't the way. —H.

Couple Stays Young And Happy, Will Celebrate Golden Wedding

By JOAN LISETOR

MR. AND MRS. ALVA NIPPER

It is difficult to believe that Mr. and Mrs. Alva Nipper have been married for 50 years, since neither of them appear to be much over 50 years old.

Mr. Nipper says, "We stay young by fighting with each other." But it is apparent there is little friction in their San Anselmo home.

The Nippers are natives of Grants Pass, Ore. and were graduated from high school in the same class. Mrs. Nipper then attended San Jose State College, graduating in two years.

"Everyone looks surprised when I tell them I went through college in two years, but it was a three-year-school and during the war they really crammed us through," she explains.

Mr. Nipper attended the University of Oregon and the University of Washington before being sent overseas in the Air Service of World War I. Following his release from the service they were married by her grandfather, who was a justice of the peace, on Dec. 31, 1918.

'People think there is something funny about our being married on New Year's Eve, but it was actually at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. We had planned to be married before Christmas, but Alva's release from the service was delayed, and he had to make what was then a long trip from Ft. Lewis, Wash. to Grants Pass," Mrs. Nipper recalls.

In the 45 years the Nippers have lived in Marin County they have seen many changes. The panoramic view of the skyline from their Alpine Avenue home in San Anselmo has completely changed since they moved there 15 years ago.

"There were no homes then, just grassy field," says Mr. Nipper. Mrs. Nipper pointed out large trees which she said were very small when they planted them. "But we still have a deer family that lives below our house," she said pointing to a grassy slope that runs down the hill behind their home.

The Nippers have a daughter, Jean Marchant, two grandchildren: Susan, a student at the University of California at Davis; and Jon, a student at Redwood High School.

Mr. Nipper is still very active in the real estate business with his son-in-law, Hugh Marchant. He is a past president of the Marin County Real Estate Board and the San Anselmo Rotary Club, has been a member of the Ross Valley Sanitary Board and for 32 years and is a member of the Fairfax Masonic Lodge 556, San Rafael Elks Club, the American Legion and the San Anselmo, San Rafael and Marin County Chambers of Commerce. He is also a member of the Marin Golf and Country Club, where he "loves to play golf."

Mrs. Nipper is a charter member of the first Toastmistress Club in Marin. She served as president of that club and is a member of the Tamalpais Centre Women's Club and the Marin Society of Artists. Her hobby is oil painting, and in the past she has given piano lessons.

A party at the Meadow Club in Fairfax on Dec. 31 will be given to celebrate their 50th anniversary by the couple, their daughter and son-in-law and grandchildren.

The only advice the Nippers offer to young married couples for a successful marriage is "give a little and take a little." It seems to have worked very well for them.

Kitty Knapp Is Bride Of Vic Martino

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Knapp of Mill Valley and the bridgeroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Martino of Burbank.

Maid of honor was Lorraine Perry of San Francisco and bridesmaids were Kathryn Barnhart of Santa Cruz, Jill Rutledge of Mill Valley and the bridgeroom's sister, Ilene Martino of Burbank.

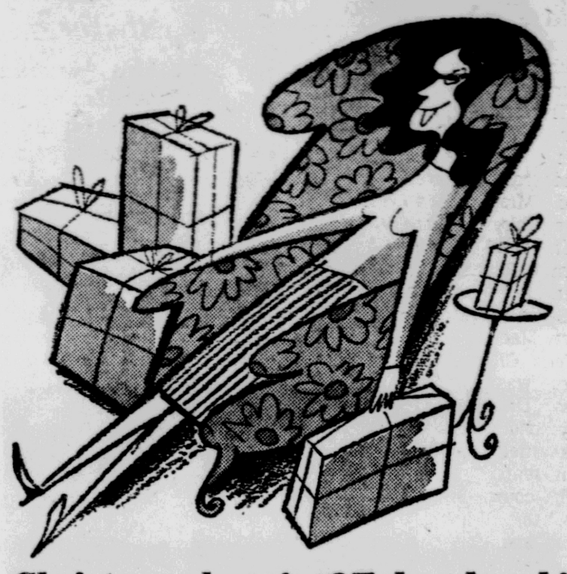
Greg Martino of Burbank served his brother as best man. Ushers were Mark Pepple of Patterson, Craig Scharlin of Burbank and David and Christopher Goff of San Francisco.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Tiburon Penninsula Club. On their return from a wedding trip to Hawaii the couple will live near the University of California at Los Angeles, where the bridegroom, who was graduated from the University of California at Davis, is attending graduate school in business administration.

The bride is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and the University of California at Davis and plans to obtain teaching credentials. She has a brother, Phillip Knapp, who is serving with the Army in Vietnam.

Dining Room

Are chair rails merely dining room artifacts? By painting them to contrast with walls or correlating them to doors, windows and wainscoting, you can give a dramatic effect to a dining room. Wide chair rails, painted a vivid color, can be as contemporary as an abstract painting. And that broad band of color across a room will help to "lower" a too-high ceiling.



Christmas shopping? Take a break! Special Rates at the Sir Francis Drake

The Drake is offering its suburban friends a room from 8 a.m. till 8 p.m. any day of the week for only $10.00.
Check into a lovely room. Then shop to your heart's content.
(Stay over, if you like, for just $10.00 more.)
After shopping, or in-between, relax in your room, freshen up, leave your packages for safe-keeping.
This special holiday offer is in effect until December 24.

Pair Wed In Mission

A ceremony Saturday at Mission San Rafael Arcangel united in marriage Alan Kenneth Burton and Nancy Jeanne Purvis.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Purvis of San Rafael, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Burton of Hampshire, England.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. James Purvis of Novato, was matron of honor. Peggy Bowden of Santa Rosa and Helen Hart of Corte Madera were bridesmaids.

Nancy is a graduate of Terra Linda High School and will be graduated next month from Mills College in Oakland. Mrs. Sabra Jouper of San Rafael is her grandmother.

Alan was graduated from Bromsgrove School in Worcestershire, England and Camborne School of Mines in Cornwall, England. He is employed by Alcoa as a mining engineer in Perth, Western Australia, where the couple will live. Catherine Jill Burton of London is the bridegroom's sister.

Fat Cookies Best Packers

AMES, Iowa (UPI)—Phyllis Olson, extension nutritionist at Iowa State University, has these hints on packing and shipping homemade Christmas cookies.

Bars and drop cookies work better than thin, crisp or fancy roll cookies, she advises. Don't cut bar cookies before sending them—they're apt to dry up and crack easily. She suggests that the sender should try to cut one large sheet of bars to fit her packing box exactly.

Wrap each sheet individually and layer with cardboard for protection, Miss Olson says. Enclose a plastic knife for cutting.

To pack drop cookies, place them back to back, wrap in foil or plastic wrap and line them up, standing on end, in a foil, plastic wrap or waxpaper-lined box.

ON THE AGENDA

Pastor To Install Officers For Presbyterian Women's Group

The United Presbyterian Women's Association will hold its Christmas tea at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the Christensen room of the Novato Presbyterian Church. Installation of new officers will be held and reports on November's "Talent Month" received.

Dr. J. J. Canoles, assistant pastor, will conduct the installation ceremonies to be followed by singing of Christmas carols. The Straightliners will serve as hostesses and Mrs. Robert W. Casady will give the devotions.

The offices of president and service coordinator have not been filled but other officers to be installed are Mmes. E. C. Legion, vice president and program coordinator; James Goin, secretary; Harry Dohm, treasurer; George Hayford, circle coordinator; and Warren Clark, fellowship coordinator and nominating committee chairman.

Accepting appointive posts are Mmes. Donald Jensvold, literature; Robert Michael, flower; J. Hudson Ballard, James Harrington Jr. and Robert Casady, general meetings; Harry Eide, representative to Church Women United; Katherine Hulme, representative to the seminary auxiliary; Junius Thompson, finance assistant, and Donald Estler and Bertha Barnes, fellowship department assistants.

MEMBERS OF PRECEPTOR Alpha Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority will hold their annual Christmas exchange at the home of Mrs. Burt Rourche, 4 Acela Road in Tiburon tomorrow at 8 p.m. Secret sisters will be revealed and Christmas presents wrapped for each of the patients at Marin Manor Rest Home.

Sunday, members and their husbands will hold a cocktail party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oran Baptist, 396 Monticello Road in San Rafael.

OAKVIEW LADIES Rover Golf Club will have a Christmas luncheon at the Meadow Club Wednesday. Highlight of the noon luncheon will be presentation of the Selma Samuels perpetual trophy and the Berven Ace of the Year putting trophy.

CLASSES OF the Dancers' Workshop in Kentfield and Sausalito will be suspended until resumption of regular classes the week of Jan. 6.

THE NOTATO Newcomers Club will meet at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael for its Christmas luncheon and exchange of gifts on Wednesday.

A social hour at 11 a.m. will feature champagne punch, the luncheon will be served at noon. Mrs. Thomas Laughlin and Mrs. Noel Weaver of Novato are reservations chairmen.

Prizes will be awarded for the most traditional, original and modern hand-made decorations which members bring to the luncheon.

Christmas music will be provided by members. Mrs. Allen Dahl on the accordion and Mrs. Leland Embry will sing.

Members have been requested to bring wrapped toys or games to be presented to needy children in the area.

THE SENIOR Citizens of Mill Valley were entertained Tuesday afternoon at a Christmas luncheon by the Mill Valley Chapter of the American Women's Volunteer Service at the Mill Valley Community Recreation Center.

Chairman Mrs. F. D. Fellows was assisted by members Mmes. Wayne Bingham, Archer B. Forsyth, Forest J. Sur and Anna Roorda.

Guests remained afterward to play cards. The AWVS holds a monthly luncheon for senior citizens on the second Tuesday of each month.

MRS. DON KELLER has been elected president of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist Church of Petaluma for the new year. Other officers elected for the guild are Mmes. Burl McNamee, vice president; Karl Kohl, secretary; James McNaughton, treasurer; and William Gardiner, coordinator.

Holiday Punch

Spicy tea punch makes a refreshing and colorful holiday beverage. Make 1 quart of tea using either 2 rounded teaspoons of loose tea or four tea bags of spicy, citrus-flavored tea. Cool. Pour into punch bowl and add 2 (6-ounce) cans of frozen lemonade concentrate, 2 (6-ounce) cans of frozen orange juice concentrate, 1 (4-ounce) jar of maraschino cherries, drained, 1 (1-pound) can of crushed pineapple and juice and 1 quart of orange ice sherbert. Stir until frozen concentrate is dissolved, add 2 quarts of gingerale and a large block of ice. Makes 5 quarts or about 40 (4-ounce) servings.

CANDLELIGHT REVIEW

Bach Group Performs In Brilliant Fashion

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Last night's second concert in the ninth annual Candlelight Series at Brown's Hall, Mill Valley, offered such a variety of featured instruments, voices and program selections that it was one of the most enjoyable performances we have heard from the Bach-to-Mozart Players.

Setting a light, gay mood appropriate to the holiday season were the Three Dances for Harpsichord and Percussion by Clementi that opened each of the three sections of the program.

They gave Margaret Fabrizio the opportunity to show her artistry on the harpsichord, with rhythm marked by the triangle played by Edward Haug, the group's trumpeter, and the tambourine by Raymond Duste, the group's leader and oboist. These dances were quite a surprising departure for Clementi, founder of the modern style of piano playing.

Highlight of the evening for us was Mozart's aria "Schon Lacht der Holde Fruehling" because of the scintillating performance by lyric soprano Gwen Curatilo. It was a perfect showcase for the extraordinary instrumental-like flexibility, control and power of her voice.

In the Four Songs for Soprano and Violin by Holst, she showed her exceptional ability to communicate mood and feeling, despite some surprisingly flawed violin playing in intonation and precision of technique on the part of George Nagata. Since his playing was better as part of the string ensemble, one assumed the cause might have been insufficient familiarity with or rehearsal of the songs.

Another highlight was the duet, "Lord, Thy Mercy" from Bach's "Christmas" Oratorio, in which the voices of Miss Curatilo and baritone Edgar Jones made a beautiful blend together. And with the two oboes d'amore played with such unanimity by Duste and guest oboist Eleanor Biondi, they occasionally sounded like an amplified single instrument.

Because of the fluent agility of Duste's playing of the florid upper part of Telemann's Trio Sonata in C. Minor, it seemed almost like an oboe solo with obbligato, though Asbjorn Finess' smooth, mellow-toned viola and continuo provided by harpsichordist Miss Fabrizio and guest cellist Rolf Storseth added much to the total effect.

Handel's aria, "The Trumpet Shall Sound" from the "Messiah" was a real tour de force for baritone and trumpet with Haug showing top form on trumpet and Jones demonstrating his mastery of the baroque style of singing.

The instrumental triumph and finale of the evening was Telemann's concerto for Trumpet and Two Oboes in D major. Again Haug was brilliant, tonal quality of the oboes was lovely and the dialogue between the three solo instruments and the string ensemble was expertly handled.

MUSIC REVIEW

Orchestra Has Evening Of Balance

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

The College of Marin Community Orchestra, under the baton of John H. Myers, presented an excellent balance last night of Mozart and Haydn mixed with tonal poetry of Delius and Ives.

With the continued improved acoustics of the Fine Arts Theater, the unit was never better in Frederick Delius' "The Walk to the Paradise Garden," the intermezzo from the opera, "A Village Romeo and Juliet."

In this number there was complete harmony from all sections of the orchestra. There was no over balance from any section. It was as though the orchestra had come astutely alive to capture the majestic feeling of Delius' composition.

For the finale last night, Myers selected another excellent work, Charles Ives' Symphony No. 3, "The Camp Meeting."

Like most of Ives' works, this symphony is intertwined with revivalist hymns from which the other melodic elements spring. Here again the "talk"between sections was unhurried and balanced.

The orchestra opened the evening with the familiar overture to Don Giovanni, K. 527 by Mozart. While there were moments of uneveness at the start, the orchestra rebounded for an excellent finish.

For the big number of the program, Myers selected Joseph Haydn's Sinfonie Concertante, Op. 84 for violin, cello, oboe and basson.

The Haydn is big-time music, calling upon the strings to develop the theme which is then transferred to the individual soloists. While all four solosits were well-schooled for their roles, Miss Bowers and Leones were outstanding. The voices of both instruments were pure and lyrical, filling the theater with velvet sounds.

It is good to see a college-community orchestra tackle such a demanding score and come up batting over the .500 mark. It is a sure sign of competence at the helm.

Graham Carrying Nixon Message To Viet Troops

TOKYO (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham said today he is carrying Christmas greetings from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, President Johnson and President-elect Nixon to U.S. troops in Vietnam.

Graham said he visited Eisenhower at Walter Reed Hospital and the 78-year-old former President shed tears when he asked that his Christmas greetings and prayers be conveyed to the troops.

Graham arrived in Tokyo yesterday to visit wounded Vietnam veterans hospitalized in Japan, before he leaves for South Vietnam to spend Christmas with the troops.

Linda Robb Bids Husband Goodbye

BANGKOK (UPI) — Lynda Bird Robb and her marine major husband, Charles, said farewell for another four months today and he flew back to his post in the Vietnam War zone near Da Nang.

Mrs. Robb, President Johnson's elder daughter, drove her husband to the military air terminal at suburban Don Muang and said goodbye to him inside the car. She wore a blue wool, short-sleeved dress.

Robb, clad in brown pants and a sports shirt, left the car shortly before noon and joined the same group of GIs he arrived with Wednesday for the five-day "rest and recreation" leave from Vietnam.

Streisand And Astaire Honored

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Barbra Streisand and Fred Astaire were named Stars of the Year yesterday by the Hollywood Women's Press Club and received the club's Golden Apple awards for 1968.

Diahann Carroll, star of the television series "Julia," was chosen Female Newcomer of the Year. There was a tie for Male Newcomer—between Robert Brown, star of TV's "Here Come the Brides," and singer Glenn Campbell.

The club's traditional Sour Apple Award to the most uncooperative star was not awarded this year. A spokesman said "no one was worthy of it."

Kirk Douglas' Son Will Marry Sunday

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) — Joel Douglas, son of actor Kirk Douglas, and Susan Jorgensen of Great Falls will be married Sunday at the First Congregational Church.

Douglas and Miss Jorgensen are drama students at the University of Montana, Missoula. The wedding was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sganley Jorgensen.

Christmas Recital

The Christmas recital and party of students of the Novato Accordion Studio will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall at 844 Sweetser Avenue, Novato, announced Mrs. Grover Owen, teacher.

BUDDHA PRESENTED IN WAX MUSEUM

The Wax Museum at Fisherman's Wharf recently opened a new gallery—"The Hall of Religions" as an addition to their 60 other tableaux, featuring figures by Josephine Tussaud. The scene depicted above shows Gautama after persisting 49 days under the Bodhi Tree to have the truth revealed to him. His enlightenment was the beginning of Buddhism, one of the seven Great Living Religions. This is the first time anywhere that three-dimensional wax sculpture has been employed to portray a gallery of religions and spiritual significance. The Wax Museum is featuring special group tours for the Holidays.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Careful Watch Of December Earnings Can Avoid A Crisis

Wikel

Taxes are the biggest bill you will ever pay. Therefore, you should shape your affairs to produce the lowest tax result, using every option permitted under the Internal Revenue Code.

Watch your earnings this month.

If you use the optional tax table you can earn up to $50 with no additional tax or you can earn one dollar and have it cost you nine to ten dollars more tax.

Check your earnings and a tax table. For instance: if you earned $4,900, you can go ahead and earn $4,949.99 without paying more tax. If you earned $4,949 and you earn one more dollar it would take you to $4,950.00 and you've added nine dollars to your tax bill on a separate return or eight dollars on a joint return, plus surtax.

CHECK INCOME

If you're going to itemize your deductions this year be sure and pay every deductible expense before the end of the year. That is: charitable contributions, interest, deductible taxes, medical expense, etc. Pay it so you can claim it on this year's tax return.

If you are going to use the standard deduction this year, don't pay any more deductible expenses. Wait and pay them in 1969 because in 1969 you might be able to itemize your deductions to greater advantage than taking the standard deduction.

Do you have stock market losses? If so, then consider selling the stocks now and using the loss to reduce your tax.

Warning! Do not purchase like or similar stock within 30 days before or 30 days after the sale. If you do, the loss is not allowable.

PROFIT POLICY

Do you want to make a sale now, but hesitate to do so because of the additional tax you would have to pay this year? Then consider selling now and reporting the profit on the installment basis. You can make the sale now, elect to report your profit as you collect the installments.

If you make no collections in 1968, then you will have no tax to pay. In other words, don't pass up an opportunity to sell now at a profit. Make the sale and be sure that you collect 30 per cent or less, or nothing, down this year. Then make your collections in later years and report and pay the tax on the profits as you collect it.

INSTALLMENTS

You can elect to report your profit on an installment sale in installments as you are paid, if:

1. It was a sale of real estate and the total amount collected in 1968 was not more than 30 per cent of the selling price.

2. It was a sale of personal property where — (A) The total amount you collected in 1968 was not more than 30 per cent of the selling price; (B) It was personal property not of a kind you would include in your inventory at Dec. 31, 1968, if you still had it; (C) The selling price was more than $1,000. The total collected in 1968 cannot exceed 30 per cent of the total selling price. This includes the down payment and all later payments collected in 1968.

LEGISLATURE–1969

Tax Reform Looms As Major Item On Lawmakers' Agenda

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Legislature convenes Jan. 6 for what could be a long and bitter session. What are the big issues? This question is discussed in the first of a five-part series prepared by United Press International.)

By NORMAN KEMPSTER

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Most legislators hope to redeem a campaign promise of across-the-board tax reform but it is becoming increasingly apparent that the task will be difficult and could prove impossible.

A UPI poll showed an overwhelming majority of the lawmakers think tax reform will be the most important single issue to face the sessions which begins Jan. 6.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has called repeatedly for comprehensive tax revision to spread more fairly the cost of state government. Many legislators promised tax reform during their campaigns last fall.

Reagan vowed there would be no increase in the total tax take. He said increases in one tax will have to be offset by reductions in another.

The governor and Finance Director Caspar W. Weinberger promise to trim the state budget to fit available revenue. The budget for the current fiscal year is $5.7 billion.

Reagan's budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 is expected to total more than $6 billion but the increase can be financed through normal growth of state revenue.

Although most legislators said tax reform was desirable, only a little more than half of the lawmakers who responded to the UPI poll expressed optimism that the job could be done.

The Democratic and Republican floor leaders in the Senate —Sens. Gerge Moscone, D-San Francisco, and Donald Grunsky, R - Watsonville — agreed comprehensive tax reform was possible this year.

Assembly Speaker-to-be Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, also predicted success.

But the prospective No. 2 man in the lower house, Assemblyman Charles J. Conrad, R-Sherman Oaks, said tax reform was "doubtful in view of the close division in the Legislature."

The Senate is divided evenly between the two parties with 20 Democrats and 20 Republicans. The GOP controls the Assembly by a narrow 41-39 margin.

Assemblyman Leroy F. Greene, D-Sacramento, summed up the problem the Legislature will face when it tries to overcome inequities in the tax structure.

"Reform requires that some taxes go up while others go down," Greene said. "In a comprehensive reform, major changes are necessary. I cannot see agreement on major tax shifts."

One thing seems certain. There will be another bitter fight over legislation to collect state income taxes by payroll withholding.

Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R - Modesto, has already announced he will introduce a withholding tax bill. Gov. Ronald Reagan is adamantly opposed to withholding.

The UPI poll produced almost a dead heat on withholding. Three more lawmakers favored the proposal than opposed it and there were some very "iffy" answers.

Monagan, who led a nearly solid bloc of Republicans against withholding during the last session, said he might favor the measure this time "if it is part of overall reform."

Several other Republicans also said they might back withholding if the conditions are right.

A special commission, headed by State Controller Houston I. Flournoy, has been working since last summer on an overall tax reform program.

Flournoy said it probably would be very late in January before the commission files its report. And he warned lawmakers not to expect too much because state income must be maintained.

"For everyone who gets a tax reduction, we have to find someone who takes up the burden," he said.

He said the commission hoped to recommend a distribution of the tax burden that "will approach crude but substantial justice."

Ridgeway Park Rezoning Due Second Hearing

The Fairfax Planning Commission will hold another public hearing at 8 p.m. Thursday on rezoning from commercial to multiple residential 25 lots in Ridgeway Park on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The commission approved the rezoning on Nov. 21 by a 4-1 vote, but City Atty. Wallace S. Myers has advised the commission that the approval needs a two-thirds vote of the seven commissioners, whether or not they are all present.

Commissioners Leo T. Cronin, chairman, and Hugh O. Winn were absent at the Nov. 21 meeting. A favorable vote by five of the commissioners will be needed to approve the rezoning.

Also on the agenda is an application by Mrs. Dell Blodgett for a special use permit to open a drive-in secretarial service at 85 Bolinas Road in a building formerly used as a service station.

Sanitary Directors Will Review Salaries

Salaries of the six employees of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District will be reviewed by directors at an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the district office, 300 Smith Ranch Road.

Also to be discussed is renewal of a contract with Rodding and Cleaning Machines of Los Angeles, which has a four-year contract to maintain district lines. The four-year cost is about $24,000.

Annexations On Novato Agenda

Two annexations will be before the Novato City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Novato Community House.

One is of 890 acres south of Highway 37 and west of Black Point for Jack Kinney and others; the other, 62 acres of Los Robles Mobile Home Park site, the new Marin County Humane Society site and Soiland Co. on Bel Marin Keys Boulevard.

Other items on the agenda include: discussion of aims and goals of the beautification committee; creation of a liaison library committee; location of the Hill Road extension, and a report on projects planned for gasoline tax fund financing.

Restaurant Owner Loses Alcohol Plea

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control has denied a petition of Don H. Banks, operating the Houndstooth Inn, 10 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, to remove conditions of his on-sale beer and wine license.

Banks had petitioned the department to remove the condition that no alcoholic beverage be sold or consumed after 10 p.m.

HOSPITAL STRIKE — A picket line went up around Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael today as nonprofessional workers at the local facility joined in a strike of 26 Kaiser and Permante hospitals and clinics in Northern California. (Independent-Journal photo)

Bagley Hits College Fund 'Retaliation'

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, warned Saturday night of pressures on the Legislature to withhold funds from the University of California and state college system "as retribution and retaliation" for student unrest.

Persons who call for such punishment "would destroy the pre-eminence of our institutions — and that is exactly the thing that the revolutionaires who are causing the unrest would want," Bagley said in a dinner speech before the Sonoma County chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union. The dinner was held on the Sonoma State College campus at Rohnert Park, and was attended by more than 100 persons.

Bagley commended the ACLU for being "in the forefront of those taking a positive stand against a repressive society," noting that the national organization also "realizes that when demonstrations get so far out of hand that they destroy and disrupt —then those demonstrations become instruments of repression of the majority."

He said the ACLU not only served those on the left of the political spectrum, but also those on the right. He recalled that the ACLU recently helped win a court test for a Berkeley member of the John Birch Society.

The San Rafael Republican legislator predicted that the civil liberties record of the GOP-controlled 1969 Assembly would be a good one. "We're not going to find the repressive atmosphere that some of you think will occur," he said.

Turning to San Francisco State College, Bagley said he had "mixed emotions" about the college's acting president, Dr. S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley. "For a semanticist, he's not communicating," said Bagley, "but someone has got to put a stop to the rock throwing and the disruption of classes."

Asked if he would join the Nixon administration, Bagley said he had made no commitment to leave the Assembly. Such a decision might be made in a "relatively few months," perhaps in June, said Bagley.

Officer Assault Booking Is Made

Colin Herbert Sparks, 25, was booked into Marin County Jail early today for investigation of felony assault on an officer, resisting arrest and for being drunk.

San Anselmo police said officer Richard Standridge approached Sparks, of 31 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo, at 3:25 a.m. after seeing Sparks' car parked at the rear of a building in the 800 block of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

He said Sparks became belligerent, demanded that Standridge turn off a flashlight the officer held and then struck him on the left arm. The blow knocked the flashlight to the ground, according to the report.

Sparks, free on $1,000 bail, was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Auto Seats Stolen

Two bucket seats worth $100 were reported missing from a car for sale at James Boys Used Cars at 625 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, Saturday, police reported.

Kaiser Hospitals, Including One In San Rafael, Hit By Strikers

A total of 26 Kaiser Foundation and Permanente Medical Group hospitals and clinics in Northern California — including a facility in San Rafael — were struck at midnight last night by nonprofessional workers.

There were picket lines outside all effected facilities today.

The strike was called by the AFL-CIO Hospital and Institutional Workers Local 250, San Francisco, against 11 Kaiser Foundation and 15 Permanente Medical Group hospitals and clinics.

The strike involves some 3,000 nonprofessional workers. The union represents licensed vocational nurses, nurses aides, X-ray and laboratory technicians, orderlies, clercial workers, maids, porters and culinary workers.

The strike was called after last-minute efforts by state conciliators failed to bring an agreement on a new contract.

Kaiser Foundation said it has planned to keep the hospitals and clinics functioning as normal as possbile with some 4,000 nonunion employees helping out.

A spokesman said all urgent cases would be handled and some nonemergency patients, too. In some instances, he continued, service for nonurgent cases would be delayed.

Kaiser's contract with the hospital workers expired Nov. 1. Two state conciliators met with Kaiser officials and union representatives during the weekend in Berkeley, but negotiations broke off at 10:30 p.m. yesterday.

Union representatives said there were no plans for further negotiations.

Hospital workers last week, by a 3-1 margin, rejected a Kaiser offer for a two-year contract.

The foundation had offered a pact that would have raised the pay of most union employees by 30 cents an hour and liberalized their fringe benefits.

The union, however, has been seeking a one-year contract with a generally higher pay increase.

The union claimed that Kaiser demands more of its workers than of workers in similar jobs in other hospitals. Kaiser officials wouldn't comment on that charge, but said their employees are paid as well or better than those in other hospitals.

Most of the union employees are now paid from $2.10.5 to $2.97 an hour, although a few technicians get as much as $4.99 an hour.

Also hit by the strike are hospitals and clinics in San Francisco, Oakland, Antioch, Hayward, Napa, Vallejo, Redwood City, Richmond, Sacramento, Santa Clara, South San Francisco, Sunnyvale and Walnut Creek.

Owner Of Restaurant Beaten Up

Clay L. Wright, 53, owner of Clay's Farmhouse at Olema, was reported in good condition at Marin General Hospital today after being beaten by two men in the restaurant last night.

Witnesses told sheriff's deputies the men came into the place about 9 p.m., ordered drinks and sat in the middle of the floor.

Wright, objecting to their choice of seats, moved the drinks to the counter, witnesses told deputies. The two men became loud and boisterous, shoved and tripped Wright and then kicked his head, witnesses said. The men left after the attack.

On the descriptions of the witnesses, Layton Joseph Thorn, 23, of 105 Piper Court, Fairfax, was picked up and booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of disturbing the peace and being drunk in and about a vehicle. He was released on $125 bail and scheduled to appear at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Thorn's wife provided the identity of another man, Brian Peter Hagan, 30, of Forest Knolls, who was picked up later walking along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, deputies said. He was booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon and held in lieu of $3,150 bail.

Hearing Set On Refuse Plan

The Stinson Beach County Water District board Saturday set a public hearing for Jan. 11 on an ordinance to set up a refuse collection system in the district.

The hearing will be at the board meeting at 10 a.m. in the Stinson Beach Community Center on Belvedere Street. Under the ordinance, the district would issue a franchise to a private refuse company, secretary Harriet M. Greene said.

Refuse is now collected by a private firm, Henry's Service of Stinson Beach.

The board also heard a report that county counsel's office is drafting a joint powers agreement for construction and operation of a joint sewage system with the Belinas Community Public Utility District.

Seven Reports Of Burglaries Over Weekend

The theft of two television sets and a painting from the Robert Varner home, 47 Pigeon Hollow Drive, San Rafael, was reported Friday, sheriff's deputies said today. There were no signs of forced entry, deputies reported.

The burglary was among seven reported over the weekend to deputies

Gail J. Marshik of Gate 6, Sausalito, reported Saturday an heirloom ring and $7 in cash were taken from her houseboat while she was out Friday evening.

Ruth L. Fleck and Mary Jane Winterhalter, both of 254 Cecelia Way, Bel Air, reported their coin collection of more than $75 was taken from their home Friday evening.

Robert Barbieri of 358 San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, reported Friday that a tenant, Donald Barrett, left without notice, owing two months rent and taking several blankets and all of the kitchen ware.

An auto stereo, tapes and a camera, valued at $335, were taken from her car while it was parked in her driveway at 356 Jean Street, Tamalpais Valley, Thursday night, Michele Quilici reported Friday.

Fined $350

Chico Mercado, 50, of 585 Midway Street, Novato, has been fined $350 and placed on 18 months of probation in Marin Superior Court for possessing marijuana Oct. 2, 1967, in Tiburon. Judge Joseph G. Wilson imposed the punishment.

Ex-Marinite Returns To Face Charges

A former San Rafael man now living in Australia, who allegedly disappeared with almost $2,500 worth of paintings from the Marin Art and Garden Center three years ago, has returned to face justice.

Maurice Bernard Houghton turned himself in to San Rafael police Friday on warrants which had been issued on two charges of embezzlement arising out of the art work's disappearance and bad check warrant from 1966.

According to the Marin Society of Artists, Houghton rented 13 oil paintings from the center in September, 1965, giving bank references and paying rental through December of that year.

At the expiration of the rental period, the society wrote requesting return of the paintings but received no answer. A phone call to Maywood Way house showed the phone had been disconnected. Representatives of the society also visited the house and found it vacant.

After subsequent unsucessful attempts to locate Houghton at a San Francisco office he had maintained, the society reported the missing paintings to Ross police, and the district attorney's office issued the warrants for his arrest.

Prior to that time, Houghton had been sought on a warrant for bad checks issued to two San Rafael firms.

According to San Rafael police, Houghton was aware of the warrants and returned to clear up the matter

He was freed on $6,600 bail and was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Clothes Stolen

Jerry Lenihan, 510 Stuart Drive, Petaluma, reported clothing valued between $60 and $70 was stolen from his car during Friday night while it was parked at 828 Kentucky Street.

Four Youths Held In Auto Theft Probe

Four Southern California boys were booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall last night on suspicion of auto theft and burglary of a Cotati used car lot.

Arrested were Robert Kaye Roark, 16; Steven Maurcie Sibley, 15; Thomas Kail, 16, and Allen Ward Lister, 15, all of Lawndale, Los Angeles County.

California Highway Patrol officer Gerald Alkup stopped the four hithchiking on Highway 101 northy of Novato at 7 p.m., not far from an abandoned car later found to be stolen from Gem Used Car Sales, 7424 Healdsburg Avenue, Cotati.

The boys said they drove up from Lawndale Thursday, wrecked their own car somewhere in Sonoma County Friday and stole the car in Cotati yesterday. But the stolen car broke down and the four abandoned it and started hitchhiking when Walkup found them.

In the car was an assortment of items which Cotati police said matched a list of things taken from the sales trailer at the used car lot —a lamp, towel rack, knife, wall clock, radio, candles, tool box and two blue ribbons from the Sonoma County Fair.

School Bond Plans To Be Presented

Campaign plans for the San Rafael Elementary School District's $2.1 million bond proposal to be voted upon Feb. 18 will be presented to the San Rafael Board of Education at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the administration building, Third and E streets.

The board also is scheduled to adopt a policy on teacher evaluation, and grant sabbatical leave requests for the 1969-70 school year.

Session Canceled

The regular meeting of the Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission, scheduled for 8 p.m. today, has been canceled because of a lack of business, according to secretary Shirley Lane.

'Synanon Games' Not Greatest School Need

At Synanon House in Marshall, the weekly "Synanon Games" are an attraction and an institution. In them, Synanon residents "take down their hair" to probe each other's deepest feelings. The sessions are dedicated to awareness and understanding. Sometimes the language becomes extremely blunt and insults are hurled that would lead to blows in a group without Synanon's strict self-imposed discipline.

Something like those sessions could occur in school classrooms in "sensitivity training" which is among the innovations being urged in the heady atmosphere of California school districts' newly acquired curriculum control.

Of course, it may be assumed the soul-bearing conversation would be less earthy and the insults less degrading among a group of students, whose background would not include the drink, dope and depravity that are common to those who have turned to Synanon. But they would cut no less cruelly. And the boys and girls would be far less prepared to endure them.

THESE ARE AMONG the perils of carrying psychiatric exploration into the schoolroom that have caused Dr. William M. Lamers, a Marin psychiatrist familiar with the experiment, to warn "it may be as dangerous as allowing a two-year medical student to perform brain surgery."

The Tamalpais High School District Board tonight will consider a proposal for introducing sensitivity training in the three high schools of the Tam district.

The proposal has been carefully worked out by a team within the district, composed principally of school psychologists. Small groups of students would participate. None could do so without his own and his parents' freely given consent.

Dr. Lamers has high regard for the quality of the personnel in the Tam district who are working on the program. Teachers who would be involved have been given experience as participants in sensitivity training sessions themselves. "The Tam district is well prepared" for the experiment, according to Dr. Lamers.

NEVERTHELESS, the psychiatrist is fearful of the introduction of such a program in the schools without much longer preparation.

One of the techniques used in sensitivity training where it has been tried has the children face each other in two lines to be told, "do whatever you feel like to the person opposite you." Another is to blindfold students, have them touch each other and describe their feelings.

Dr. Lamers said he and other Marin psychiatrists "have had to pick up the pieces" from such experimentation. "These can be very frightening to a child," he said.

Sensitivity training, he and other psychiatrists believe, may serve a useful purpose in helping to understand one another's personality. "I would hope in years to come it would be taught in the schools," he said.

But not now.

WE AGREE with Dr. Lamers. Much needs to be done to reenforce the school curricula in the basic fields of education. That was the ostensible purpose of the George Miller Jr. Act that provided local curriculum control.

We suggest the school people attack these needs. Innovation for its own sake has little merit. And we are not convinced that it is time yet for "Synanon games" at school, regardless of the qualifications of any district's staff.

'We Want Muskie' Continues For Defeated 'Veep' Candidate

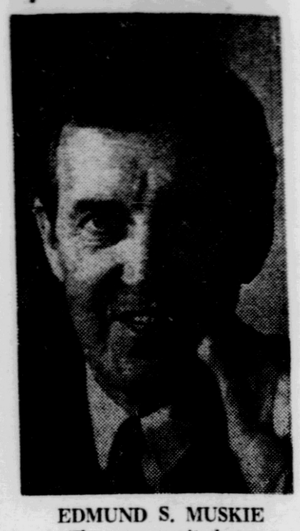
WASHINGTON — The same cheer which followed him throughout the presidential campaign is still in its afterglow: "We want Muskie!"

Whatever happens in national affairs in the next few years, there is evidence that a very large number of voters want Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine to be in the middle of it.

They want him to be a strong force in the U.S. Senate.

They want him to be an influential voice in the shaping of the future of the Democratic Party.

Many hope he will run for President in 1972.



EDMUND S. MUSKIE
The cry won't down

ONE CLUE to the remarkable empathy which Muskie as Hubert Humphrey's running mate built up with the American people during the campaign is the fantastic flow of letters — about 8,000 already — which is continuing to inundate his office.

They come from Democrats, independents and Republicans. They come overwhelmingly from young voters and still younger students who can vote four years from now or who will be old enough to ring doorbells for Muskie as many did for Eugene McCarthy and Robert Kennedy this year. They also come from senior citizens — one man 89 years old said he wanted to live long enough to vote for Muskie for President — and from college presidents, business executives and labor.

It is a remarkable outpouring of good will, admiration and, above all, trust. I doubt that any winning or losing vice presidential nominee has ever received anything like it.

BUT THERE NEVER was a presidential campaign quite like the one this fall in which the man in the second spot, virtually unknown outside of Maine and the Senate when he was chosen, played such a significant role.

After the voters came to realize what Humphrey had given to them in the person of his vice presidential candidate, they greeted him in ever larger numbers, and a Muskie rally became a local event, not just a political chore.

UNQUESTIONABLY, Humphrey bore the heavy burden of a miasmic convention, a deeply divided party and truculent anti-Vietnam demonstrators, especially young people. He was the main target of their hostility and their violence.

But Muskie, in part perhaps because he was second man and perhaps because he was a fresh face and a new force in national politics, has unusual success in quieting and communicating with those who first thought they wanted to shout him down.

And they found after a while they didn't want to shout him down, and on some occasions, when the heckling threatened to break up a rally entirely, Muskie invited the spokesman of the hecklers to share his microphone on the premise he would listen to them if they would listen to him.

They did and, even if they didn't agree with what they heard, they respected the man they were listening to — and trusted him.

THAT WAS the theme of the Muskie campaign — the need, as he once remarked, "to inspire the American people to trust each other, to take chances on each other, to work with each other in order to do the things which must be done to heal the divisions among our people. There is no other way to do it but in the hearts and minds of Americans themselves."

He asked over and over again: "How can we make our democracy work without trust?" And it is apparent that he spoke of trust in a way which made a profound impression.

This was the bread he cast on the troubled campaign waters and it is now returning to him many-fold.

Obviously, there is no predicting what's next for this man, but my judgment is that we will be hearing from Muskie more and more and that he will turn aside nothing which will keep him in the mainstream of his party's future.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

William Bonelli, Forgotten Man —The State Invests His Pension

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The case of William G. Bonelli, California's figurative "man without a country," seems doomed eventually to be forgotten in the cobwebs of time.

But the state controller's office is not forgetting the case, which is wrapped up in peculiar financial fiascos resulting from the vagaries of California law and rulings by attorneys general.

The controller maintains a special "Bonelli Fund," which now has grown to $70,240.50, which is the amount Bonelli, former member of the state Board of Equalization has drawn from the state for retirement benefits.

THE CATCH is that Bonelli hasn't drawn the money, which is impounded by the state controller, and has been ever since the ex-state official put in his bid for the funds on Dec. 1, 1958, more than 10 years ago.

More than 14 years have elapsed since Bonelli's case rocked the state in 1954, when he was defeated for re-election to the board, and subsequently indicted in two counties, Riverside and San Diego, for allegedly accepting under-the-table payments for liquor licenses, which the board at that time dispensed.

The then liquor czar for his district fled to Mexico City, and efforts to return him to California for prosecution under the indictments were unsuccessful, largely on the grounds that Mexico held him to be a political refugee.

Since that time, he has not returned to the United States to the knowledge of authorities. His last known habitat in Mexico, as listed with the controller's office, was Hermosillo.

WHILE BONELLI vegetates in Mexico, now about 75 years of age, his political enemies in California have grown in stature. Former State Controller Alan Cranston, who refused to pay his $445 a month pension, is now United States senator-elect. And former Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, who ruled that Cranston's decision was correct, is now a member of the state supreme court.

The strange thing about the case is that it never has been decided by the courts. A suit filed by Bonelli's lawyers to force payment seems to have disappeared in the limbo of forgotten legal annals, and apparently can't be revived until Bonelli returns to render an accounting.

He allegedly received funds which were supposed to be paid to the state. The figures range all the way from $130,000 to $320,000, and the state treasury isn't likely to see any of it.

Meanwhile, the state treasurer is investing the impounded money that represents Bonelli's state pension, and it is drawing interest, but for Bonelli, but for the state of California.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Novato Students Proud Of School

On behalf of the entire student body at Hill Junior High School in Novato, we would like to inform you and your readers that we are very hurt and upset over an article by Mr. Theron Newell ("Reporter's Notebook") in the Independent-Journal on Dec. 10. We have worked long and hard to make Hill Junior High a school which is second to none and to enhance our image in the community. Now, in one short article, Mr. Newell has unfairly cast derogatory aspersions on our school and its entire student body and staff.

In general, we are disturbed not only about the negative attitude of Mr. Newell's article, but specifically we are upset by such sentences as, "For several years we (?) have heard rumblings of parental discontent in Novato about discipline, especially at Hill Junior High School." The way in which Hill School was singled out in this article would cause the average reader to come to the conclusion that all the problems mentioned in the article are at their worst at Hill. This is simply not true. . . We wonder where Mrs. Newell has been getting his information. We feel very strongly that he has been listening to the verbal, but uninformed few. . . .

Thanks To Two Anonymous Doctors

I write this letter simply to express my gratitude in a small way to the two doctors who stopped to help me after I was involved in an accident in which I was hit by a Grey Line bus on the evening of Oct. 28 on the approach to the Golden Gate Bridge.

I want you to know that your professional attention and especially your personal interest does not go unappreciated. I would like to personally thank you but this is the least I can do for your act of human kindness.

Abuse Of Tenure By Faculty Charged

Too many members of San Francisco State College's faculty are contributing to the disruption of that institution's legitimate activities. A suggestion that they are a "gaggle of learned fools" would be a charitable understatement of another tragic manifestation of decadence in the academic community. From the rich treasury of gutty American invective one could draw a more apt characterization of the puerile posturing of pseudo-scholars.

The continued employment of the poseurs is a flagrant abuse of whatever privilege of tenure may be applicable. To negotiate is to retreat to a position of weakness. Malignancies exist. College authorities must recognize that radical surgery is indicated.

Communication Need Reported

"Sensitivity training" is a type of therapy which has been somewhat surreptitiously, replacing education in Marin County schools (because, its proponents say, "civilization is sick").

Tamalpais Union High School District has a committee studying this matter, not really to investigate it but with an eye to procuring a federal grant to finance its expanded use. All members of the committee are people already involved in its promotion.

Their report says some interesting things.

Let's have a look at some of the communication skills of the committee itself.

"In the sensitivity training group," they write, "attention is focused upon the 'process' (as opposed to a content orientation) and 'feeling' (as opposed to intellectual, theoretical, or cognitive) aspects for the group's interaction. This focus is on the 'here and now' (as opposed to the 'then and there') experiences of the participating individuals, and participation is focused upon the specific and personal (as opposed to the vague and general) experience and interaction."

THIS is communication?

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO
Dec. 16, 1958

Asst. Coach Howard (Red) Hickey replaced Frankie Albert as head coach of the San Francisco 49ers and was given a three-year contract.

Marin County supervisors agreed to buy 600 printed stickers to be issued to disabled persons who qualify for exemption from vehicle parking limitations by county ordinance.

20 YEARS AGO
Dec. 16, 1948

Plans for developing a half-million dollar chiropractic hospital, research center and university at the old Marconi wireless station at Marshall were presented to the Marin County Planning Commission.

Radio and television set dealers predicted that television reception in Marin would be "astoundingly successful" after a week of testing.

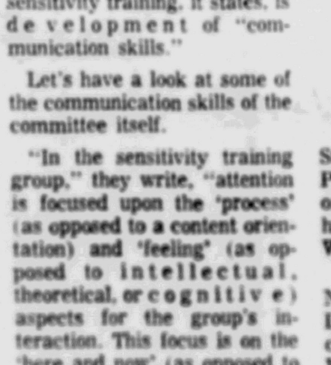
TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

IN GREECE there is a legend about two men who became embroiled in a bitter argument, which culminated when one yanked out the pendulum of a big clock, and killed the other by cracking it down on his skull. The murderer then swallowed a poison pellet, so both belligerents now were dead.

A philosopher, reflecting on the tragedy, remarked, "What a pity violent use was made of the pendulum! given time, it would have killed both men peacefully!"

MOTHER AND father were in the kitchen washing dishes while their two spoiled kids were sprawled out in the living room watching television. Suddenly the kids heard a crash of falling dishes.



They listened eagerly for a few moments, and then the young son declared, "It was Mom." "How do you know?" his sister demanded. "Because," he explained, "she isn't saying anything."

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Thurmond's Former Aide Now White House Link

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

That is the real meaning of Nixon's appointment of Harry Dent, South Carolina GOP chairman, to be an associate White House counsel. The importance of the new President's action goes well beyond the naming of a $20,000-a-year aide.

Officially, Dent will help, at the White House, in the shaping of legislation and do other legal chores. That assignment will make him privy to much of what goes on in the Nixon Administration, especially when respect to plans and programs for consideration by Congress.

Unofficially, Dent will be charged with selling Nixon initiatives to southern lawmakers. He will, of course, work closely with Thurmond — his long-time boss — and their performance could prove to be vitally important for the new President.

WITH CONGRESS controlled by the Democrats, and Democratic majorities in both House and Senate, Nixon will need Democratic votes for all his undertakings with Congress. Very often the conservative southerners will seem to be the most accessible Democrats for the legislative programs of a new Republican President.

On those occasions Dent and Thurmond, with help of a few other southerners such as Sen. John Tower, D-Tex., will be out to harvest the House and Senate votes which, for Nixon, will spell the difference between victory and defeat.

THURMOND'S efforts in behalf of Nixon's candidacy have been widely publicized. At the Republican National Convention it was Thurmond who kept Southern delegations from jumping to the support of California' Gov. Ronald Reagan. In those Miami Beach maneuvers Dent was at Thurmond's elbow, as he had been for most of his adult life. Dent, now only 38, joined the staff of the then Democratic Senator Thurmond when Thurmond first took his Senate seat in January, 1955. He was then fresh from college and an Army stint which included service during the Korean War.

By 1957 he had become Thurmond's top staff aide, the youngest man to be assigned as a senator's administrative assistant. In all, Dent worked with Thurmond, here in Washington, for 10 years. Attending law school at night he acquired bachelor and master of laws degrees.

Youth Clinic Exciting Idea— Not Just A Place To Hang Out

They kept insisting they are drowned with organized play like table tennis and hop scotch and want "something more meaningful, something with a useful purpose." We figured these were just high-sounding phrases to camouflage their desire for licentious behavior, free of adult supervision.

But listen to them plead for a youth clinic, and you begin to realize they are on solid ground, completely in touch with reality, and one step ahead of many of us adults.

WHILE WE THINK in terms of swimming pools, ice cream parlors and gyms to divert their attention, and pray they won't get mixed up with drugs and the wrong crowd, they aren't hung up with such illusions. They accept the fact that they (perhaps not personally, but their friends and acquaintances) are already mixed up with drugs and going with the wrong crowd.

While we start with the premise that most kids are angels, they don't. They look the problems — drugs, unwed mothers, venereal diseases — straight in the face and ask: Where do we go from here?

THEIR YOUTH CLINIC program would work like this: Set up a youth clinic in some large building, take in the runaways, the diseased, the unwed mothers, give them a place to sleep, some warm food, and basic medical attention, with encouragement from others of their own age who understand their problems.

The youth clinic is an exciting concept, which goes one step further than the traditional teen center idea of rock music, dancing, and a forum for small talk.

The youth clinic, if operated along lines envisaged by the youth power leaders, would be more of a crusade for social betterment than just a central location for youth to while away idle hours.

Some of their plans will undoubtedly hit snags, and accomplishments may fall short of goals, but we hope these won't discourage them.

We echo the enthusiasm expressed by members of the county parks and recreation commission. The idea is great; more power to them!

IT'S NOW OFFICIAL — Dogs, no matter how friendly, will not be allowed to participate in the board of supervisors' meetings at the Civic Center.

Chairman Ernest Kettenhofen politely asked for the dog's ouster. "If it's a behaving dog, why not let it stay?" asked Thomas Storer.

"Because it may be followed by a non-behaving dog," replied Peter Behr.

HELP BIAFRA — A medical and pharmaceutical group in Marin is conducting a drive to collect medicines and high protein food for the hungry and ill in Biafra.

Frederick Mayer of San Rafael is chairman of the Marin County Committee to Save Biafran Children. His group is asking Marin doctors to donate non-perishable "samples" and leave them at these collection points: Sausalito Pharmacy, Lawson-Dyer Pharmacy, De Martini Pharmacy, Poehlmann Pharmacy, and Novato Pharmacy.

When Fate Spares Us, There Is That Haunting Question–Why?

One foggy morning recently, a Japan Airlines DC-8 descending into San Francisco Airport made a lovely landing in the gray waters of the bay, just short of the runway.

Newspapers headlined the accident, and because it hadn't resulted in disaster and death, they declared it was a million-to-one occurrence.

By all odds the jet should have burst open like a giant mellon, scattering passengers like seeds. It could have caught an engine pod or wingtip in the water and cartwheeled in a crazy, fantastic display of instant disintegration. It could have dug its nose in the mud abruptly and crushingly, mutilating all on board.

It could have, but it didn't.

Instead there was a smooth, safe landing with the passengers unaware they were becoming a million-to-one event.

I WONDER how many of those passengers, looking back as they must have at the ship lying sullen and dejected in the cold waters of San Francisco Bay, asked themselves the eternal question: Why? Why did I escape? Why was I, at this moment in time, passed by? And why me?

On another crisp, winter dawn, a long time ago, with fog cupped in the valley floor at Chattanooga, Tenn., a C-46, heavily laden with cargo, came in for a landing. Two pilots were aboard and no one else. The approach was routine; everything normal.

Short of the runway, they struck trees and cut a swath through the yellow pines as long as a football field. On the approach end of this particular runway there was a railroad track on a high bed and between it and the landing strip there was a small river.

Striking the tracks, the airplane bounded over the embankment and came to rest, nose in the river and tail sticking high and ignominiously in the air over the railroad bed.

Then the right engine burst into flames.

THE FIRE extinguisher valve was but an arm's length from either of the pilots, yet neither could reach it. The metal of the cockpit had so crunched around them they were unable to move — almost as if they had been wrapped in tinfoil. Horrified, they listened eight feet more to the right, they would have slid into a deep hole that was there and would have drowned.

IT WAS JUST as well they didn't know about the deep hole and the coming train for they were concerned enough with the fire which they were expecting at any moment to reach the fuel tanks and explode. Instead, the plane settled a bit more into the river mud — just enough to put out the fire.

As for the freight train, the tower operator, having seen the accident through the thinning fog, called and had it stopped. Help arrived and with acetylene torches and five hours the two pilots were finally cut free.

There wasn't a scratch on them.

AND AGAIN there came that splendidly winged "why?" In my moments of solitude while studying the veins of a green leaf or listening to the sounds of a forest, I find myself wondering — why?

Debaters To Vie In Yule Tourney

Reagon Wilson and Lee Harris, president and vice president of the San Rafael High School Debate Club, will leave for Toledo, Ohio, during the Christmas holidays to participate in the National Glass City Holiday Forensics Tournament Dec. 26 to 29.

The tournament is expected to attract some 3,000 high school students from throughout the United States.

Wilson and Harris will debate the topic, "Resolved that the U.S. should establish a system of compulsory service for all students." The winning team will receive full tuition scholarships to the University of Toledo, Ohio.

Harris will also compete in the extemporaneous speech division, and Wilson in the original oratory speech category.

The San Rafael High School Key Club and the San Rafael Lions' and Toastmasters clubs are financing the debaters' trips.

Adjourned Meeting

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

When Drinker's Liver Sickens It's Often Too Late To Help

VAN DELLEN

The incidence of cirrhosis of the liver in the United States parallels the consumption of alcohol. Every person who drinks too much should consider the state of his liver.

This largest single organ of the body takes a lot of abuse without complaining, but once it gives up, the situation is hopeless.

In minor or moderate cirrhotic involvement, the outlook is better, provided the disease is treated properly. Potential candidates should take this hint and be examined periodically.

MANY ALCOHOLICS find solace in reports that cirrhosis is not due to booze but to the fact that drinkers usually do not eat properly. Plausible as this sounds, it is hard to ignore the evidence — alcohol is the common denominator in more than 80 per cent of all sufferers of cirrhosis of the liver.

What is even more surprising is that many boozers never get the disease, regardless of their diet. There is a possibility that the liver cells are destroyed by impurities in liquor or by other factors associated with cocktail-circuit living. Or perhaps these people are immune.

AT ANY RATE, heavy drinkers who develop unexplained lassitude, easy fatigability, dyspepsia, or loss of appetite are getting on SOS from their liver. Weight loss and tissue wasting are other warnings. These manifestations are not specific for liver disease, but do demonstrate slight early departures from health that so many cirrhotics tell about — after it is too late.

Eighty per cent of the liver must be destroyed before there are obvious signs of failure. The prevalence of cirrhosis is becoming a serious problem. Among adults, it is the fifth most common cause of death, outranked only by heart disease, cancer, strokes, and accidents.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies requie to the I-J.)

NERVES AND DANDRUFF

M. Y. writes: Is dandruff caused by nerves or germs?

REPLY

Neither — if you refer to ordinary dandruff. Infection plays a role in some instances when the scalp is diseased. White flakes on a navy blue suit are embarrassing but this is the only nervous aspect associated with dandruff.

DOESN'T RINSE DISHES

A reader writes: If dishes are washed with a detergent and not rinsed, will any harm be done to food served on them or to the stomach?

REPLY

The food may have an underlying taste but the stomach won't be harmed. Do you have any special reason for not rinsing the dishes?

SKIPPED BEATS

S. E. writes: Could coffee and cigarettes produce premature contractions of the heart?

REPLY

Yes. This irregularity of the beat occurs when the heart is irritable. Smoking and overindulgence in coffee and tea are known offenders, but occasionally skipped beats develop for no apparent reason. The condition is most troublesome when sitting quietly or lying in bed.

RAYNAUD'S VARIATIONS

T. W. writes: What is the difference between Raynaud's disease, Raynaud's syndrome, and Raynaud's phenomenon?

REPLY

Dr. Maurice Raynaud (1834-1881) first described the condition in which the extremities became cold and numb after exposure to cold or to an emotional upset. Victims with the symptoms exactly as he described have Raynaud's disease. But there are many variations. Modifications of the original symptoms usually are referred to as Raynaud's phenomenon, or syndrome.

Today's Health Hint — Fearfulness clouds good sense.

Sensitivity Program Due Trustee Study

A policy to govern "sensitivity training" sessions which are proposed in the three high schools of Tamalpais High School District will be presented to the district board at its 8 p.m. meeting today in the district office at Redwood High School.

At the same time, a report urging the board to "go slow" on authorizing any such sessions will be presented by an ad h

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KRON (4), 7 p.m. — "Wide Wonderful World" presents "Ski Down the Years," a history of skiing as a sport as pictured by master skier and world-famous photographer John Jay.

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 8 p.m. — Douglas Fairbanks Jr. guest-stars as a wiseman, a toy promotor and a Christmas story reader on "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In."

KRON (4), 9 p.m. — Cliff Robertson (in a dual role) and Dina Merrill star in the espionage drama "Sunshine Patriot." The motion picture showing is a world premiere.

KQED (9), 9 p.m. — "NET Journal" offers "A Plague on Your Children." It is a report on the disturbing, yet little-known development of chemical and biological weapons and their awesome potential.

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 10 p.m. — Opera singers Eileen Farrell and Marilyn Horn provide Christmas music on "The Carol Burnett Show."

KPIX (5), 12:30 a.m. — David Niven, Teresa Wright and Evelyn Keyes star in the dramatic motion picture "Enchantment."

TELEVISION REVIEW

Nilsson—New Musical Artist On The Horizon

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Nilsson. It's a splendid name. When I first heard of the contemporary musical artist who bears that name, I imagined a gaunt Swedish mystic who spoke only in parables. The rumors among Hollywood insiders heightened the mystique. Nilsson? Genius, they said. Nilsson? In a class by himself, added the tough guys.

Nilsson has a first name, but why ruin the mystique by spreading it around: Mystiques are too few and far between in modern Hollywood. I did, however, want to tell you about this singular composer, performer and singer—but as you know, in my line of work I need a television angle, and I'm happy to say I found one. He did the score for the pilot of a planned ABC-TV series, "The Courtship of Eddie's Father." Well that takes care of the television angle.

The first thing you have to do regarding Nilsson is go out and buy his first album, "Pandemonium Shadow Show." The second thing you have to do is go out and buy his second album, "Aerial Ballet," which is marvelous. The feeling among industry insiders is that RCA, for whom he records, should have achieved enormous public recognition for this piece of work. RCA, however, apparently has learned its lesson. It considers him a multi-million-dollar property, which is precisely correct.

Nilsson is not at all a gaunt Swedish mystic. He came from Brooklyn. He is 27 years old, blond, lanky, loose and well-built, and has been described as looking like Mike Nichols in a David McCallum haircut.

Woman's Screams Rout Attacker

Police said Mary Ann Hartman of 8 Charlotte Drive was jumped from behind by a man at 2:30 a.m. as she was unlocking her apartment door after returning home from work.

The assailant was described as 5 feet 7 inches tall with black curly hair, wearing a blue jacket, green slacks and suede shoes, police said.

Trustees To Hear Land Swap Request

A request by Fairfax developer Mathew Farr to exchange a small piece of his property adjacent to White Hill School for similar school property will be considered by the Fairfax School District board at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow in the district office.

Dr. H. Reginald Hammond, district superintendent, said that Farr earlier made an exchange of property with the district because a road running to his development encroached on school land. He now wants to make an additional exchange, Hammond said.

Raiders Hold On To Edge Chargers, Tie With Chiefs

Oakland Playoff Sunday

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The Oakland Raiders don't seem to do anything the easy way. They beat Buffalo by three points, Denver by six and the San Diego Chargers by seven.

But those last three games helped the Raiders (12-2) tie Kansas City for the Western Division lead in the American Football League.

The two clubs meet next Sunday at Oakland for the right to play New York, winner in the East, for the AFL championship.

DOWN TO WIRE

Raider Coach John Rauch, after yesterday's come-from-behind 34-27 victory over the Chargers in San Diego Stadium, indicated what type of game he expects against the Chiefs.

"It looks like we have to play this type game right down to the wire," he said.

Some Raiders thought Rodger Bird's touchdown return of 22 yards on an interception, giving Oakland their first lead 17-13 early in the third quarter, was the turning point.

But Rauch said, "The big ones were Dave Grayson's interception and the two big passes Daryl Lamonica threw to Charlie Smith and Warren Wells."

Grayson's interception stopped a third-quarter Charger drive and set up Lamonica's third touchdown pass of the day —a 40-yard toss to swift halfback Charlie Smith, who had beaten middle linebacker Chuck Allen on a mismatch that Rauch said was in his game plan.

RACE

And Wells outraced Jim Tolbert to haul in a Lamonica pass on a Raider scoring play that covered 55 yards.

"We were saving those plays to Wells and Smith until we got field position," said Lamonica, "and they worked."

Grayson, who led the league with 10 interceptions, doesn't mind the close scores, as long as the Raiders win.

"When you win it makes it easier to play the next game," Grayson said. "Those guys on the Chargers have too much pride. We knew they'd be after us."

In the end it was up to the Raider defense to stop the Chargers after San Diego rookie Ken Dwyer fell on a fumbled punt in the end zone for a touchdown and a seven-point San Diego deficit with 10 minutes to play.

'BEAT-UP'

But defensive end Ben Davidson and other Raiders were able to stop the Chargers.

"We're tired and beat up," Davidson said. "I'm beat. I'm down 10 pounds to 255."

Charger flanker Lance Alworth, who won the AFL pass-catching title with 68 catches for 1,312 yards by grabbing five for 80 yards against Oakland, believes the Raiders will catch their breath.

"It's really hard to choose," said Alworth of the impending Raider-Chief fray. "The Chiefs have tremendous talent but the Raiders have been winning on guts all year."

WILLARD'S BIGGEST DAY

A 49er Winning Season

ATLANTA (AP) — The way the San Francisco 49ers finished the National Football League season looked like just another instant replay.

San Francisco, led by fullback Willard, came from behind in the second quarter against Atlanta and played to a scoreless tie in the second half to top the Falcons 14-12 yesterday.

The victory gave San Francisco a final record of 7-6-1, not much different than five of the previous seven seasons. Except for 1963, when they were 2-12, and 1964, when they were 4-10, the 49ers have barely managed to break even.

Last year they were 7-7, hardly improving on their 1966 record of 6-6-2. In 1965 and 1961 they were 7-6-1 as in this season, and in 1962 they finished at 6-8. Team spokesmen keep talking about rebuilding but, the more things change, the more they stay the same.

Willard steamed for 69 yards and one touchdown in the 20-degree weather, then plunged one yard for San Francisco's other tally. He rolled up 162 yards in 25 carries to finish the season with 967 yards.

Only moments earlier Burson had been the hero, intercepting a John Brodie pass and racing 73 yards to score. The 49ers blocked Carl Etter's try for the extra point so, when the Atlanta kicker booted field goals of 33 and 39 yards, it gave the Falcons a 12-7 second-quarter lead.

Willard's second touchdown in effect ended the offensive battle for the day although Atlanta did threaten in the final quarter.

"I said to myself I have to get that ball," Witcher recalled. "Brodie threw a fine pass but the wind caught it slightly and I had to turn back in order to make the catch. I knew that I simply had to do it."

The 49ers' defensive line, led by Charlie Krueger, turned in a key play in the fourth quarter by dropping Falcon quarterback Randy Johnson for a 12-yard loss after Atlanta had driven to the 49ers' 18, mostly on a 60-yard pass to Ray Odgen.

It was the fourth time Johnson was spilled in the game and the 69th time this season that an Atlanta quarterback had been caught for a loss, setting an NFL record.

Willard received the game ball but gave it to John David Crow, who played his last game of an 11-year career.

Seals Lead 3-0; Pow! Lose 7-4

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Oakland Seals, shocked by an aroused Chicago Black Hawk team, take on the Minnesota North Stars in a National Hockey League contest tomorrow night.

The Seals, in third place a point ahead of Minnesota in the west Division, took a 3-0 lead over Chicago last night before the roof caved in.

AAU CHAMPIONSHIP

Marin Runners Win Marathon

Doug Butt's third place finish led the Marin Athletic Club to the team championship yesterday in the fourth annual Pacific Association, Amateur Athletic Union marathon at Petaluma.

The individual championship went to Byron Lowry of San Jose State's cross country team who outran 103 other finishers. He covered the 26-mile, 385-yard course in 2 hours, 30 minutes and 41 seconds.

Second place went to Bob Waldron, running unattached from the University of California at Berkeley, in 2:31.1, followed by Butt's 2:31.22 clocking over a circular course that started in Petaluma, touched into Marin County, and finished in Petaluma.

Heavy rains and winds buffeted the runners throughout most of the race. More than 200 started and 104 finished.

Other runners who helped Marin A.C. to their championship, their times and places, were: Daryl Beardall, 2:36.48, 7th; E. W. Hildreth, 2:41.8, 11th; Raymond Menzie, 2:41.58, 12th; and John Noonan, 2:42.12, 13th. The first five finishers for each team count in team standings.

Lowry is a newcomer to distance running in Northern California. Last August the 21-year-old San Jose State senior won fastest time trophy in the historic Dipsea Race, 6.9 miles from Mill Valley to Stinson Beach.

Walter Stack of San Francisco, at 60, was the oldest finisher and the youngest was Sean Cochran, 10, of Redwood City.

Following Lowry, Waldron and Butt among the top 10 finishers, and their times, were: Skip Houk, Reno, 2:33.35; Darold Dent, San Jose, 2:34.52; Darren George, Angwin, Calif., 2:35.23; Beardall, 2:36.48— Richard Delgado, Berkeley, 2:37.15; Steve Dean, Carmichael, 2:37.34; and H. O. Riordan, San Jose, 2:40.49.

Grappler Scores Fast Fall

Mike Wong of San Rafael High School, competing in the 103-pound class, pinned his opponent in 33 seconds to win a trophy for scoring the fastest fall Saturday in a novice school wrestling tournament hosted by Novato High.

There were 124 entries from seven schools, including Novato, San Marin of Novato, Redwood of Larkspur, Terra Linda, San Rafael, Tamalpais of Mill Valley and Montgomery of Santa Rosa.

Lowell Cagers Take Drake Tourney Title

By GARY TISCHLER

Lowell High School's basketball team, which came into the tournament winless in in four starts, struck it rich last Saturday, just shading Novato, 50-47, to capture the Drake Invitational Basketball Tournament for the second straight year.

The Indians from San Francisco made the once-beaten Hornets their third straight victims after wins over previously unbeaten Petaluma Friday and once-beaten Terra Linda Wednesday.

BOUNCES BACK

Petaluma bounced back to hold off Drake, 88-75, in a wild-scoring game for third place. Terra Linda easily downed Napa, 59-55, for the consolation title and Redwood of Larkspur overcame Marysville stalling tactics to win, 41-26, for seventh place.

Lowell landed three players on the all-tournament team, including most valuable player Gordon Glasgow, a 6-5 center, as well as guards Ron Mosley and Bill Leong. Host team Drake has two — guard Dave Alvarado and center Fred Westcott. Novato landed the one-two scoring punch of Steve McNalley and Ed Herrnberger. Others named to the ten-man team were Petaluma whiz Pete Daggett, Terra Linda center Mike Timmel, and Napa shooter Kirk Schultz.

STYLE

Lowell's title was a triumph of style over talent. Again playing its deliberate style of set-'em-up basketball and catering to its giant front wall, Lowell broke away from a one-point lead early in the final period.

Novato got back into the game when Gene Barnes made a couple of steals and lean-bean sophomore center Don LaFerriere, who stands 6-7, came into the game to grab three rebounds and hit on two baskets to tie it at 47-47 with 1:23 left.

The Hornets played for the last shot twice, but missed the first time and had it blocked the second time. In the interim, Mosley hit a free throw and Bill

Marin Catholic In Bottom Spot

Marin Catholic of Kentfield finished dead last in the eight-team St. Elizabeth High School Invational Basketball Tournament after suffering its third straight loss, 73-49, to Mira Monte High of Walnut Creek Saturday at Oakland.

Oakland won the championship by defeating host St. Elizabeth's in Saturday night's finals.

Marin Catholic	8	19	15	—49
Mira Monte	15	18	20	—73

Sacramento Team Wins Tar Tourney

American River Junior College of Sacramento, blew a 14-point lead, then had to rally to carve out a 77-72 win over surprisingly tough Napa Junior College in the finals of the College of Marin Invitational Basketball Tournament Saturday.

Reedley J.C. captured third place with a 109-87 triumph over Yuba and Sierra, of Rocklin, took the consolation title, whipping Santa Rosa Junior College, 101-83.

College of Marin was not around for the finish, dropping its first two tourney games, to Napa and Sierra.

Clark headed the all-tourney team, which also featured Phil Wash and Bill Steinmetz of American River, Wayne Aalto and Jim Mitchell of Reedley, and Cliff Sweney of Sierra.

Eight team records and seven individual marks were set in the three-day tournament.

Redwood Profs Take On Oneders

Redwood High School faculty will play the Radio KYA Oneders basketball team in exhibition game tonight, 8:15, at the Redwood gymnasium in Larkspur.

Undefeated in nine games this season and in 29 in a streak dating back to last year, the Oneders have five players averaging in double-figures, led by Don Delbon with 21.7 points per game. Don Nowitsky 21, Johnny Holliday 18, Breck McClaran 16.4 and Sal Bando, third baseman for the Oakland Athletics, with 10.9.

Holliday, who lives in Thuron, is one of four members of KYA's 10-man roster who reside in Marin County. The others are Bud O'Shea and Tom Sgro of San Rafael and Sam Saramiti of Mill Valley.

The barnstorming KYA team has raised $11,500 for charity thus far this season.

Ashe Wins; Graebner Not On Team

BRISBANE, Australia (UPI) —The United States will walk away with the Davis Cup later this month if Arthur Ashe and Stan Smith go after the Australian opposition the way they tear apart each other's game.

America's premier tennis stars staged a 55-game, three-hour and 15-minutes marathon yesterday before Ashe came up with a 6-4, 1-6, 9-7, 4-6, 7-5 victory in the title round of the Queensland Men's singles championships.

Ashe, an Army Lieutenant from Richmond, Va., really never extended himself with the famed cannon ball serve because of a sore elbow. Still, the wily Ashe was extremely accurate on placement shots that finally wore down his opponent from Pasadena.

Smith and Ashe were named to the Davis Cup team by Captain Donald Dell yesterday, along with Bob Lutz and the surprise nomination of Charlie Pasarell over Clark Graebner.

Former Champion Willard, 86, Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jess Willard, the giant boxer who was The Great White Hope of those who wanted the world's heavyweight title taken from Negro champion Jack Johnson, is dead at 86.

The 230-pound Willard lost his title four years later to Jack Dempsey. It was 45 years after that before boxing experts, studying films, acknowledged Willard's greatness.

He died yesterday in Pacoima Memorial Lutheran Hospital of a cerebral hemorrhage following treatment for a heart attack. His wife Hattie was by his side.

STARTS AT 30

In 1911, at the age of 30, Willard began a boxing career from which he retired 12 years later.

Johnson was champion when Willard became a boxer, in Willard's words, because "everyone was looking for what they called a white hope."

Controversy over the fight started five years later when Johnson, broke and living in Paris, sold a magazine article in which he claimed he took a dive in Havana.

Willard denied it. He said he beat Johnson "fair and square and knocked him out with a right hand punch."

In the Broadway play, the Johnson-like hero agrees to take a dive before the fight, but changes his mind in the ring and admits he was fairly beaten.

FILMS

"I always said," Willard once commented," if he was going to quit, why did he wait 26 rounds, one hour and 44 minutes, under a sun that was 115 degrees hot, to quit? Or wait five years to say he took a dive?"

Proof of Willard's skill came 45 years after the big bout because a law prohibiting interstate shipment of prizefight films.

When experts viewed the movies in later years, along with films of Willard's other fights, they agreed that he was an excellent boxer with a punch, not the awkward giant some pictured him to be.

"I'm glad some of these things finally came out, even it it was 45 years too late," Willard said recently.

When he lost the title to Dempsey in 1919 more controversy ensued. Again it was a broiling hot day—July 4 in Toledo, Ohio.

BROKEN JAW

Willard, who had never been knocked off his feet, was floored by Dempsey seven times in the first round. By the fourth round, Willard, with a broken jaw and cheek bones, one eye closed, was unable to get off his stool.

Films showed that Dempsey stood over the fallen Willard and hit him before he could get to his feet.

"I'd say," commented Willard, "the referee didn't exactly give me the best of it."

All his life, Willard contended that Dempsey's gloves—or at least the left one which did all the damage—contained something more than the usual padding.

He blamed Dempsey's manager, the late Jack Kearns. Kearns joked off the accusation, telling The Associated Press: "Naw, I didn't use plaster of Paris on the bandages. It was cement."

CIRCUS

Willard's colorful career included a tour with the old Sells Floto Circus and another circus which he eventually bought and a brief career in silent movies.

After he retired from the ring he made some unlucky investments in oil, real estate and a supermarket. But in spite of losses, Jess and Hattie salvaged their home and some rental property. They lived comfortably in suburban La Crescenta and Sunland.

In his last years he suffered from chronic heart trouble. He was hospitalized and released early in the week, but returned to the hospital Saturday.

The Willards had two sons, Jess Jr. and Alan, who live with their families in the metropolitan Los Angeles area.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

GAME BATTLES

Drake put up a game battle against Petaluma, after trailing by 21 points. The Pirates got to within eight points in the third quarter behind Clark Jamison, who scored 22 points, but they couldn't close the gap.

The Petalumans, with Daggett scoring 24 points, 19 in the first half, broke to a 53-34 halftime lead.

Terra Linda used substitutes through most of the final period after leading by as much as 19 points against Napa.

Injured Bruin Gridder Home At Christmas?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA sophomore football center John Chrestman, seriously injured in the UCLA-Tennessee game, may be able to leave a Los Angeles hospital and go home for Christmas.

Chrestman was transferred to the UCLA Medical Center from a Knoxville, Tenn., hospital several weeks ago. His neck is still partly paralyzed but he is gradually regaining control, said Vic Kelley, UCLA sports publicist.

Kelley said. "He showed marked signs of progress in the last four or five days."

It's John David Crow's Last Game

ATLANTA (UPI) — One doesn't often run into much sentiment in the tough world of professional football. But then, it isn't often that the likes of John David Crow reaches the end of the line.

Crow, the all-American from Texas A&M who spent 11 seasons as a headliner in the National Football League, was calling it quits. He was going back home to Pine Bluff, Ark., and maybe live the life of a businessman.

"This is it," Crow said yesterday after he and the other San Francisco 49ers had closed out another season by beating the Atlanta Falcons 14-12. "I'm not just saying that was my last game: it was my last game.

"It's been a great 11 years," Crow said. "I only hope I have put back into the game a little of what I have gotten out of it."

Ken Willard said it best for his teammates. He took the game ball which had been presented to him for his star ring role in the win over the Falcons and handed it to Crow as a going away present.

"I'm going back to Pine Bluff and put my business affairs in order," Crow said. "I'd like to get a job handling color for radio or television—something that would keep me close to the game that has been so much of my life since I was just a kid."

How about coaching, Crow was asked. "I haven't definitely ruled out coaching," he replied. "I suppose it depends on how I feel in August.

"It doesn't bother me now, but I know it will be hard come fall."

Crow has plenty to keep him busy back in Pine Bluff. He's president of an insurance business and distributor for a gasoline company there.

"But, you've got to realize that I've been playing football since I was seven years old—that's been a quarter of a century," Crow continued. "It's not easy to change the habits of a lifetime."

Crow won the Heisman Trophy while playing under Bear Bryant at Texas A&M and was a professional star from the start. His two biggest seasons were 1960 when he rushed for 1,071 yards and 1962 when he scored 17 touchdowns.

Willard, a 225-pound four-year veteran from the University of North Carolina, had his best day as a pro Sunday. He gained 162 yards rushing to fall only 33 short of a 1,000-yard season and scored both of the 49ers touchdowns—the first on a 69-yard burst up the middle.

"That was my longest touchdown run since I was in high school," Willard said. "It was certainly my best day, at least in yardage, in pro football."

Willard once had said that he wanted to play for an Eastern team in order to be closer to his Richmond, Va. home.

"I'd still like to play in the East," he said. "But this is an improving team with a genuine belief that we are going to be a winner. I'm happy playing in San Francisco and I'd like to stay here until the 49ers are a winner."

Fresno Wins State J.C. Grid Title

It rained all week. Ratcliffe Stadium looked like a pile of quicksand Saturday as Fresno's Rams took control in the second quarter and rolled past East Los Angeles 16-7.

The game ended an 11-game East Los Angeles winning streak and was the first defeat of the season for the Huskies.

Freshman Vic Lamanuzzi, undaunted by all the muck and goo, raced for 170 yards on 32 carries and gained almost as many yards as the entire Huskie offense. Quarterback Chris Jaramillo of the losers passed only seven times, completing one for 38 yards.

Broncos Win Cage Tourney

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Santa Clara Broncos' timber-tall front line powered them to a championship in the Cable Car Classic — and a probable top-10 rating among the nation's basketball teams.

The undefeated Broncos, No. 16 going into the tournament, whipped No. 12 Houston in the semi-finals and followed up with a 78-56 trouncing of University of San Francisco for the title.

The final game was dominated by Santa Clara's tall Ogden brothers, Bud and Ralph, and 6-foot-10 center Dennis Awtrey.

Bud Ogden scored eight points during a 10-point surge that lifted Santa Clara into a commanding lead early in the game. Bud was voted the most valuable player in the tournament.

Also on the all-star squad were Awtrey, Pete Cross and Curtis Hinton of USF and Houston's Olympic Games center, Ken Spain.

AFL ROUNDUP

Raiders Now Wait For Chiefs

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a bird, it was a plane. Well, for Oakland, it was a Bird—Rodger Bird flying down the sideline with an intercepted pass to spark the Raiders into a playoff for the American Football League's Western Division title.

"That put us ahead and pepped us up," Coach John Rauch said yesterday of Bird's 22-yard touchdown run with the interception that put Oakland ahead of San Diego 17-13 and keyed the Raiders to a 34-27 victory.

Oakland finished its regular season with a 12-2 record and in a first place tie in the West with Kansas City, which trounced Denver 30-7 Saturday.

The Raiders will play Kansas City in Oakland next Sunday for the right to meet the Jets, Eastern Division champions, for the AFL title in New York Dec. 29.

New York closed out its regular schedule yesterday with a 31-7 romp over Miami, and, in the only other game, Houston trounced Boston 45-17.

Mat Snell, Emerson Boozer and Bill Mathis ran for touchdowns and Babe Parilli passed for one as the Jets rolled over Miami, which played without injured quarterback Bob Griese who was replaced by Rick Norton and rookie Kim Hammong. Larry Csonka bulled one yard for Miami's touchdown.

Leading 21-17 in the third period, Houston broke its game open with touchdown runs by Hoyle Granger and Woody Campbell, a score on an interception by Ken Houston and Wayne Walker's field goal. Granger also ran for a touchdown and Don Trull passed for two more for the Oilers. Tom Sherman passed for both Boston touchdowns.

Mississippi Wins Liberty Bowl From Virginia Tech

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Virginia Tech caught Mississippi off guard with the Deacon Special but then outsmarted themselves with an onside kick in the Liberty Bowl, the first of the major postseason attractions.

Ole Miss Coach John Vaught says the onside kick turned the game around Saturday and started the Rebels toward their 34-17 victory, their ninth postseason bowl triumph against seven losses.

The Gobblers tried the onside kick with a 17-0 lead in the nationally televised game at Memphis, Tenn. But the ball failed to go the required 10 yards and the Rebels took over on the Tech 48.

The Gobblers' first score came in an explosive second quarter when quarterback Al Kincaid picked up the ball on the line of scrimmage and pitched it to Ken Edwards who dashed 58 yards to score. The play worked against the Wake Forest Deacons in 1964 and Tech dubbed it the Deacon Special.

Ole Miss rallied to clobber the Gobblers with scoring passes of 21 and 35 yards by Archie Manning and a 79-yard run by Steve Hindman for the go-ahead touchdown. Bob Bailey wrapped it up by running 70 yards with an intercepted pass in the final period.

Elsewhere, the small colleges had their day in a line-up of post-season classics ranging from the Camelia Bowl in Saramento, to the indoor Boardwalk Bowl in Atlantic City, N.J.

Humboldt State downed Fresno State 29-14 in the Camelia Bowl while Delaware pulled out a 31-24 victory over Indiana University of Pennsylvania in the Boardwalk Bowl in Atlantic City Convention Hall.

North Dakota State held off Arkansas State 23-14 in the Pecon Bowl at Arlington, Tex., and Louisiana Tech walloped Akron 33-13 in the Grantland Rice Bowl at Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Byrd fired five touchdown passes in a 43-35 decision over Texas A&I.

Two other Little All-Americans shone in the Pecan Bowl. Halfback Paul Hatchett of top-ranked North Dakota State gained 106 yards and was named the outstanding offensive player while Arkansas State linebacker Bill Bergery figured in 21 tackles and intercepted two passes to win defensive honors.

Louisiana Tech's Terry Bradshaw showed how he became the NCAA College Division total offense leader as the Bulldogs drubbed Akron. Bradshaw completed 19 of 33 passes for 261 yards and two touchdowns and scored twice himself.

Delaware fell behind 24-23 on Bob Tate's 33-yard field goal with a minute to play. But the Blue Hens pulled it out when Don DiMuzio passed nine yards to Ron Withelder with 15 seconds left.

Three field goals in the second quarter by quarterback David Banducci made the difference for Humbolt State. Banducci also threw a four-yard touchdown pass in the final period.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

A higher backswing has some built-in risks, but it will give you added speed if you feel that is necessary. The angle shown in today's illustration indicates the maximum height you should allow your swing to reach, however. With this much swing, it will be doubly important to keep your arm straight and close to your body to avoid looping the ball behind you.

NFL HIGHLIGHTS

Vikings Win Playoff Spot

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Don Horn started the day backing up Green Bay's back-up quarterback and wound up throwing the Chicago Bears for a fatal loss.

He had an unlikely band of Packer-backers from Minnesota behind him all the way.

Horn, activated Saturday night by the Packers as standby for Zeke Bratkowski, Bart Starr's relief pitcher, came off the bench yesterday and keyed a 28-27 triumph over Chicago that knocked the Bears out of the National Football League championship picture.

RALLY

But the Vikings, who followed the Green Bay-Chicago game via clubhouse radio after the finish of their game, had to sweat out a furious Bear charge in the final minutes before nailing their first division title in eight years as a NFL expansion franchise.

In yesterday's other regular season finales, Baltimore edged Los Angeles 28-24, Dallas thumped New York 28-10, Washington topped Detroit 14-3, San Francisco nipped Atlanta 14-12 and New Orleans trimmed Pittsburgh 24-14. St. Louis upended Cleveland 27-16 Saturday.

Dallas meets the Browns in Cleveland next Saturday for the Eastern Conference title and the Vikings and Colts collide at Baltimore the following day for the Western crown.

Horn, released from the Army just 10 days ago, entered the Packers-Bears scrap with Chicago leading 10-7 in the first quarter after Bratkowski, who had started in place of the injury-plagued Starr, was shaken up.

NO. 1 PICK

The 23-year-old San Diego State alumnus, Green Bay's No. 1 draft choice last year, uncorked a 67-yard touchdown pass to Jim Grabowski and then set up Chuck Mercein's one-yard scoring plunge with a 45-yard pass to Boyd Dowler as the Packers grabbed a 21-10 halftime lead.

Horn capped an 83-yard third quarter drive with a 25-yard TD strike to Dowler, boosting the margin to 28-10, before the Bears struck back.

Ronnie Bull's eight-yard touchdown run and Mac Percival's 26-yard field goal closed the gap to 28-20 and Dick Gordon grabbed a 51-yard TD pass from Jack Concannon with 3:58 remaining in the game. Percival's conversion left the Bears one point back.

The Packers, unable to move the ball after the kickoff, were forced to punt. Chicago stormed back to a first down on the Packer 43 with 1:19 to play, but Concannon was thrown for a five-yard loss, two passes failed and Ray Nitschke intercepted Concannon's desperate fourth down toss, sealing the Bears' fate.

PRAISE

Then the Packer pilot, whose club finished 6-7-1 and out of the money this season after winning three consecutive NFL championships, praised third string quarterback Horn.

"Here's a boy who merely knew what we had to do but hadn't practiced it," Bengston said. "He's a cool customer. That's why we drafted him No. 1. He did as good a job as we could have expected from Bart Starr under the circumstances."

Joe Kapp, Minnesota's unsuing quarterback, led the Vikings past the stubborn Eagles, firing a pair of scoring passes and running for a third touchdown.

He hit Bill Brown for a 57-yard touchdown bomb in the second period, tossed a 30-yard payoff pitch to Gene Washington in the third and wrapped it up with a two-yard scoring jaunt in the fourth.

Johnny Unitas, sidelined by an elbow ailment most of the season, engineered two second half touchdown drives at Los Angeles, leading the Colts to their eighth straight victory and a 13-1 finish.

He took over for Earl Morrall, who had thrown a 61-yard touchdown pass to Preston Pearson, and flipped nine yards to Pearson for one score before setting up the winning points with 37 and 11-yard strikes.

MORTON

Craig Morton replaced ineffective Don Meredith for the Cowboys in the second quarter at New York and paced the Capitol Division kings to their 11th victory against two setbacks. He ran for one touchdown and threw a 13-yard TD pass to Bob Hayes, who also scored on a 63-yard punt runback.

Harry Theofiledes, Washington's third-string signal caller, drove the Redskins to two touchdowns in the last five minutes to overcome Detroit.

Rookie defensive back Jim Smith of the 'Skins suffered a broken neck in a first half collision with a teammate. The team physician said Smith should recover without permanent injury.

The Saints toppled the Steelers behind the strong passing of Bill Kilmer, who connected for 291 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

Dads, Kids Happy; Huck Finn Is Late

NEW YORK (UPI)—This time it was Huck Finn, not Heidi, waiting in the wings.

One month ago NBC cut away from the last 55 seconds of the Oakland Raiders-New York Jets football game with the Jets leading 32-29. The game seemed in hand and the network had Heidi, a long-awaited special of the children's classic, ready to roll at 7 p.m. EST.

Oakland fouled the strategy by scoring two touchdowns in the closing seconds to beat the Jets, and NBC apologized after the nation's football fans flooded the network's switchboards with complaints.

Yesterday it was Huckleberry Finn, and NBC was taking no chances. Oakland was playing San Diego and needed a victory to clinch a tie for the American Football League's Western Division championship. The Raiders led 34-27 at 7 p.m., but the Chargers were threatening an upset that would have given the crown to the Kansas City Chiefs.

NBC's decision was to stay with football—and they did, for nine extra minutes.

In fact, none of NBC's Sunday night programming did. Everything after Huck ran nine minutes late, too.

NBC said its decision to delay all programs rather than cutting was unprecedented for the network.

Warriors Can't Do Any Worse

NEW YORK (AP)—No matter what the San Francisco Warriors do tonight against the New York Knicks, it'll probably be better than what they did Saturday night in Philadelphia.

The loss dropped the Warriors' record to 13-18 for the season. They are fourth in the Western Division.

"It's the same old thing," said Warrior Coach George Lee.

"Nate Thurmond hurt himself again against Boston and all he did against Philly was stand around. He couldn't run or jump.

"And besides Nate, Clyde Lee and Jeff Mullins didn't play. Clyde has tendonitis in his heel, and Jeff got kicked in the ankle against the Celtics.

We sent Clyde home and, if Nate doesn't get better, we'll send him home too," Lee lamented.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mars and and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1773 the Boston Tea Party took place. American patriots, dressed like Indians, boarded a British vessel in Boston Harbor and threw 342 chests of tea overboard to protest taxation.

In 1835 property loss was placed at $20-million when a fire broke out in New York City. It was so bad a fire that Philadelphia firemen were called to assist.

In 1944 the Germans launched their last great World War II attack with the Battle of the Bulge in Belgium.

In 9165 some 15,000 persons were feared dead when a cyclone hit Pakistan.

A thought for the day: Henry Louis Mencken said: "Injustice is relatively easy to beat, what stings is justice."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

This Series Geared To Help Clear Responses To No-trump

How should you respond to your partner's opening bid of one no-trump? Most players find the answer by guess and by golly, sometimes landing on their feet, but just as often on their noses. This week's articles may supply the guessers with some helpful suggestions.

OPENING BID

South's opening bid of one no-trump promises 16 to 18 points in high cards. North can afford to pass with seven points (or less) since the partnership total cannot reach the 26 points usually needed for game.

In today's hand, North should raise to two no-trump with his eight points. This invites South to go on to game if he has 17 or 18 points, but allows him to pass if he has only 16 points. In this case South has only 16 points and should therefore pass, refusing the invitation.

South needs three diamond tricks to make his contract. He can easily win these tricks if each opponent has three diamonds, since then South's last diamond will become good, but he must be careful if the diamonds break 4-2.

BEST TECHNIQUE

The best technique is to take the first spade trick with dummy's king in order to lead a low diamond toward the two honors in the South hand. East plays low, and South wins with the king.

On the assumption that East has the ace (or West would have taken the first diamond trick), South leads a heart to dummy's king to return another low diamond. East must play the ace, and now South easily wins a diamond trick with dummy's queen and another with his own jack.

DIAMOND TRICKS

This method allows declarer to win three diamond tricks, if the singleton or doubleton ace must play immediately ahead of the hand with two diamond honors. If this is not the case, South must hope for a 3-3 break in diamonds.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ Q 10 8 7
♡ Q J 9
◇ 10 9 7 3
♣ Q 10

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

Since you have only seven points, the combined count is only 25 points at most, and you need 26 points to have a reasonable play for game. If your partner is a very fine player, you might count this as an eight-point hand because of the wealth of tens and nines; and you would then raise to 2 no-trump.

Union Oil To Begin Building Sir Francis Drake Station

Construction is scheduled to begin on the long sought service station of Union Oil Co. at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo (Red Hill Shopping Center) early in January—with completion expected about 60 days after that.

Meanwhile optometrist Dr. Gar C. May, who has his offices at 1129 Fourth Street, San Rafael, has leased 1,100 square feet for a second office at Red Hill through Tom Ireland of Grubb and Ellis.

Red Hill still has 3,000 square feet unleased that is roofed over but unfinished inside, and also the 5,000-square foot location near Sonoma Avenue formerly occupied by House and Gardens. Still another 5,000 square feet is projected for another building for a bank adjoining the Safeway Store.

FORMER LARKSPUR RESIDENT Bruce Sedley, who has been general manager of the security control division of Card Key Systems, Inc. in Brubank for the past year, has been appointed director of advertising and product planning for Liquidonics Industries, Inc., western division. Card Key is a subsidiary of Liquidonics. A former radio, television and motion picture producer, Sedley developed several audio publicity and guide systems while he was living in Marin.

DARRELL L. CRAEMER of Marinwood has been appointed a realty negotiator for Safeway Stores and will handle leases and land purchases for new store locations. He and his family will move to the Washington area after the first of the year. He has spent the last two years as a real estate analyst in the development department at Safeway's Oakland headquarters. He joined the firm in 1962 as a retail food clerk in the San Francisco division.

Market Is Setback In Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed with a substantial loss today. Trading was active.

The pace quickened near the end as the ticker tape ran late and prices grew weaker.

The market rose at the start as it followed up on Friday's brisk rally. Little in the way of bullish news appeared, however, so traders took profits.

Prices near the close included:

Occidental Petroleum, down about 2 points, was boosted to the top of the most-active list by a block of 144,100 shares. American Cement, a fractional loser, also was among the volume leaders, thanks to a big block, this one of 99,000 shares.

Paper Firm Is Growing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Do you think it is a good idea at this time to buy International Paper Co.?—M.R.

A. International Paper's decision to step up its participation in the health-care industry has broadened its appeal as a growth issue. The recently completed acquisition of Davol, Inc., included a 10 per cent ownership of C.R. Bard, a hospital specialty product manufacturer. More significant, however, IP has acquired Davol's well-established marketing network, which will be of great value in the distribution of its new line of nonwoven hygiene products.

IP's Long Bell division has experienced a strong demand this year for its building products. Construction of a new plant and an acquisition will expand the building materials segment of IP. A portion of the 6.5 million acres owned by IP has, because of shifting demographic patterns, become more valuable for real-estate development than for timber farming. In order to exploit the full potential of these holdings, the American Central Corp., a land development company, has been acquired.

Despite the growing recognition of IP's potential — as witness its strong uptrend this year — shares still do not command an excessive multiple; thus, purchases for future capital gains are advised.

High Winds Snap Roof Off Lodge

Winds clocked at up to 100 miles an hour yesterday morning snapped the roof off a wing of the Tiburon Lodge and blew trees and utility wires down throughout Marin as heavy rain flooded homes and triggered minor slides. (See pictures, page 6.)

The 100-by-30-foot tar, gravel and timber roof on the south wing of the lodge blew off like an airplane wing at 9:54 a.m., and smashed down into the center patio and swimming pool.

Damage to the lodge, including to six other rooms, was estimated at $100,000 by Ben A Farlatti, operator of the lodge at 1651 Tiburon Boulevard.

One young girl occupying one of the topless rooms said it sounded "like the whole world exploded" as the roof tore away, Farlatti reported. Pieces of the roof were blown several hundred feet to the north, and some richocheted off the east side of the east wing.

James H. Lee of 322 Prospect Drive, San Rafael, who was working in an office across the street, said he saw "the roof just peel away."

Also in Tiburon, plate glass windows broke at Tiburon Tommies and at the Sierra National Bank, both on Main Street. Other Main Street roofs suffered damage, and a portion of the roof on the Safeway Store, just north of the lodge, blew off.

One of the new gas lamps recently installed on Main Street also was broken by the wind.

All of the wind damage occurred at about the same time that the Mill Valley Air Force Station clocked gusts up to 100 miles an hour.

In Belvedere, trees were blown down and three boats broke loose from their moorings, and one the Nui-Nui, was blown against the seawall on Beach Road.

In Mill Valley, there was a minor landslide on Underhill Road between Stanton Way and Middle Court.

Granton Park near the College of Marin was flooded.

Several houseboats reportedly pulled away from their docks at Gate Six at Waldo Point, and a few were driven onto mudbands at Strawberry Point.

At Hamilton Air Force Base, the Santa Claus at the north gate was toppled by the winds, as was the fence at the golf driving range north of the base.

In Novato, some streets were flooded as leaves quickly plugged storm drains.

Storm damage sent firemen to two homes on Penny Royal Lane

Justices Bar Draft 'Delinquency' Rule

Some Resisters Chance Prosecution: High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft boards may not use "delinquency" regulations to take away the exemptions of divinity students and groups of other young men shielded from the draft by Congress, the Supreme Court ruled 6 to 3 today.

At the same time, however, the court held that draft resisters who do not have a congressional exemption must — in order to test their 1-A classification — chance prosecution for draft evasion. (See also Supreme Court story, page 6.)

Besides divinity students, Congress has authorized exemption of: (1) persons under 19; (2) veterans of military service; (3) members of the National Guard and the reserves, and (4) sole surviving sons.

Justices Potter Stewart, William J. Brennan Jr. and Byron R. White dissented, accusing the majority—in Stewart's words "of casual disregard" of Selective Service law.

Equally important, perhaps, was a companion decision by the court that, generally, a draft registrant cannot challenge his 1-A classification in court except in two difficult ways—by refusing induction and thereby becoming a defendant in a federal prosecution that could lead to jail or in the extremely difficult procedure of accepting induction and then bringing habeas corpus action to try to get release from service.

In a California case, a federal judge had ruled young men must have the right to sue to block their induction without having to refuse inductions and risk prosecution.

The high court flatly disagreed, saying a permit pre-induction court review of the general variety of "delinquency" classificatins to 1-A would massively hamper operation of draft procedures.

The case involved an Alameda County draft board's classification of Charles Joseph Gabriel to 1-A over his claims that he should be exempt as a conscientious objector.

Unlike congressionally authorized exemptions for divinity students, the court said in an unsigned opinion, rejection of conscientious objector status "involves a determination of fact

Story Links Burns, Insurance Companies

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Senate President pro tem Hugh M. Burns sponsored legislation aimed at helping some insurance companies while Burns was president and a major stockholder of another insurance firm, the Los Angeles Times said today.

In a story by reporter Robert S. Fairbanks, the newspaper said Burns and two partners began their company in 1962 "with a modest investment" and sold it five years later "at a profit of more than $500,000."

The Times said "about half" of the profit "came from insurance industry sources that benefited greatly from legislation that Burns helped enact. The other half came from a speculative maneuver approved by a former state insurance commissioner."

Burns said today "the story is fairly accurate" although he said the owners did not realize a full $500,000 profit from the sale.

"This was just simply another stock transaction, which I dabble in now and then," Burns told reporters who gathered in his Capitol office to ask him about the report. "I didn't pay a lot of attention to it."

But he acknowledged sponsoring the bill. Asked about the bill's origin, Burns said, "I think it probably came out of the insurance fraternity somewhere along the line."

Burns said he saw nothing illegal and unethical about his participation in the firm.

Burns is a 32-year legislative veteran who has been president pro tem of the Senate and chairman of the house's rules committee since 1957.

That committee assigns all bills to other committees for hearings, something that often determines whether a measure will pass or fail.

The Times said Burns, D-Fresno; David V. Oliver, an insurance industry lobbyist, and John J. Sullivan, a former savings and loan official in Fresno, were partners in the Menlo Life Insurance Co., incorporated May 15, 1962, in Phoenix, Ariz.

Oliver is registered as lobbyist for the Association of California Insurance Companies, an organization of the state's major casualty and fire insurance firms.

The Times said that Menlo did most of its business indirectly with two firms — Household Finance Co. of Chicago and Beneficial Finance Co. of Morrison, N.J.

Menlo, the paper said, had contracts involving the two companies and a form of life insurance known as "credit life" — a policy that assures banks, auto dealers and others

Stinson Beach Motel Raid Nets $5,000 In Marijuana

Six persons were arrested last night in a raid on a Stinson Beach motel, where federal, state and county narcotics agents seized more than $5,000 worth of marijuana.

Arrested on suspicion of possession of marijuana for sale, a felony, were Paul Stanton Gladman, 22; Gary Lee Arthur, 22; Michael Taylor, 30, all of whom gave the Fern Motel as their address; Charles Mather Weiner, 18, of Stinson Beach, and Robert Leighton Leoni, 23, of Bolinas.

Emmitt Warner, special agent in charge of the San Francisco district of the federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, said that agents had been watching the group, which used the Fern Motel as headquarters for about a month.

Warner said that an agent bought marijuana last month from one of the men. He explained that since the agent was a federal officer, the six men will be turned over to the U.S. marshal in San Francisco.

In addition to the 35 kilos of marijuana agents found in the motel, a Volkswagen which they said was used to transport marijuana for sales was impounded.

The suspects were held today in Marin County Jail without bail, awaiting transfer to San Francisco, where they will be placed in the San Francisco County Jail.

Wreckage Of Downed U.S. Plane Found

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Searchers found the wreckage of a twin-engine Air Force plane today and located the bodies of six of the aircraft's eight crewmen. The plane had been missing since Saturday.

The wreckage was sighted near El Yunque, a peak 23 miles southeast of San Juan.

$250,000 Worth Of Silver Stolen

LONDON (AP) — A gang robbed a London silversmith of $250,000 worth of bullion during the night and drank the firm's Christmas whisky.

The raiders cut through a three-inch steel safe with a thermic lance—a superpowerful blow torch—and hauled away gold and silver in sheets and ingots.

As they worked they drank whisky which had been sent to the firm's directors as Christmas gifts.

To get in they bypassed two elaborate alarm systems, but they triggered one as they made their getaway.

"The gang must have known something about the firm," said Paul Knight, son of the firm's owner. "They struck when there was an unusually large amount of property in the strongroom."

Slow Driving Brings Drug Dealer Suspect

A 25-year-old Berkeley capenter wound up in Marin County Jail Saturday on suspicion of possessing marijuana for sale and transporting it all because he was driving too slowly.

The suspect, Leonard Gilbert Nathan, 25, drew attention of California Highway Patrol Officer Kent B. Berquist because he was driving slow and impending traffic along Highway 101 northbound, south of the Alto overcrossing, at 3:30 p.m.

After he was halted, Nathan lied about his brithdate, and was put under arrest for giving false information to a police officer, Berquist reported.

Then came a routine inventory of the car before impounding it, Berquist said. The inventory included three plastic bags of what appeared to be marijuana on the rear floor, two plastic bags of hashish in the glove compartment, and a suitcase with four kilos of marijuana in the trunk.

No value of the haul was given.

There were papers in the car indicating that Nathan was in the process of making deliveries, Berquist reported.

At the jail, officers found what appeared to be five marijuana cigarettes in Nathan's pocket, and a plastic bag of marijuana under his undershirt; Berquist said.

Nathan was booked on suspicion of drug charges and of driving without a left hand rear view mirror and driving without a license. He was placed under $6,250 bail.

Kuchel Viewing Law Firm Post

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Republican Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, who leaves the Senate next month to be replaced by Democrat Alan Cranston, may join the law firm of former Democratic National Committeeman Eugene L. Wyman.

Wyman yesterday said he and Kuchel "have had some preliminary discussions" about the possibility of the senator joining the firm of Wyman, Bautzer, Finell and Rothman.

Kuchel, defeated in the Republican senatorial primary by Max Rafferty, is "definitely going into private practice" when he leaves public office, according to his administrative assistant, Ewing Hass.

EXTERMINATION BEST?

Black Studies Instructor Cites Education Problems

By ANNE BARDWELL

"You can educate anyone — black, yellow or white — but once he is educated then you have to deal with him, and you have to call down 600 cops to deal with him; it's easier to exterminate than to teach," said Sarah Fabio, black poet and teacher, speaking Saturday at a forum on black studies in Marin City.

The all-day forum, "Black Studies: What and How" was at the Manzanita Center and was sponsored by Project Breakthrough, the Marin City parents organization, and the Sausalito Teacher Education Project (STEP).

Mrs. Fabio is a poet, lecturer in Black Literature and Subject A from a black perspective at the University of California at Berkeley, coordinator of Project Interaction at the U.C. at Davis and co-founder of the pioneering black studies program at Merritt College in Oakland. She is also 40 years old, the wife of a San Francisco dentist and the mother of five children.

Rather than give a formal lecture on black studies, Mrs. Fabio chose to present a two-hour freewheeling commentary on the education of the black man in today's society.

The problem in teaching blacks, Mrs. Fabio said, is not in the student but in the teacher's attitude. Teachers today, she said: "Assume blacks don't want to learn so they can't teach them. It is just a good excuse for the teacher to sit in front and gab."

"In Tennessee (she graduated from Fisk University), I assumed students wanted to learn and I wanted to teach. There was no trouble."

Commenting on Merritt College where she taught for two years: "You couldn't have wanted them (the blacks) to learn if you created such a horror pit for them to learn in."

On teaching: "I taught black junior high students in Tennessee language for a participatory democratic society. The only problem is that there is no such thing for them when they are out of high school."

On Subject A: "Subject A is culture oriented, not I.Q. oriented. It is testing your capacity to be stuffed into a white sardine can. When blacks are given questions relevant to their culture they do well in Subject A."

On creativity: "A white kid is not creative because of the white man's burden; blacks are creative because they're black. Being born black is the most nonconformist thing you can do."

On black poetry: "You can't just scream when someone steps on your toe; you have to blow when you do your own thing."

On white help: "The best role for the liberal, wealthy white person is to help blacks speak out. They could provide us with a printing press."

On newspapers: "Few blacks read the newspaper because they know that what's in the paper isn't really happening."

On current black thought: "You find it in the Negro Digest, put out by Ebony magazine, known as 'Life in Brown'."

On integration: "I have integrated everything from Germany on. I was the Hertz rent-a-Negro for dinner parties and visiting black dignitaries for years."

On black universities: "Cornell or U.C. will have meaningful black studies before Howard University. Fisk and Howard were set up for black children of white slave owners who didn't want to send them to Harvard or Yale."

On her current work: "I'm writing a dictionary of black language. I have 300 words so far including 'honkology' — a study of white man's attitude toward the blacks."

"I also have just completed a 25-page paper by White Writers on Blacks and Black Writing. Specifically: White on Black and Black on White."

During the morning session Sid Walton, author of the "Black Curriculum" and director of the multiethnic project in the Palo Alto School District, spoke on a black studies program.

San Mateo College Opens With Identification Checks

SAN MATEO (UPI) — The College of San Mateo, scene of student activist violence last Friday, opened its hilltop campus with a police check of each arriving student and faculty member.

Long lines of cars piled up at the two entrances to the campus as police inspected identification cards for morning classes, usually heavy on Monday.

"Everything was quiet and quite orderly," said a college spokesman.

Precautions were taken, he said, because many of the activists participating in last week's fracas were not students of the San Mateo school. Many were believed students from San Francisco State College, now closed for the holiday vacation.

Nine Marin law enforcement officers left at 6 a.m. today to assist at College of San Mateo.

Included were two deputies from the sheriff's department, two each from San Rafael and Novato police departments and one each from San Anselmo, Fairfax and Mill Valley departments.

Robert L. Ewigleben, the college president, had warned all students to arrive early because of the police check. Local police were augmented by 50 officers from San Francisco.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

New Commander

ATHENS (AP) — Lt. Gen. Obysseas Angelis was named yesterday by the military-backed regime today to be commander in chief of the Greek armed forces, a post traditionally held b the king.

The new appointment makes Angelis the strong man of the armed forces and strips self-exiled King Constantine of control, leaving him only as titular head of the armed forces.

Angelis' new duties will include decisions on promotions, transfers and retirements of officers and planning for the country's defense.

Under the old constitution, the king was able to influence such decisions and even rule on the structure of the armed forces. The 27-year-old monarch now lives in Rome following his flight from Greece a year ago, when he failed to oust the ruling junta in a countercoup.

Final Exams

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — With the condition for their moon voyage smoothly under way, the Apollo S astronauts today received the final major physical examination for the flight.

Space agency doctors began examining Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders in a session scheduled to last four or five hours to make certain the spacemen are in excellent shape for the mission.

Back To Normal

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazilians stramed to their jobs and other pursuits in normal fashion today after a weekend crackdown by President Arthur da Costa e Silva on the opposition to his regime and its military backers.

Regularly scheduled morning newspapers were on the tands but all lacked editorial comment on a weekend political upheaval in which 200 persons were reported arrested.

Available information indicated there were no incidents in any part of the nation, South America's largest and potentially its richest.

Found Dead

HOVE, England, (AP) — David Jacobs, lawyer for the Beatles and a number of other stars, was found hanged in the garage at his seafront mansion yesterday, police reported. An inquest was ordered.

The body was discovered by a servant. Friends said Jacobs had appeared to be under a strain for some weeks.

It was the second time death had come close to the Beatles in recent years. Brian Epstein, their manager and another client of Jacobs, died in August, 1967 of an accidental overdose of sleeping pills.

Jacobs was 57 and unmarried. In addition to the Beatles, he had represented Sir Laurence Olivier, Marlene Dietrich, Judy Garland, Liberace, Shirley Bassey and Zsa-Zsa Gabor.

Weather Probe

VANDENBURG AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — The eighth weather satellite is orbiting the earth, photographing the cloud cover every six minutes.

The 290-pound spacecraft was launched yesterday after being dalyed for three days by high winds. A U.S. space agency spokesman said the launch was flawless.

The two cameras aboard ESSA 8 were designed to photograph from a 900-mile-high circular orbit around the poles. They will radio pictures to earth stations enabling coastal countries and islands to get pictures of approaching storms.

Bulgarian Pact

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Radio Havana said yesterday that Cuba had signed a 1969 trade agreement with Bulgaria.

The European Communist country will supply Cuba with industrial machinery, medicine and foodstuffs, said to the broadcast monitored in Miami. Cuba will export sugar, molasses, citrus and other commodities to Bulgaria, the governent radio said.

22 Hikers Survive Mountain Snowstorm

MANCHESTER, Vt. (AP) — Twenty high school hikers and two teachers, trapped on Mount Tabor when a rain turned to a blinding snowstorm, lasted the night in a lean-to by singing songs and pairing off to watch for signs of frost bite.

The nine girls, 11 boys and teachers from the hiking club of Shenendowa High School at Elnora, N.Y., were brought down yesterday by rescuers. They had kept warm by a fire on the lean-to's shelves plus dead wood found in the area.

Two girls, Janice Naylor, 16, and Virginia Morton, 17, suffered frost bitten feet. After treatment by Dr. Clifford B. Harwood, who accompanied the rescuers, the girls were allowed to accompany their school mates home. Then they were admitted to a hospital in Schenectady, near Elnora, where a spokesman said they were in good spirits and would be discharged in two days.

The 20 students, led by teachers Martin H. Granger, 22, of Ballston Spa, N.Y., and Daniel Willa of Elnora, started the hike over the Long Trail between Mount Tabor and Bromley, a ski resort, Saturday.

Snow, winds of up to 50 miles per hour and zero cold forced the group to seek shelter.

Granger said the party missed a side path, realized it was near dark, and took shelter in the lean-to, using a machete to cut down fire wood.

"We never slept, it was too cold," said Lynn Focht, 17. "We sang and talked."

"It rained for an hour and a half after we started walking," she said. "We all got soaked. None of us had ever walked in this area before."

After the group's bus driver reported that they failed to make their rendezvous point, a search was started by more than 50 persons, some traveling in snowmobiles or on snow shoes.

10 Perish In Michigan Fires

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Fires claimed 10 lives in Michigan over the weekend, and eight of the victims were children.

A mother and three of her children died in a fiery explosion which burned their home and tore it apart yesterday on Kalamazoo's South Side.

Five children perished in a Saturday fire on Detroit's West Side, and 79-year-old Alex Lindquest of the Auper Peninsula community of Gwin was fatally burned Saturday night in a fire that destroyed the home where he lived alone.

A broken gas main under the driveway of the home next door was blamed by authorities for the Kalamazoo explosion and fire. Cause of the Detroit blaze was undetermined. Police said Lindquest apparently dropped a lighted cigarette accidentally before retiring.

Two Children Drown In Pool

SYOSSET, N.Y. (AP) — A 6-year-old boy and his 4-year-old sister, playing in the season's first snowfall, fell through ice and snow and drowned yesterday in a half-filled swimming pool near their home.

Police, summoned by a neighbor, found the bodies of Diane and Scott Naughton in a 16-by-32-foot concrete pool on the lawn of an unoccupied house.

Police said the children had opened the gate of a four-foot-high chain-link fence surrounding the pool and had walked out on the ice. The ice at the shallow end of the pool supported them but the ice at the deep end gave way.

As the accident occurred, Diane and Scott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Naughton, were making final preparations for the christening of their third child, Richard Jr., born a month ago. The christening was postponed.

Clifford's Saigon Slap Angers Ky

PARIS (AP) — Nguyen Cao Ky said today it was wrong for Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford to suggest South Vietnam is holding up the Paris peace talks.

The South Vietnamese vice president, referring to remarks made by Clifford in Washington yesterday, told newsmen: "Ever since he came into office, Secretary Clifford has shown a gift for saying the wrong thing at the wrong time.

"GOOD WILL"

"We came here a week ago full of good will and prepared to sit down at any time."

He added the Saigon government does not expect the other side to surrender "but they cannot expect us to surrender either."

The talks had been set to start early in November among the United States, North Vietnam, South Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

STATUS HANGUP

The talks have been delayed by a hangup on the status of the Viet Cong's envoys and the shape of the table that should be used.

"It is not a dispute over the shape of the table," Ky said. "That is really a secondary matter. What is important is the matter of principle on which we cannot give way."

The South Vietnamese refuse to accept the principle that the National Liberation Front is an equal unit in the negotiations. It holds the front to be a direct agent of the North Vietnamese.

Ky spoke to newsmen after conferring with Pham Dang Lam, the nominal head of the Saigon delegation. South Vietnamese sources said they conferred on what was described as mounting U.S. pressure for Saigon to make some procedural concessions that would get the talks started.

NOT CONFIRMED

Neither Ky nor Lam would confirm this.

Lam told newsmen: "It is not we who are raising procedural issues. We haven't raised a single one since we came here.

"We came ready to sit down at a two-sided conference exactly as it was agreed, and we are still ready to do so at any time."

The United States originally wanted a two-sided conference with Washington and Saigon envoys on one side and Hanoi and the North Vietnames front on the other.

U.S. Frees Seven Hanoi Captives For Christmas Release Of Pilots

SAIGON (AP) — The United States today returned seven civilian seamen to North Vietnam, and Radio Moscow confirmed that Hanoi has announced it will release some American pilots at Christmas.

A U.S. spokesman said the release of the seven North Vietnamese was arranged in Vientiane, the Laotian capital. He said Hanoi's representatives had given no immediate indication that their government planned to release any of the hundreds of American fliers it has captured.

But a spokesman for Moscow Radio confirmed a broadcast by the Soviet radio Saturday which said: "Radio Hanoi stated today Dec. 14 that a group of American pilots who were taken into captivity when their planes were shot down over the territory of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam will be refeased at Christmas."

The Hanoi broadcast had not been heard by monitors in Tokyo, Hong Kong or Saigon, and in the absence of official word from the North Vietnamese it was thought Moscow might have been mistaken.

The report relayed by Moscow gave no indication exactly when or how the fliers would be released.

The U.S. Command in Saigon said the release of the North Vietnamese seamen was an "action of good will" which it hoped would "lead to further release of prisoners."

The men were released offshore about 13 miles northeast of Vinh, a coastal city 145 miles north of the demilitarized zone. The U.S. Command said the amphibious transport Duluth put the men into a 45-foot motorized fishing junk and a U.S. helicopter observed them until they were about 9,000 yards from the beach.

A spokesman said the U.S. and North Vietnamese diplomats in Vientiane who negotiated the release "gave assurances that the operation would be safe from military action." But no cease-fire was declared because President Johnson's order halting all aerial, naval and artillery bombardment of North Vietnam on Nov. 1 made that unnecessary, the spokesman explained.

Last Oct. 21 the United States and Hanoi declared a 36-hour cease-fire covering a 288-square-mile area along the coast to return 14 North Vietnamese navy men. At that time the United States said it held no other prisoners of War. North Vietnamese prisoners usually are turned over to South Vietnamese authorities.

U.S. Navy spokesmen said the seven men released today were rescued in 1967 from "a small boat in international waters in the Gulf of Tonkin after an attack by U.S. aircraft on North Vietnamese cargo boats suspected of supplying the enemy in the South."

North Vietnam had announced earlier arrangements would be made to forward Christmas packages from the United States to prisoners in the North.

Hong Kong Flu Shuts More Universities

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hong Kong flu has caused three more universities to begin Christmas holidays early but several others tentatively scheduled reopenings this week. Among the victims of the illness is Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston.

In many hospitals, visiting privileges have been canceled or drastically restricted to avoid further spread of the malady.

Classes at George Washington University were ordered suspended today as about 50 per cent of the school's 2,500 undergraduates were reported ill. The holidays at the Washington, D.C. school had been scheduled to begin Friday.

Four Virginia colleges, which normally would have closed later this week, shut down last Wednesday and Thursday. Starting today, three central Virginia hospitals began discouraging visitors to protect patients from the flu.

Central Michigan University canceled all classes until Jan. 6, while Northern Michigan University also closed a week early because of "flu-like" illnesses.

Two Maryland schools, closed last week, planned to resume classes this week in view of no significant outbreaks over the weekend.

In Cleveland, Ohio, three Catholic schools closed last week will open today.

Cardinal Cushing was forced to cancel his appearance Sunday at the 60th anniversary celebration of St. Brigid's Parish in South Boston.

In Wisconsin, health authorities said blood tests showed Type A incidence of the flu up as much as 17 per cent in some localities compared to 3 per cent in November. In Milwaukee, about 10 per cent of the schools' teachers were absent last week, while more than 20 Milwaukee-area hospitals cut down drastically on the number of visitors.

In Pittsburgh, hospitals reported an upsurge in flu-like illnesses but pinpointed only five cases as being of the Hong Kong variety. To guard against any possible general outbreak, six hospitals restricted visiting privileges.

Step-Saving Teen Survives Span Collapse

THOUSAND OAKS (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Alfred Streit took a shortcut yesterday across a massive, steel-reinforced six-lane overpass under construction in Thousand Oaks when the bridge collapsed with a roar.

The 35-foot-long bridge crashed onto Hillcrest Drive, just missing two cars as it fell 15 feet.

Young Streit was taken to Conejo Valley Community Hospital. His foot was put in a cast and he was released.

Authorities couldn't immediately say what caused the bridge's downfall. But a California highway patrol spokesman said last night that no one should have been on it since the ends of the bridge had yet to be connected permanently to concrete abutments.

What was Alfred doing there?

His mother Marjorie, telling Alfred's story today while he slept after his ordeal, said in a telephone interview that her son was out collecting money on his newspaper route and he decided to take a short cut.

"It never looked dangerous to me," said Mrs. Streit. "An awful lot of kids play around there."

She speculated that "maybe it was the rain soaking it" that loosened the bridge. A wet Pacific storm hit Southern California over the weekend.

The bridge was to be part of a six-lane freeway linking the Conejo Creek Freeway from Ventura to the Simi Valley Freeway in Simi.

Young Alfred told officers at the scene that he was starting across the bridge when it "started to wobble and then it collapsed." Seconds before the crash, two cars including a sheriff's cruiser had passed underneath.

Humphrey Announces Two Jobs

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey announced yesterday he will return as a professor to two schools in the Twin Cities which hold especially fond memories for him.

Humphrey, a 1939 graduate of the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis and a teacher at Macalester College of St. Paul in 1943 and 1944, has accepted a joint professorship at the two schools.

The vice president said at a gathering in Macalester's fine arts center that after 25 years in politics he has some things he wants to say and the job in his home state should provide a very good atmosphere for both teaching and learning.

The courses which Humphrey will teach after his duties as vice president end Jan. 20 have not been outlined in detail, but there are indications he will give some regular lectures and hold some seminars.

Humphrey also said he hoped in his new position to work on solutions to some problems facing society.

"It is clear that many of the answers which were satisfactory even a decade ago are no longer acceptable. The universities have become a forum for the expression of this dissatisfaction, as well as the place where better answers are being sought," Humphrey said.

The vice president added one of the reasons I wanted to be president was that "I thought that was the best forum for teaching. Well I've had to settle for second best, but that's pretty good."

The Minnesota Democrat, who lost in this years presidential election said teaching was not his main objective in returning to the state.

"I come back to learn and to have my mind and senses stretched once again by the students and faculty with whom I will be associated," Humphrey said. "And I can hardly wait to begin!"

The vice president will receive $30,000 for teaching nine months at the two schools, $20,000 from Macalester and $10,000 from the University, according to University President Malcolm Moos.

Sen. Kennedy Lauds Young In Bomb Halt

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (UPI) —Sen. Edward Kennedy yesterday credited "brave young Americans" with the efforts that brought about a bombing halt in the Vietnam war and other major peace moves.

"So powerful was their example that by late this year all the major presidential candidates had come to their beliefs," Kennedy said in a talk at the University of Santa Clara.

The Massachusetts Democrat was at the school to receive an honorary doctor of laws deree. About 1,500 persons attended the ceremony, including San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto and former Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

"A year ago," Kennedy said, "we were told that even to suggest a bomb halt was 'obscene.' But now we and our friends and our enemies are sitting down to negotiations in Paris."

"The faith of those who worked for change is being vindicated," he said.

Kennedy said the Vietnam war was "a national tragedy," but he added that, "Its lessons will serve us well in the future."

"In some respects, I believe, the Vietnam war and its lessons are helping to ease the racial tensions in this country," he said.

"Last summer was the coolest summer in years. And, if Martin Luther King had not been killed, it would have been even cooler."

After his Santa Clara speech, Kennedy drove to San Francisco to appear at a $100-a-plate dinner at the Fairmont Hotel. The event was arranged to raise funds to pay off the California campaign debts of his late brother, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The child's prayer beginning "Now I lay me down to sleep" had been recorded as early as 1160 A.D.

Houseboy Warden, Captured; Wife Safe

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — "We treated him like a son," said the warden of State Prison who was stabbed by his houseboy in an escape. "I don't know what happened to him."

The houseboy, David F. Mabery, who was serving a life term for the slaying of a 15-month-old boy, was caught yesterday in downtown Hartford by two policemen.

Warden Frederick Reincke, 69, said Mabery attacked him Saturday at his home at the prison in Somers, 20 miles north of Hartford, and forced him and Mrs. Reincke, 63, to drive to Hartford, where he fled. Reincke, attacked with a knife-like object, was reported in satisfactory condition at Hartford Hospital with minor stab wounds. His wife was treated for shock and released Saturday.

Mabery's duties as a trusty in the Reincke house had been primarily to look after the warden's 90-year-old mother-in-law.

One of the arresting officers, rookie Mike McConnell, said he recognized Mabery from a photograph. Mabery offered no resistance. He had pleaded guilty Feb. 21, 1961 in the slaying at New Haven of his girlfriend's son. After his recapture he was charged with aggravated assault and carrying a dangerous weapon.

While the search for Mabery was on, Ellis C. MacDougall, state commissioner of corrections, ordered a suspension of trusty assignments at the homes of prison officials pending a re-evaluation of the inmate classification program.

Blaiberg Defends Heart Doctor's Courage In Book

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's longest lived heart transplant patient has defended the "cold, calculated courage" of Dr. Christiaan Barnard, who performed the controversial operation.

The patient, Philip Blaiberg, said of the pioneer surgeon, "He it was who had the courage to transplant a new heart in me after his first patient died."

"The cold, calculated courage he has shown, while the world watche him, was courage indeed," Blaiberg wrote in a book, "Looking at My Heart," published today by Stein and Day.

The transplant operation had been criticized as premature before Blaiberg, a retired dentist, became the world's third transplant patient last Jan. 2. Before the operation, Blaiberg's condition had been considered hopeless.

In the book, Blaiberg says he and his wife resumed marital relations on April 5, their wedding anniversary. He had left Groote Schuur Hospital in Capetown, South Africa, on March 16.

Blaiberg said Barnard suggested he relate this "to allay the fears of some men who believe their potency might be impaired after cardiac surgery."

Berkeley Campus Simmering Down

BERKELEY (AP)—The University of California, which built the mold for worldwide student disorders with the Free Speech Movement four years ago, has simmered down to what its chancellor calls "a bubbling pressure pot."

The pot could explode or boil over again, but the chancellor doubts it.

Across the bay at San Francisco State College, student turmoil has disrupted the campus for more than a month.

The Berkeley campus, relatively calm for the past two years, was disrupted by two brief sit-in demonstrations last October at Sproul Hall, the university administrative center, and nearby Moses Hall.

Chancellor Roger W. Heyns promptly called in police, and 197 persons were arrested including 154 students and one professor. Suspensions and prosecutions followed.

A proposed strike in favor of the demonstrators failed to gain any enthusiasm among the 28,000-member student body.

The incident contrasted with 1964, when university officials tried to reason with the Free Speech Movement.

After more than two months of intermittent demonstrations and disorders, dissidents seized Sproul Hall. They finally were ejected by police, with more than 700 arrests.

The issues of student discipline and nonstudent incursions on the campus continued, eventually costing the jobs of Chancellor Edward W. Strong, who had favored stern discipline, and University President Clark Kerr, who had favored persuasion and discussion.

A brief sit-in opposing Navy recruiting in November 1966 was broken up when Heyns, the new chancellor, had the leaders arrested and prosecuted for trespass.

The latest flare-up in October resulted from refusal of the university regents to allow academic credit for an experimental course on racism, including 10 lectures to be given by Eldridge Cleaver, militant Black Panther spokesman and convict.

The regents ruled that an unqualified guest lecturer could give only one talk in a course carrying credit.

Cleaver made several appearances, in a classroom provided by the chancellor, but credit was not allowed, despite the demonstrations.

Philosophically reviewing the campus, Chancellor Heyns told an interviewer that to have violent disruptions, "You must have an issue, a radical minority, and a general frustration with bureaucratic redtape.

"We are dealing with a general frustration about being 23 years old and not being able to be in a position of influence.

"That goes all the way from, 'We couldn't stop the war,' to 'We couldn't nominate McCarthy,' to, 'We couldn't change the regents' minds on the Cleaver course.' "

An assortment of students, instructors, administrators and outsiders offered various opinions as to why the campus has been calm, such as:

The students have just given up and are not much interested in confrontations;

Discipline is a strong deterrent;

Public reaction and "political interference" have become too strong.

"I think there is a real turning away from violence," the chancellor said.

A pensive, pipe-smoking man of 50, Heyns said he constantly talks to as many students as he can, and, thinks, "There might be a reversion to violence but I doubt it.

"The bulk of the students recognize that violence is counterproductive. It brings on intervention from outside, so as a technique, it just hasn't been effective."

They said their aim was to "open up the channels of communication with the administration and the regents," but started eating again after each lost several pounds.

They decried what they called "student impotency."

"Nothing is over," Camejo insisted. "Anything could happen, but the emphasis now is on being defensive. We have to be better organized."

Camejo was suspended during the Free Speech Movement and faces felony charges of conspiracy to break the law in the Moses Hall sit-in.

Nearly 200 were arrested, but under threats of new violence they induced the city council to set aside two blocks of the avenue for a massive but peaceful July Fourth demonstration.

The section has been generally quiet since then, but police say it has the city's highest crime rate, mostly due to narcotics traffic.

University authorities are pleased to disclaim any connection with Telegraph Avenue's problems.

Faculty members prefer to talk of academic freedom, which some see as an issue in the Cleaver lecture affair.

The 1,200-member Academic Senate has had authority since 1920 to set up courses, and is prepared to resist any move to reduce that power. However, it twice postponed action on a resolution asking credit for the Cleaver course.

Prof. Sheldon Wolin, chairman of the 200-member Faculty Alliance, which sought credit for the Cleaver course, sees the problem as a desire by the regents and legislature to tighten control.

The 101-year-old university, which boasts 12 Nobel laureates, has traditionally been a leader in experimental education.

Cleaver, however, gave opponents ample fuel with such lecture statements as:

"There are a lot of Jews who need killing. There are a lot of Italians who need killing. There are a lot of Irish who need killing. There are a lot of Anglo-Saxons who need killing."

He led his class in a chant of four-letter obscenities aimed at Gov. Reagan and other public officials.

"We don't have a problem here with militant blacks," observed Professor Wolin, "but it could come."

The student body leader, Palmer, and student editor, Berlandt, both white, say that when the establishment ignores student points of view, the students have a choice of overt action or "dropping out."

Chancellor Heyns suggests a different path:

"You try to make life pleasant with a minimum amount of frustration with bureaucratic education. Then you try to resolve the larger and more important issues in a way that is acceptable to the students. . .

"If you are going to get them to reject violence and intimidation, you have to have other mechanisms and they have to work."

Skin From Cancer Patients Effective

JERUSALEM (SS) — An odd sidelight on the problems of bodily rejection — one of the key difficulties in transplant surgery — has been turned up here in studies of skin grafts.

Skin taken from donors who died of cancer is effective much longer than skin from healthy donors.

Skin grafts are a kind of nature-made bandage. In cases of severe burns or other severe injuries, they can prevent infection and stop the leakage of proteins, electrolytes and other vital substances.

Unfortunately, the body may quickly reject the foreign skin tissue, and the patient will lose his biological dressing. The result may be increased sickness and even death.

Now Dr. Mahum Ben-Hur and others at the Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center in Jerusalem have found that in 40 patients, who were subjected to two skin transplants, one from a normal donor and one from a patient with cancer, the survival of the grafts from the cancer patients was significantly prolonged.

In one case, a young patient at the Hadassah Medical Center with second- and third-degree burns involving 70 per cent of his body, treated for burns for 19 days, received several different grafts, one from a patient who had died of cancer of the larynx and three from others who had died from nonmalignant diseases.

The graft from the cancer patient survived for over 60 days; those from the other patients only 12 to 18 days. The prolonged survival time enabled the patient to overcome the critical period, and after 126 days, he could leave the hospital.

By this time, the grafts from the cancer victim had sloughed off as well; the patient was meanwhile covered by his own regrown skin. A similar experience is recorded with a patient with severe bedsores.

The usually accepted method of combatting rejection to grafting is to try to depress the number of antibodies being produced by the host to fight the foreign protein. this is done by administering cortisone, cytolox ic cell agents, anti-white-cell serums, or by means of radiation.

Dr. Ben-Hur and his colleagues prefer to treat the graft itself instead of the patient after he receives it: so that the antigenic pattern of the tissues being grafted is changed or decreased, and the tissues are then less likely to promote the formation of antibodies. In this way, the survival time of the graft is prolonged before rejection.

The scientists came to this approach when they began to ask themselves why the female body does not reject the fetus, which is, after all, one form of grafting of cells of a different genetic constitution.

From this, they went on to wonder why a certain type of cancer of the uterus, which develops after pregnancy and also contains the father's genes as well as the mother's, is not rejected.

They then found that tumors are extremely useful for the clarification of the immunological laws governing tissue grafting, because when cancer cells infiltrated and spread in the body, they seem to do so without the antigen-antibody immunity reaction.

Driver Nabbed For Speeding

A San Rafael man was arrested yesterday after a three-block chase at speeds up to 70 miles an hour, San Rafael police said.

Billy Joe Taylor, of 229 Humboldt Street, was first spotted speeding on E Street between Third and Fourth streets and was arrested on Fifth Street between G and H streets.

Taylor was released on $120 bail from Marin County Jail and will appear at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court to answer the charges.

Library Change To Be Studied

A public hearing on a proposal for Corte Madera to withdraw from the Marin County library system and from a joint powers agreement with the county for a new regional library is scheduled for the 7:30 p.m. meeting today of the town council.

Proposed is a $500,000 library on a 2.7-acre site on Meadowsweet Drive.

The council also will have a public hearing on an application to permit restaurants in professional and administrative zoning.

that consumer loans will be paid if the borrower dies.

Household, through another firm, turned over a portion of credit life business to Menlo, according to the Times.

The Times quoted Paul Welbon, Household's senior vice president for administration, as saying the firm decided to turn over 10 per cent of its California business to a California firm for business reasons.

Household gave the business to Pacific Employers, which gave 85 per cent of it to Menlo. Welbon said Household had no objection to that.

Edward A. Dunbar, vice president of Beneficial said his firm wanted to give a share of business to a California firm to help secure proper representation for itself, the Times said.

In the 1965 legislative session, the paper said, Burns introduced a bill that would permit finance companies such as Household and Beneficial to sell another form of consumer insurance—credit disability.

His bill was stalled in a Senate committee, but the provisions became law when they were included in another bill by Assemblyman George Zenovich, D-Fresno.

The bill was signed into law by then Gov. Edmund G. Brown June 17, 1965.

The Times said Household collected $2.9 million in disability insurance premiums last year year and Beneficial collected $640,000.

However, there is no record that Menlo ever handled any of the disability credit insurance.

Teen Nabbed As Suspect In Burglaries

A 19-year-old Novato youth, arrested Saturday night as he approached a house which had been burglarized the night before, is allegedly responsible for other recent burglaries in Novato, police said today.

Peter Michael Casali of 684 Hancock Street was arrested on suspicion of burglary and possession of narcotics.

Police said they stopped Casali as he approached the home of Eliza Potter at 835 Reichert Avnue, where watches and rings valued at $305 had been taken on Thursday night.

Casali had with him an opal ring which fit the description of one taken from Mrs. Potter's house, police said. He also was carrying a flashlight, steak knife and glass cutter when arrested.

A packet of white powder, believed to be speed, was in his wallet, according to police.

Police claimed that Casali, and possibly other confederates, were linked to other burglaries, including the homes of Olin Jaris Cawthorn of 821 Reichert Avenue on Dec. 7; Walter George Coburn of 72 6Lamont Avenue and Ann Redding of 900 Railroad Avenue, both on Dec. 9, as well as the theft of a purse from the Novato Community House on Friday.

Casali was booked into Marin County Jail with bail set at $3,000. He was to appear in Municipal Court today.

COLLEGE

which has an enrollment of 8,500 students.

The closed campus policy was adopted Saturday during an eight-hour emergency meeting of trustees of the tax-supported college. It came as a result of a riot Friday by about 150 young militants.

The demonstrators raced through the campus, swinging metal pipes and tire irons. A dozen students and faculty members were injured badly enough to require medical treatment, and damage to campus buildings was estimated at $15,000.

Warrants were issued for five persons involved in Friday's violence, and there were indications at least 20 more would be drawn up during the week.

"People will be surprised at the number of suspensions, expulsions and arrests that will result from the violence," said Ewigleben, who promised to expel every student identified as taking part in the riot.

The disturbance broke out at the end of a rally sponsored by the Third World Liberation Front and the New Black Generation to demand upgrading of educational opportunities for minorities.

Ewigleben said he was never presented a list of the demands.

"They were to hold their rally, then present their demands," the president said. "Instead, they stuck them in their pockets and decided to destroy part of the school."

In announcing his "armed camp" policy, Ewigleben said, "We have to demonstrate to everyone, even to other colleges across the nation, that a firm stand must be taken."

Hams Stolen

Canned hams worth $100 were reported missing Saturday from the Mayfair Market, 340 Third Street, San Rafael, police said.

and an exercise of judgment." This judgment, the court said, is reserved under federal law for draft boards to make.

The vote was 8 to 1, with Justice Black opposing the court's action. He said simply that the court should have heard the Gabriel case.

The court acted summarily—that is, it ruled without first holding a hearing.

In other action today, the court:

Agreed to an indefinite delay, asked by the Justice Department, of the merger of the Great Northern Railway, the Northern Pacific Railway, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and other railroads. The merged lines would stretch from Chicago to Seattle and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico.

Said it would hear a case, from Arkansas, that questions the constitutionality of allowing juries, without some guidance from trial judges, to impose the death penalty at their own discretion.

Agreed to hear an attack on Alabama election laws which were challenged as racially motivated and designed to keep Negroes from winning public office.

Consented to a request that it decide if unions can force companies to bargain although certification elections have not been held. The National Labor Relations Board, which made the request, said the fact that a majority of the workers signed up with the union is sufficient to force bargaining.

STORM

in Terra Linda. First, at 8:30 a.m., the backyard at the home of Sven Olund, 760 P enny Royal Lane, began flooding, apparently because of plugged drains, but water did not enter his house.

Then, at 9 a.m., a 20-foot section of a tree fell on the roof of the J. C. Reynolds home at 787 Penny Royal Lane. It did not break through the roof, however, and firemen pulled it off.

The storm, which came off the Northern California coast at about 4 a.m. yesterday, was followed by sparkling skies last night and today, and the U.S. Weather Bureau predicted fair weather through tomorrow.

The high tomorrow will be in the 50s, and overnight the low will be in the 30s and upper 20s. Winds will be light.

Rainfall counts for the 48 hours up to 8 a.m. today were led by Terra Linda, where firemen reported a total of 2.19 inches. Other 48-hour counts were San Rafael, 1.67; Sausalito, .64 of an inch; Mill Valley, 1.06; Bolinas, .87; Hamilton Air Force Base, 1.54, and Novato, 1.09.

In Tiburon, only .48 of an inch was recorded in the 48 hours — the wind blew too hard for the rain gauge to work.

In the Tamalpais Valley reading of 1.04 for the 48 hours, .65 of an inch fell in only one hour between 9 and 10 a.m. yesterday.

Petaluma reported a 72-hour total of 1.41 inches.

OBITUARIES

IRWIN SCHWASSMAN

Private funeral for Irwin Schwassman, 78, of 226 Magnolia Avenue, San Rafael, was held today at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Schwassman, who had lived in Marin three years, died Saturday at a local hospital after a short illness.

Schwassman was born in Brazil and lived there until after he retired from the accounting business. He moved to New York before coming to California.

He is survived by his wife, Kate Schwassman.

HELEN HALL

Helen Elizabeth Hall, 64, of 516 Richardson Street, Sausalito, died at her home at 7 a.m. yesterday.

She was the wife of Jeff M. Hall, a retired public relations executive with the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Hall was a secretary for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Francisco for 40 years. A native of Alamosa, Colo., she had lived in Marin 16 years and in California 54 years.

She is survived by her husband.

Funeral arrangments were pending at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

ANNA KAUSCHA

Mrs. Anna Fassbind Kauscha, 79, of Larkspur, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Switzerland, she lived in California for 60 years, the past 15 in Marin. She resided at 15 Wiltshire Avenue.

Mrs. Kauscha was a member of the Decorations Guild of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

She reportedly has no immediate survivors. She was the widow of John A. Kauscha Sr.

Requiem Mass will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Anthony's Church, San Francisco. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Gantner-Felder-Kenny Mortuary, San Francisco.

MAY MILLER

May Miller of 36 Mercury Avenue, Tiburon, died at her home Saturday following a long illness. She was 83.

A native of Lompoc, Santa Barbara County, Mrs. Miller moved to Tiburon as a young girl and lived there from 1901 to 1906, when she moved to San Francisco. She lived in San Francisco until 1964 when she moved back to Tiburon to live with her daughter, Wanda J. Roby.

Mrs. Miller also is survived by another daughter, Gloria J. Kavanaugh of San Jose, six grand children and one great-grandchild.

Private funeral will be held tomorrow at the Memorial Chapels of Russell and Gooch in Mill Valley. Interment will be at the Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

Woman Claims Injury From Beating Attack

Mrs. Mabel Eichenbaum, 68, of 106 Deer Hollow Road, San Anselmo, was reported in satisfactory condition at Marin General Hospital today with a cut left ear which she claimed was suffered when she was attacked in bed early today.

Sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Eichenbaum reported at 2:10 a.m. that two unidentidied men entered her home and beat her while she was in bed. Deputies reported no evidence that anyone had entered.

FBI'S HOOVER TO REMAIN AS DIRECTOR

NEW YORK (UPI) — John Edgar Hoover, 73, the only boss the Federal Bureau of Investigation ever had, will be back for another tour of duty in the Nixon administration.

Hoover, who headed the FBI since it was created in 1924, will be permitted to serve when President-elect Richard M. Nixon signs a waiver of the compulsory retirement age of 65. President Johnson did it four years ago.

The announcement Hoover has agreed to remain was to come today from Nixon's press spokesman, Ronald Ziegler, at a briefing before the president-elect meets with Republican congressional leaders.

Oregon Senate Recount Slow

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — more than 8 per cent of the ballots already recounted in Oregon's U.S. Senate race have been challenged and, as a result, observers say it may be Christmas before the recount is complete.

No significant change has emerged in the recount requested by Democrat Wayne Morse, a senator for 24 years who lost by a margin of 3,445 votes to Republican Robert Packwood.

Thirteen smaller counties of Oregon's 36 have completed their work, but that represents less than 13 per cent of the total vote.

GOP Advisers Urge Doubled Crime Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — The House Republican Task Force on Crime has advised President-tlect Nixon to double the number of Justice Department lawyers assigned to fighting organized crime, the New York Times reported today.

In a Washington dispatch by Fred P. Graham, the newspaper said Nixon's main congressional advisers on crime also urged him to use electronic eavesdropping "on an extremely selective and carefully controlled basis."

The task force submitted its recommendations in a 9,000-word report about 10 days ago, the Times said.

The report recommended:

Increasing the number of lawyers in the Justice Department's Organized Crime Division from about 60 to at least 120 by June 30, 1970;

Working out guidelines for using electronic surveillance against racketeers;

Expanding the Justice Department's antiracketeering "strike forces" initiated by Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, who was a prime Nixon target during the campaign;

Promptly enacting new federal gambling laws to replace the gambling tax declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court last spring.

National Crime Rate Up 19 Per Cent Over 1967

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The national crime rate for the first nine months of 1968 was 19 per cent above the same period last year, the FBI said today.

Cities of more than 250,000 population had an average crime increase of 21 per cent for the period, suburban communities had a 19 per cent increase and rural areas a 13 per cent, the agency said in a periodic report compiled from statistics provided by local law enforcement agencies.

For June the FBI said violent crimes in the first quarter of 1968 were up 18 per cent over the first three months of 1967. In September, it reported crimes of violence in the first half of 1968 increased 21 per cent over the first six months of last year.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said violent crimes in the first three-quarters of 1968 were up 32 per cent from last year, forcible rape up 17 per cent, murder up 15 per cent and aggravated assault up 13 per cent.

Hoover said firearms were used in the commission of 65 per cent of all murders during the nine-month period and in 23 per cent of all aggravated assaults. The use of firearms in serious assaults rose 26 per cent over the previous year, he said.

Street robbery, which accounted for more than half of the robbery offenses in the FBI report, increased 37 per cent; service station robbery was up 31 per cent; holdups of business establishments, 28 per cent; chain stores, 20 per cent, and robbery of residences, 19 percent.

Thefts of more than $50 rose 23 per cent, auto thefts were up 22 per cent and burglary 16 percent. As a group, property crimes registered a 19 per cent rise over the comparable 1967 period.

On a regional basis, crime rose 25 per cent in the Northeast, 19 percent in the West, 17 per cent in the South and 16 per cent in the North Central states.

The statistics are based on voluntary reports from 4,490 police agencies representing a total population of 146,857,000.

Supreme Court Upholds Gag On Sirhan Discussion

In a brief order, the court refused to hear an appeal. (See also Supreme Court story, page 1.)

Sirhan is scheduled to go on trial in Los Angeles Superior Court Jan. 6 on a charge of assassinating the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy last June.

The Superior Court issued the publicity-curbing order June 7, the day Sirhan was indicted and two days after Kennedy was shot at a primary election victory celebration.

The order is not directed to news media, but rather to attorneys, police, grand jurors, subpoenaed witnesses and others officially connected with the case. It directs them—on penalty of "swift action to punish for contempt" — not to release or give opinions about evidence, documents, exhibits or similar aspects of the case.

The order exempts basic facts and information which has already been made public in legal proceedings.

The order was challenged by Los Angeles Dist. Atty. Evelle J. Younger, who is prosecuting Sirhan. Younger's petition to strike down the order was denied by the California Court of Appeal and the California Supreme Court refused to review the case.

In appealing to the U. S. Supreme Court, Younger said the curb on discussion failed to balance the need for a fair trial with the right of free speech and predicted it would give rise to irresponsible speculation.

"The only feasible way to neet this danger of false charges and rumors is to allow responsible public officials to indicate, on occasion, why certain witnesses have not been used, or how certain leads have proven false or irrevelent," he said.

The district attorney called the restriction particularly unfortunate in light of the national and international political interest in the trial.

In replying, attorneys for the Superior Court cited the Supreme Court's 1966 ruling that publicity had prejudiced the murder trial of Dr. Samuel Sheppard. They said that without some restriction, prejudicial publicity was likely to occur in the Sirhan case.

In its brief, the Superior Court said the order did not suppress all information, and did not restrain free speech since it was not directed to the news media.

The Superior Court said it felt the order was supported both by recommendations of the American Bar Association's "Reardon Report" and by the Free Press-Fair Trial" report developed by a committee of the U.S. Judicial Conference. It said the latter report "specifically recommends special orders in widely publicized and sensational cases."

New School Idea Subject Of Meetings

Faculty of Terra Linda and San Rafael high schools are meeting this week with architects to discuss a proposed "school within a school" concept which may be used for a third high school in the San Rafael High School District.

Dr. John F. Plank, district superintendent, said the board of education asked the meetings to hash out the feasibility of a different type of school for the northern part of the district.

The concept would include students having a corps of teachers for basic subjects, with specialties such as industrial arts and music separate. The idea of the plan would be to make education more personal and individualized, he said.

Representatives of Marshall and Bowles, San Francisco architects, are meeting with Terra Linda High faculty today and tomorrow and San Rafael High teachers on Wednesday and Thursday.

If the new concept for a third high school is not adopted, the board of trustees has asked the firm for an alternate plan of enlarging the two current schools to 3,000 students each, according to Plank.

Prison Official Gets New Post

Dr. Homer J. Hastings, an associate warden at San Quentin, will become departmental supervisor of education in the California Department of Corrections in January, replacing Lorentz E. Wormly, who is retiring.

Dr. Hastings has been in charge of classification and treatment at San Quentin for the past three years. Before that he was head of the prison education program.

Wormly began his educational career with the Monterey Union High School District in the 1930s and later became assistant state supervisor in the department of education. He established the National Defense Training Program for the Bureau of Trade and Industrial Education.

CIA Director Exchanges Vows

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Richard M. Helms, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, and Mrs. Cynthia McKelvie of Washington, were married here Saturday.

It was the second marriage for each. Both previous marriages ended in divorce.

Helms, 55, became director of the CIA in 1966 when Adm. William F. Raborn retired.

Driver Is Bruised When Car Overturns

Eduino Pimentel, 29, of 673 Plum Street, Novato, was treated at Novato General Hospital yesterday for bruises of the neck, chest and hands after the car he rode in overturned on the Point Reyes-Petaluma Road, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The CHP said the accident occurred at 7:30 a.m. when the car, driven by Jose A. Jorge, 34, of 676 Plum Street, Novato, slid off a curve in heavy rain.

Cuba Claims Capture Of Exile Invaders

HAVANA (AP) — The government announced today it has captured five cuban exiles who landed with arms on Cuba's north Coast Dec. 2.

The announcement, published in the Communist party newspaper Granma, identified all five as from Miami, Fla.

It said the five made their landing from a small launch in Pinar del Rio Province, which makes up the western end of Cuba, and split up into two groups, but were seized two days later by units of the armed forces and the Interior Ministry.

The launch was described as "of a type used by the CIA (meaning the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency) in its incursions against our country."

The announcement said the group was armed with six grenades, a signal pistol, three rifles, two .45-caliber pistols and a quantity of ammunition.

Granma, which published photographs of the five, identified them as Ernest Diaz Rodriquez Lorenzo, Antonio Manuel Rodriguez, Emilio Nazario Perez Sargent, Felipe Sanchez Olivera, and Hemenogildo Rodriguez Perez, all of Miami.

They will be put at "the disposition of revolutionary courts," the announcement said.

The landing site was pinpointed as El Morrillo Beach, near the minor port of Cabanas 38 miles southwest of Havana.

It described Rodriguez Perez as a nephew of Fulgencio Perez, "who completed missions of infiltration under orders of the Central Intelligence Agency and was captured in October 1965."

Two of the group, according to the announcement—Diaz Rodriguez and Perez Sargent—belonged to anti-Castro exile organizations, Alpha 66 and the Second Front of Escambray.

Granma said the two exile organizations had a record of attacks against Fidel Castro's government and that they recently formed a coalition. It reported a coalition leader, Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, had been captured with others in Oriente Province, at the eastern end of Cuba, but gave no date.

Pleads Guilty In Rail Car Thefts

Ronald David Halverson, 19, of San Rafael, pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court today to a charge of petty theft for the theft of items March 12 from a Northwestern Pacific Railroad car in San Rafael.

He was originally charged with burglary and possession of stolen property for the crime, but that charge was dropped by the district attorney today.

Halverson was told to return to court Jan. 13 for sentencing.

Woman Reports Attack Attempt

A 35-year-old Petaluma woman reported Saturday that a man she met Friday night at Nave Lanes Bowling Alley, Ignacio, tried to assault her after an evening of eating and drinking in Sausalito.

The woman told deputies the man offered her $50 for her panties and then exposed himself, while the car was parked on Highway 101, between San Rafael and Ignacio.

She said she became alarmed and tried to leave the car but a struggle ensued during which she claimed the man tried to choke her, deputies reported.

She said a passing motorist picked her up and took her home. She could not identify the man, sheriff's deputies said.

Golf Course On Tap At San Rafael Council

A proposed 18-hole golf course on the Smith Brothers Ranch north of Gallinas Creek will be discussed again by the San Rafael City Council at 8 p.m. today in the city hall.

The city in July passed a resolution encouraging creation of a nonprofit corporation which would issue bonds to finance the $1.3 million course and lease it back to the city.

In October councilmen asked for more study of other cities which have similar arrangements before going further with the proposal.

Also on the agenda for the meeting is a proposed new ordinance prohibiting loafing or loitering on commercial property. An ordinance adopted to protect Northgate merchants from long-haired youths who loitered at the center was declared unconstitutional Dec. 6 by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court.

The council also will discuss a proposed agreement between the city and Marin County to finance jointly a study of traffic patterns around the courthouse.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said that in order to attract commercial enterprise to the courthouse square, which is to be vacated by the county this spring, better access will have to be provided.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases – to promptly stop itching, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

Tests by doctors proved that in case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction of the inflamed hemorrhoids took place.

The secret is Preparation H®. There's no other formula like it! Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Foot Chase Capture In Auto Theft Probe

A San Francisco youth who allegedly tried to evade a California Highway Patrol chase, was caught on foot by Sausalito police near Rodeo Avenue Saturday morning.

The youth, Gary Anthony Acosta, 22, of 1645 Burrow Street, was booked at the Marin County Jail on suspicion of auto theft and possessing a forged prescription and placed under $1,200 bail.

Acosta was driving south on Highway 101 near Marin City shortly after 8 a.m. when California Highway Patrol officer D. R. Welty spotted him in a car reported stolen from James J. Becker of 522 Baker Street, Petaluma.

Welty halted the car south of the Waldo tunnel and Acosta got out of the car, but when Welty motioned him to step off the highway, he jumped back onto the car and fled, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Acosta doubled back on Highway 101 and took the Rodeo Avenue exit into Sausalito, where he was caught by Sausalito police when he got out of the car and fled on foot to the walkway of the Ardilla apartments, 45 Rodeo Avenue, officers aaid.

Market Robbed By 'Grubby' Man

An armed man, described as "dirty and grubby," last night forced employees of the Purity Store, 210 Western Avenue, Petaluma, to empty the contents of the store safe into a shopping bag. Store officials said the amount of loss has not been determined.

Employees said the man entered the store at the 7 p.m. closing time and ordered clerk Bob Lee to empty the safe. Lee said the man waved a .38 caliber revolver.

As he left the store, the robber said "this is for real," employees said. He was reported to have driven away in a green or black volkswagen. The man was described as five feet, six inches tall and between 30 and 30 years old. He wore a black navy watch cap, dirty old clothes and green bubble sun glasses, they said.

Pickets Greet Sonoma Students

The students had been picketing in front of Stevenson Hall in an attempt to have others join in a boycott of classes. When this failed, leaders of the strike committee moved to the main entrance "just to let others know a strike is going on," they said.

The committee canceled requests for students to assembled in San Francisco today when strike leaders there called off a unity rally at Civic Center. Leaders said they would work for solidarity at Sonoma State instead.

Hub Driver Nabbed For High Speeds

A San Anselmo driver was cited for speeding and reckless driving after a 100-mile-per-hour chase through the San Geronimo Vally at 3:50 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported

Cited was William Bicknell Lewis, 57, of 1623 San Anselmo Avenue, officers reported.

Officer Irwin W. Cantieri reported that he pursued Lewis's car eastbound on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Lagunitas to San Geronimo before Lewis halted east of the San Geronimo Valley National Golf Course.

Cantieri said he had to use his red light and siren and push his patrol car over 100 miles an hour to reach Lewis. Cantieri, who had been westbound, said he saw Lewis pass a jeep on a blind turn near Lagunitas thereby forcing another car to leave the roadway. He made a U-turn and gave chase.

Youngster Hurt In Car-Bike Crash

An 11-year-old Corte Madera boy was released from Marin General Hospital yesterday after treatment for multiple scrapes and head injuries suffered in a car-bicycle accident about 5 p.m. Friday on Paradise Drive in Corte Madera.

Police said Brian Cox of 101 Sonora Way was riding his bike near the Paradise Hardware when it collided with a car driven by Paul Della Santina, 16, of 57 Staghound Passage, Corte Madera.

Suspect Held For Auto Theft

Paul K. McSweeney, a resident of the Bermuda Palms Motel, San Rafael, was arrested yesterday on suspicion of auto theft, San Rafael police said.

McSweeney was apprehended at 35 Fairfax Street after police had spotted a salmon-white, two-door Chrysler sedan, reported stolen Dec. 11 by Novato police, leaving the Bermuda Palms.

He was released from Marin County Jail on $1,200 bail and will appear at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Project Easements Will Be Discussed

Requests from the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project for easements will be considered at the 8 p.m. meeting today of the Kentfield School District Board at Wolfe Grade School.

A 15-month temporary construction easement along the Adaline E. Kent School campus and a permanent right-of-way at the school to enable moving of equipment, are sought.

28-Foot Cruiser Sinks At Dock

A 28-foot cruiser owned by William J. Rogers of Oakland sank at a dock at the Loch Lomond Harbor, San Pedro Road, Saturday morning the San Rafael Fire Department reported.

Firemen said the cause of the sinking was undetermined. They were called out at 11:20 a.m. to disperse gasoline which had leaked onto surrounding water.

Phoenix is Arizona's capital.

MEET YOUR ARTHUR MURRAY DANCING TEACHER OF THE WEEK:

Dark-haired, green-eyed Al Parrish started dancing in his home town, Teheran, Persia (Iran). A ballet student at 11, he was active in theatrical work (drama and dancing) in high school and passed a screen test.

Nine years ago, Parrish came to the U.S. on a student visa to attend the University of Michigan, then California Polytechnical College in San Luis Obispo. He is enrolled at Heald's College of Engineering.

Ballroom dance training began at San Francisco for Parrish and he has been teaching for five years, specializing in Latin and International dancing styles. He has been one year with the San Anselmo studio.

Part of the team which earned the "Best Studio" award for the San Anselmo school, he won top honors with his student, Mrs. Jacqueline Filipelli, of Greenbrae.

His hobby is tennis. A gourmet, he enjoys fine foods and wines. Why don't you come in tonight and meet him? Take advantage of the opportunity to take dancing lessons from the world's best studio with our offer of 10 lessons for $10.

Ten Persons, Nine In One Car, Hurt As Cars Collide

Ten persons, nine of them members of a Petaluma area family, were injured in a head-on crash on Highway 116, a half mile west of Watmaugh Road, southwest of Sonoma, at 6:48 p.m. Saturday, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Officers said a car driven by Robert Anthony DeJoria, 51, of 295 Eucalyptus Avenue, Cotati, traveling on the wrong side of the highway, collided with a car driven by John R. Pruett, 49, of 4381 Middle Two Rock Road, west of Petaluma.

Pruett suffered a head cut, and James Pruett, 11, his nephew, suffered a fractured right leg. Other passengers in the Pruett car suffering minor injuries were Mrs. John Pruett, 40, the Pruett's daughter, Jan 11; James Pruett, 45, and Jean Pruett, 40, and their children, John, 9, Jeffrey, 8, and J. J. Pruett, 5, all of the same address, 4381 Middle Two Rock Road. They were treated at Sonoma Valley Hospital.

Closed Session On Teen Roles

Appointment of teen-agers to the Rohnert Park Recreation and Cultural Arts commissions will be studied in a closed session of the Rohnert Park City Council at 7:15 p.m. today.

In open session, the council will consider an ordinance requiring the licensing and regulation of dances and dance halls. The ordinance is sought by Bradley Koch, public safety director, to give police more control over dances.

SEASON'S FIRST SNOW

It's all downhill in New York's Central Park after the city's first snowfall of the season yesterday as a youngster, enjoying his ups and downs, takes a flyer at sledding. Snow, high winds and plunging temperatures kept most Northeast residents inside during the weekend. Additional snow was forecast today. (AP Wirephoto)

Arctic Air Pours Down Into Florida

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures plunged to freezing as far south as Florida today as Arctic air poured behind a storm center which dumped up to a foot of snow in some areas of the Northeast.

Miami recorded a 34-degree temperature reading early this morning — the coldest for any day in December since 1940. Patches of frost occurred inland from the Miami area northward through Florida. Atlanta reported an overnight reading of 21.

Heavy snow warnings and hazardous driving conditions remained in Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine as the storm center edged northward along the Maine coast.

The storm in the Northeast Sunday blanketed New York City with three inches of snow—the city's first measurable snow fall of the season — and closed Kennedy Airport for nearly seven hours.

Heavy snow fell in upper New York State and the Albany area had up to eight inches on the ground.

Three inches of snow covered the Pittsburgh, Pa., area and drifts up to two feet were reported in suburbs.

A hard freeze for the second consecutive night hit Alabama, Georgia and northern Florida. Freezing temperatures dipped south to New Orleans and the eastern Gulf Coast cities.

A 75-year-old woman was found frozen to death yesterday in a cotton field near her home in Winterboro, Ala. Authorities said Addie Lee Price was exposed to freezing temperatures Saturday night and early yesday.

Fair skies and cold temperatures prevailed over the nation's midsection.

Argument Over Ride Leaves One Person Dead

SAN LEANDRO (UPI) — A drug store owner was shot to death Saturday evening during an argument with the former owner over whom a woman clerk—the former owner's estranged wife—planned to ride home with.

Police said George Brignola, 59, owner of a West San Joaquin Avenue drug store, was killed by several .22-caliber bullets fired by William D. Perry, 66, a retired pharmacist, who once owned the store.

Police said Brignola and Perry's estranged wife, Geraldine, left the store about 6 p.m. and were confronted by Perry, who drove up in his car.

An argumeit ensued over who was going to drive Mrs. Perry home, and officers said Perry pulled out a pistol and opened fire.

Right-Wingers Meet Secretly

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — The editor of a West German right-wing newspaper said today 50 right-wingers met secretly last weekend to form an association to "promote a nationally-minded policy."

Dr. Gerhard Frey, editor of the Deutsche National und Soldaten Zeitun—German National and Soldiers' Newspaper—said he attended the meeting of various right-wing groups, including the National Democratic Party, or NPD, at Starnberg, upper Bavaria.

He said the new association plans to enlist support from nationally minded members of all West Germany political parties and was not directed against any existing parties. Frey added he did not join the association to insure the "absolutely independent" character of his paper.

The meeting was called by the former Munich district chairman of the NPD, Judge Jochen Kotzias, and a former Bavarian state legislator, Walter Brandner.

The December meeting of the Marin County Democratic Central Committee, scheduled for tomorrow evening in the Marin County Courthouse, has been canceled becasue of the coming Christmas holiday, chairman S. Robert Politzer has announced.

School Hit By $75,000 Blaze

OAKLAND (AP) — A fire that authorities said was set deliberately damaged two classrooms today at Lowell Junior High School.

Loss was estimated at more than $75,000.

The incident did not prevent resumption of classes in any but the two scorched rooms.

Sam Snead won the Masters golf tournament three times.

OPENING OF LA FEMME' BEAUTY SALON

The public is invited to come in and see the newly opened, ultra modern La Femme' beauty salon anytime Monday through Saturday, from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. The salon is located at 252 Almonte Blvd., Mill Valley, in the same building as Chinese Kitchen #2. Telephone number is 383-1464.

Richard Foster and Joseph Reed are the proprietors of this new salon. They offer the very latest in both fashion and styling. They cater both to the woman who wants her hair done in the traditional way as well as the modern sophisticate.

The operators specialize in cold wave permanents, relaxing permanents and hair coloring, hot iron curling, facials and manicures may be obtained.

Foster is a graduate of Sutton's College of Beauty in Los Angeles. He also attended Los Angeles City College and Gannon College of Erie, Pa.

Evelyn Walker, a graduate of Charm Beauty College, and Edward Banks, wig stylist, are associates of Foster and Reed. Miss Walker is formerly of Marin Beauty Center.

San Franciscan Injured In Wreck

Kathleen D. Mayer, 23, of San Francisco, was injured yesterday when her car ran off Petaluma-Valley Ford Road at Roblar Road, west of Petaluma, and struck a fence and utility pole.

She was treated at Petaluma General Hospital for facial cuts. The California Highway Patrol said the accident happened at 10:30 a.m.

Fair-Marin Contract Going Before Board

A formal contract with Fair-Marin Inc. to operate the 80-acre fairgrounds and veterans memorial auditorium will be presented to the Marin County Board of Supervisors tomorrow morning.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney will present a draft of an agreement under which Fair-Marin would operate the fairgrounds with a degree of autonomy, with the county retaining control over the budget.

The supervisors will also consider an agreement to have Marin Municipal Water District and North Marin County Water District serve as consultants on the county's sewerage plans.

Presiding Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court will report a workload crisis and ask for additional help in the court clerk's department.

The board meeting will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center.

Major item in the afternoon is a hearing on the proposal to dissolve Novato Sanitary District and have the North Marin County Water District take over its services.

The supervisors will also discuss a joint agreement with Corte Madera to get an option to buy 2.6 acres of land owned by Fred R. Sanford on Meadowsweet Drive near Highway 101 as a library site. Price of the parcel is $210,000.

County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker will ask for a zoning ordinance change to increase the parking ratio for multiple-family dwellings.

Vietnam Veteran Shot To Death In Bar Holdup

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A recently returned Vietnam War veteran was killed yesterday and another man critically wounded during a bar holdup by four masked men.

Police said the gunmen entered the tavern and took $50 from the cash drawer. They then ordered the customers to place their billfolds on the bar.

As the customers were doing this, one of the robbers turned to Robert J. Dooley, 29, of Long Beach, and shot him in the back, killing him almost instantly. Witnesses said there apparently had been no provocation for the shooting.

Two other men walked in shortly after the shooting. When they saw what was happening they tried to back out, but one of the gunmen fired, hitting Clifford Bean, 44, in the head. The four gunmen then fled.

Bean was hospitalized in critical condition.

Shower Injury

K. Craig Moyer, 43, of 414 Stuart Drive, Petaluma, was injured yesterday when he fell through a glass shower door at his home. Reported in good condition at Hillcrest Hospital today, he suffered severe cuts of the left arm, back and legs.

Britain Names New China Envoy

LONDON (AP) —Britain named a new chief envoy to Red China today but at below-ambassadorial level, underscoring the chill in London's relations with Peking.

The new man — John D. Denson—was appointed acting charge d'affaires. The post of charge d'affaires, held by Sir Donald Hopson until his return home last August, will remain vacant.

China's envoy to London, Shen Ping, also is acting charge d'affaires.

Denson, 42, will replace Percy Cradock, the only member of the present diplomatic staff in Peking who was with the mission when it was sacked by young Red Guard demonstrators last year. He is at present assistant head of the Foreign Office's Far East department.

Special Workshop

The Lagunitas School District board will have a special workshop session at 7:30 p.m. today at Lagunitas High School to review the building program for the San Geronimo Valley Elementary School.

Apollo 8 Mission Will Climax 10 Year Dream Of Moon Flight

By AL ROSSITER JR.

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The moon has awed man since his beginning. But he waited until Aug. 17, 1958, before trying to do anything more than gaze at it.

On that summer day in what was still the dawn of the space age—when men were still having difficulty placing satellites into earth orbit—a team of ambitious American rocketmen tried to send an 84-pound space machine into orbit around the moon.

They failed. Their skinny Thor-Able rocket blew up after traveling only 10 miles of the 238,000 mile journey to the sphere that has orbited earth for several billion years.

The moon turned out to be an elusive target for U. S. space scientists for six more years.

The Soviet Union, however, was more successful. An 860-pound capsule and burned out rocket combination named Lunik 2 smashed almost dead center into the side of the moon facing earth on Sept. 13, 1959. Lunik became the first man-made object to touch another celestial body, and it led the way for a wide variety of space machines that were to follow.

In all, man has tried to send probes to the moon 50 times. He has failed more than he has succeeded.

Now, the United States is sending three men into orbit around the moon—a feat that is hardly routine for unmanned spacecraft.

If Apollo 8 astronauts Frank Borman, James Lovell and William Anders are successful, and soar into a 69-mile high lunar orbit as planned, they will have taken the most important step in man's drive to conquer the moon since the age of space began 11 years ago.

They will see the moon as it has never been seen before, and they will be looking for the unexpected—something a machine can't be taught to do. But more important, they will be leading the way for a manned landing on the moon next year.

Robots have played a key role in laying the groundwork for the Apollo moon adventure by reconnoitering and giving man an idea of what to expect, and what to look for.

The first successful closeup lunar photographic probe was America's Ranger 7, an 807-pound bundle of television cameras that beamed 4,308 pictures back to earth before crashing as planned into the moon's Sea of Clouds on July 31, 1964. It's photographs were up to 1,000 times better than the best taken from earth.

Rangers 8 and 9 followed in 1965 and transmitted back 12,951 more high quality closeup moon pictures.

The Soviet Union at this time was concentrating its efforts on more ambitious landing attempts. And it was not having any success.

But finally, on Jan. 31, 1966, a Russian spacecraft named Luna 9 managed to land on the moon's surface in operating condition. It was a relatively crude spacecraft—far less sophisticated than the American Surveyors that had not yet flown—but it was first. And it returned 27 pictures of the lunar surface before its batteries died.

Then, two months later, a Soviet craft named Luna 10 scored another first — it achieved an orbit around the moon.

America's new entry in the lunar sweepstakes—Surveyor 1—beat heavy odds against it and landed softly on the Sea of Storms June 2. The amazing three-legged spacecraft used a rotating television camera to transmit 11,237 highly detailed pictures of the moonscape back to earth.

It was followed, in a pattern not unlike Russia's, by the successful flight of a twin-eyed camera satellite named Lunar Orbiter 1 into orbit around the moon on Oct. 29, 1966.

Four of the next six Surveyors successfully landed on the moon and transmitted thousands more closeup pictures of the lunar surface—confirming once and for all that the moon is safe for manned landings.

All five American lunar orbiters were successful and complemented the Surveyor surface exploration by snapping detailed photographs of Apollo astronaut landing sites.

Russia aso succeeded in additional lunar probes and then, in October and November this year, the Soviets took another major step forward by firing the Zond 5 and 6 spacecraft around the moon and back to earth for the first time.

But the biggest step of all will be taken by America's three Apollo 8 astronauts, beginning Saturday. Their mission will be surpassed only by the actual landing of men on the moon, and that could come as early as next summer.

FRIDAY 13TH JOKESTER

Atlanta expressway motorists were just getting used to the new traffic safety signs when this new one appeared in the 5 o'clock rush hour last Friday — the unlucky 13th. The safety series was designed to prevent the growing number of accidents, but this one almost caused a few. (UPI Telephoto)

Couple Killed As Car Slams Into Their Bedroom

LIVONIA, Mich. (AP)—A man and his wife were killed today when an automobile tore into a bedroom where they were sleeping in this Detroit suburb.

They were Charles Raymond Oja, 35, and his wife, Jaqueline Ann, 29. Both were in bed when a Cadillac went out of control on Five Mile Road and swerved into a corner of their home, tearing its way into the bedroom at 12:12 a.m.

The driver, Neal Gardiner, 35, of Livonia, was seriously injured and hospitalized. Police have been unable to question him.

Service Station Robbed Of $25

Four young men, drinking wine and one armed with a knife, early yesterday robbed a service station attendant of about $25, Corte Madera police reported today.

Officers said James C. Davis, an attendant at the Standard Oil Station at the Corte Madera Center, said the quartet, all Negroes, arrived in a brown and white car about 2:30 a.m. and one ordered $3 worth of gasoline.

While he was servicing the vehicle, he said, one placed the knife against his back and demanded money from the cash box. Davis said he complied and the four, who were drinking from a gallon bottle of wine, drove off.

Davis described the knife-wielder as tall, wearing glasses, and having a blue turtle-neck sweater. He said another was of medium build, with a beard, and the third was small and wearing a striped shirt. The fourth was wearing a small derby hat, Davis added.

Forehead Is Cut In Auto Accident

Deborah Brunsell, 16, of 225 Martinique Avenue, Tiburon, suffered a minor forehead cut yesterday after her car apparently was involved in an accident on Paradise Drive near Westward Drive, Corte Madera police reported today.

She was treated at Marin General Hospital. Officers said the hospital notified them of the injury at 3:30 p.m. yesterday. The car was found on Paradise Drive but details of the accident were not immediately known, police said.

Clash Seen Between Nixon, Congress On Information

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A clash between Congress and President-elect Richard M. Nixon on the question of how much information about the government a president may withhold from congressional questioners was foreseen today by an expert in the field.

Samuel J. Archibald, Washington director of the University of Missouri's Freedom of Information Center, noted that Nixon during the campaign answered a question about "executive privilege" by saying he would assert it "only in rare circumstances."

But, said Archibald, "He appears to be saying he will return to the system in effect in the Eisenhower administration. At that time, department heads and other lesser employees of the executive branch cited the president's privilege in refusing information requests."

According to records of a House information subcommittee, President Eisenhower's 1954 letter asserting his right to refuse to present information requested by a Senate committee was cited 44 times by lesser executive branch officials to justify refusals to make information public.

In 1962, invoking the same claim for himself, President John F. Kennedy told Congress that "executive privilege can be invoked only by the president."

In response to questions posed by the American Society of Newspaper Editors during the campaign, Nixon said:

"Executive privilege must be very narrowly construed. It should be asserted only in rare circumstances and then only by the president or by a responsible top echelon subordinate acting under guidelines clearly set out by the President."

Archibald pointed to Nixon's willingness to extend the claim to subordinates in predicting a collision course between Nixon and the 91st Congress, which will be controlled by Democrats.

At the same time he predicted that the Nixon administration will generally be more open in its public information policies than the Johnson Administration has been.

He said Nixon's public pronouncements on the public's right to know and his appointment of Herbert G. Klein as the administration's "communications director" portend fewer information barriers.

Archibald made his comments in an interview.

Ouster Asked Of FAA Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government union air/traffic controllers has demanded removal of Acting Federal Aviation Administration head D. D. Thomas on grounds he authorized use of "inadequately trained and unqualified personnel."

The FAA responded that there was nothing new in the complaint by the professional air traffic division of the National Association of Government Employees, including the complaint of understaffed control centers.

"That's why we got permission to hire 2,000 more controllers," the FAA man said.

Jewel Case Taken

A small jewel case containing $770 in jewelry was taken from her home sometime in November, Patricia Ann Briggs, 34, of 1412 Cambridge Street, Novato, reported Friday to Novato police.

Injuries Minor In 101 Accident

Arlene Jane O'Brien, 21, San Francisco, suffered a minor cut on the right temple when her car struck the median barrier on Highway 101 at the San Rafael viaduct at 7:45 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Her car struck the barrier after the left front wheel blew out, officers said. She told officers she would be treated by her own doctor.

New Republic Magazine Founder Dies

TOTNES, England (AP) — Dorothy Whitney Straight Elmhirst, 81, a founder of The New Republic magazine and various educational projects, died Saturday at Dartington Hall in Devon.

The daughter of William C. Whitney, American financier and President Grover Cleveland's secretary of the Navy, Mrs. Elmhirst spent her life campaigning for social and educational "adventure through unity, not uniformity."

In 1911 she married Willard Straight, a banker.

Influenced by Herbert Croly's "The Promise of American Life," the Straights founded The New Republic. Straight enlisted in World War I and died in France in 1918.

She married agriculturist Leonard K. Elmhirst in 1925 and moved to Britain, where the couple purchased Dartington Hall, a roofless ruin populated by chickens and pigs. They turned it into one of Britain's leading coeducational boarding schools and model farms, founded a center for arts and crafts education in the west of England and built a glass factory.

Accidents in the home took 28,500 lives in 1967, says the National Safety Council.

Ammonia Molecules Discovered In Space

BERKELEY (UPI) — University of California scientists have announced the discovery in outer space of ammonia molecules — believed to be one of the "chemical ancestors" of life.

"The discovery marks the first time that a relatively complex molecular compound has been definitely identified in the vast regions between the stars," said an announcement yesterday.

"The finding gains added interest, at least in a speculative sense, because ammonia substances have often been proposed as chemical ancestors of organic compounds and hence as necessary steps toward "the origin of life," the announcement added.

In addition to detecting ammonia molecules in space, the scientists were able to estimate their density and measure their temperature.

Scientists said the discovery represents a breakthrough in radio astronomy, the science in which radio waves from distant stars are analyzed to determine their chemical sources.

Ammonia molecules were found to be "quite abundant" in clouds of dust and gas which float between the stars in our galaxy. These clouds are also known to contain hydrogen and nitrogen, but this is the first time a more complicated molecule has been identified there.

The clouds which were analyzed are located in the direction of the star Sagittarius towards the center of the Milky Way galaxy, of which our solar system is a part.

The scientists said they have not determined how far away the clouds are, but the center of the Milky Way is about 30,000 light years(from earth one light-year is about six trillion miles).

The clouds, measuring "a few light-years" in size, are probably mostly hydrogen, the researchers said. But there may be other compounds as well as ammonia, including water, methane and other combinations of hydrogen, oxygen, carbon or nitrogen atoms.

Arrest Made In Assault Probe

A Forest Knolls man was booked into Marin County jail on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon Friday after he allegedly attacked two Pacific Gas and Electric Co. employees when they tried to collect an overdue bill, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Roy C. Stolzheise of Santa Rosa and Francis L. Leach of Napa told deputies Louis Fred Cisco, 25, of 175 Resaca Avenue, forced them from his home at rifle point and hit them with the barrel of a .30/30-caliber rifle when they tried to collect a $25.11 bill.

Cisco was held in lieu of $1,250 bail and was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Driver Reports Stab In Back From Hitchhiker

Grant Pierce, 38 of 127 Oak Springs, San Anselmo, was treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday for a stab in the back he said was inflicted by a hitchhiker, sheriff's deputies reported.

Deputies said Pierce told them he picked up a youth between 17 and 20 on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Highway 101 about 3 a.m. Saturday.

He said he reached to retrieve a fallen windshield wiper knob in the vicinity of Bon Air Road and the youth hit him in the back and told him casually, "There's a knife in your back."

Pierce reported he was unable to remove the knife, so the assailant did and then got out of the car while Pierce continued to the hospital for treatment of a 1.5 inch puncture wound, deputies said.

Trustees To Hear State Grievances

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California State College board of trustees have agreed to hear grievances of a teachers union at San Francisco State College.

American Federation of Teachers Local 1352 had warned it would go on strike Jan. 6 if "meaningiul negotiations" did not take place before classes resume.

The board of trustees earlier said it opposed mediation and noted that the local—with about 250 of 1,100 instructors at the college as members—had no contract.

But George Johns, San Francisco Labor Council secretary, said yesterday he received a telegram from Trustees Chairman Theodore Meriam of Chico, outlining circumstances for such a hearing.

Johns said the offer had been accepted and suggested an early meeting be held.

Meriam's telegram said the trustees or their representatives were authorized by law on a proper request to meet with an employee organization or representative, Johns said.

It said the AFT local was such an employee group within the law.

Teachers have demanded better working conditions, more autonomy for the campus and resolution of student problems which have kept the campus in turmoil for more than a month.

S. I. Hayakawa, acting San Francisco State president, said he was glad to hear of the trustees' action and added "As a communicator I believe in communication." He closed the school for the holidays a week early because of the campus turmoil.

Negro Occupation Of University Ends

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The 10-day occupation by about 40 Negro Students of two offices at Washington University ended over the weekend.

A hearing is scheduled today by a panel selected by the students and university officials concerning four campus policemen. Their arrest of a Negro graduate student Dec. 5 set off the demonstration by Negro students who alleged he was roughed up. The students have demanded that three of the policemen be dismissed and the fourth suspended.

The students, carrying blankets and pillows departed the school's accounting office in Brookings Hall Saturday afternoon.

The leader of the group, Robert Johnson of Philadelphia, said "We decided to leave because we felt we had accomplished about all we could with this kind of demonstration."

"From now on we will work with faculty committees, student groups and administration committees to achieve our goals," he said.

Chancellor Thomas H. Eliot said no concessions were made at a meeting Saturday morning with the students. But, he said, "there was a fairly wide area of agreement from the beginning." Eliot said the university agreed to try for increased Negro enrollments in the professional and graduate schools.

Archbishop To Visit Vietnam

The archbishop is the Roman Catholic military vicar of the U.S. armed forces, a post held by Cardinal Spellman until his death a year ago.

Archbishop Cooke said he will visit Germany, Turkey, Iran, Thailand, South Vietnam, the Philippines, Taiwan, South Korea and Japan before returning Jan. 5.

Students In France Calm Down

PARIS (AP) — Students agitated at Nanterre again today but were cooling it elsewhere, perhaps as a result of severe punishment authorized over the weekend.

Fewer than 1,000 Nanterre students paraded around the campus on the outskirts of Paris, shouting for the rector to resign. They also yelled, "Kick out the police," and "End police repression!"

Several busloads of police watched calmly for a while, then took up positions by the entrance to the school buildigs. The students went to a big amphitheater for a meeting. There was no violence.

At Marseille weekend troubles subsided and at Clermont-Ferrand a strike call was only partially successful. Elsewhere calm was the rule.

The government during the weeken authorized rectors to ban any student for five years if he was guilty of acting against the liberty of others or public order.

Missing GI Turned Over To Authorities

Claude Melvin Phillips, 23, of 419 Drake Avenue, Marin City, has been turned over to military police at the Presidio of San Francisco following his arrest by sheriff's deputies Thursday on a charge of desertion from the Army.

Units Patrol Campus As Arsonists Strike

The Kansas fire marshal, Arthur Ramey, said the fire Friday night which left only the walls of Nichols gymnasium was "a set fire." He also confirmed that one of the ROTC guards scared off someone who was possibly trying to set fire to Farrell Library early yesterday morning.

Officials said an unidentified person reportedly made a statement at a student-faculty forum Thursday night that the university might be burned if students are not given a greater voice in curriculum and policies.

"I can say it was a set fire and an accelerant was used," Ramey said. Debris from the fire is being analyzed in a Topeka laboratory.

Ramey said an ROTC student saw a person in the early darkness yesterday apparently pouring a liquid at the base of the five-story Farrell Library. The person fled. A foreign substance was found on the ground beside the library, and it also is being analyzed.

"The investigation is continuing," Ramey said. "It hasn't been very fruitful yet. There is no conclusive evidence and no good suspects."

The Kansas Bureau of Investigation also is involved in the probe.

Furious Knife Fight Leaves Roommate Dead

Police investigators were waiting for Lee Gaffney, 24, to recover sufficiently to explain what provoked the battle in the Pacific Heights apartment he shared with Erwin Freund, 26. Freund died of approximately 40 knife wounds in his chest and abdomen.

The Saturday night battle was overheard by two other men in the apartment building. As one of the men called police the other broke into the apartment and tried to separate Gaffney and Freund.

The fight did not stop, however, until police officer James Pera arrived and pulled Gaffney away.

According to Pera, Gaffney tried to flee the apartment but collapsed of his own wounds.

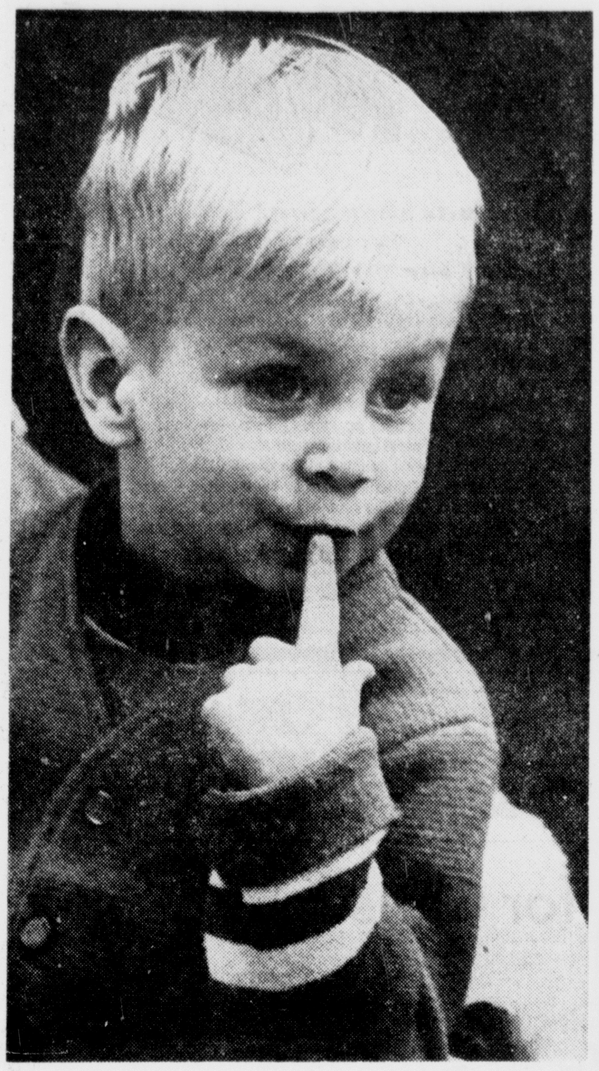
Tots Talk To Santa Claus



LET ME SEE. . . . Oh yes, I remember what I want, could be the thoughts of this young man sitting on Santa's knee in the Northgate shopping center. Like most who come to talk with Santa, he is a little shy yet excited and eager.

THE JOY OF CHRISTMAS in the faces of two happy little girls frames the rosy cheeks of jovial Santa Claus. The gentleman from the North Pole hears many requests and listens to them all but the best came from a small boy wishing everyone could have a happy Christmas. I'M TWO, SANTA CLAUS! And another child reflects the excitement in having his moment with possibly the most beloved of all American traditions. With a smile like that maybe Santa will just empty his big bag of toys at this tot's house.

While Parents Show Emotions

By GRACE HENDERSON

Santa Claus is not dead, he lives in the hearts of boys and girls everywhere. He is very much alive and carrying out the traditions of Christmas time, USA, 1968.

Amidst news of unrest, riots, strife and war the Christmas spirit comes through and once again American children are flocking to department stores and street corners to get in a few words with the "big man in the red suit."

Marin children are no exception as a recent afternoon in Northgate shopping center proved. In one day, alone, more than 200 small fry stood patiently, not so patiently; happy and not so happy, in line at a department store to tell Mr. Santa Claus that they have been good children and "I would like . . ."

Nursery age tots were for the most part non-talkative and five-year-olds seemed awestruck. With the beginning of school the shyness vanished and Santa heard them "loud and clear."

A very polite Katy requested a jewelry making set and three-year-old Kevin said he would like a walkie-talkie "when I grow up." For now he will settle for a robot along with approximately ten per cent of those expressing their wishes.

Standing in line, sometimes ten deep, children anxiously anticipated what they would tell Santa in their turn. Two boys and a girl came hurrying to the line and one, obviously unable to control his excitement, shouted "I told you Santa Claus was here!" One lad stood nonchalantly chewing his gum while another sucked his thumb and a third rehearsed his speech.

A little five-year-old "doll" with a pink ribbon in her hair seemed to have an inside track to Santa's ear and was followed by twin boys, 4, one bashful, looking as though he could shed a tear in fright, and the second more outgoing and eager to talk.

Twins seemed to dominate and Linda and Nancy informed Mr. Claus they would celebrate their birthday the day after Christmas to which Santa replied "You must have been a big surprise the year you came." Linda was quick to inform the public "I'm five minutes older than Nancy."

Santa showed his understanding for the problems of parents with his approach to children reciting long lists of demands. He listened patiently then responded with "I'll tell you what we'll do. Now listen very carefully . . . you have given me a long list of things you want but I'll promise you one thing. O.K.? I'll remember what you have told me and think about it and then I'll just bring whatever I think is best for you." This was usually agreeable.

Television advertising was most apparent with the requests. Santa now and then would inquire as to whether the child had seen the toy they wished for. Most answered they had not but that they saw it on television.

Bryan, 2, was more interested in the candy kisses beside Santa's chair which were given at the end of each visit. He refused to cooperate until he had a piece of the candy in his hand, them promptly demanded some for his six-year-old brother, Bobby.

Several tots mentioned having seen Santa earlier in the day. One related "I saw a ginger house and that Santa Claus gave me a candy cane." Another, a bouncy lad named David, told Santa he was six years old to which the next in line put him down with "You're four." But David was not to be repulsed and stayed on his main theme, that of having seen " 'nother Santa Claus."

Not many showed overwhelming interest in the flowing white beard bringing to mind the many beards seen on men this year. Perhaps their daddy has one at home. One little lady said after her visit with the North Pole gentleman that her Daddy used to have a beard but now he doesn't have one. And added she likes it better this way, because his face doesn't scratch now.

Red-haired, freckle-faced Terry said he would like a five-speed bike and Santa responded he had seen one in the workshop "just the other day." His elf was riding it he said, but when he (Santa) tried he found he was just too big. However, he thought a boy like Terry really would enjoy a five-speed bike.

John, who said he wants ice skates and a horsey t-h-i-s tall was drowned out by his friend Randy, next in line, with "I've got a lot more on my list than he does."

As usual, a few requests were made for babies in the family but by and large most lists were traditional, naming a horse, train, dolls, etc. But the most refreshing words of all to busy Mr. Santa were those of children asking for simple things: a candy cane, "anything you decide," and topped off by a small boy with an earnest request:

1968 Is Milestone Year For Christmas Cards

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The year is one of milestones for the Christmas card industry.

For one thing, the Yule card is observing its 93rd birthday in the United States.

SECONDLY, the world observes the 150th anniversary of the beautiful "Silent Night, Holy Night." The carol, although not of U.S. origin, provides one of the central religious themes of the 1968 greeting cards because of this anniversary.

Thirdly, U.S. families will send 3.8 billion cards this year, a record. Last year, the total was 3.5 billion. This year's record, close to 70 cards on the average for each U.S. family, means that Uncle Sam will collect close to $230 million in postage during the holiday mailing season. Senders will select from more than 50,000 designs.

The 3.8 billion cards estimate comes from Steve Q. Shannon, Executive Director of the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers.

RELIGIOUS MOTIFS enjoy a renaissance this year, Shannon said, making up 30 per cent or more than one billion of all cards sent. Because of Vietnam and concern for peace, there also is a strong patriotic motif —"there isn't a single line (by any manufacturer) that doesn't have some of the peace symbols in it," said Shannon, in an interview. "And not on a protest, but on a prayerful basis."

He said another trend developing is the return of color to the envelopes. And a note on mailing: Whatever the shade of envelope, the U.S. Post Office recommends that for ease of processing during the Christmas rush that decorations such as the Christmas seal go on the back of envelopes.

ABOUT THAT 93rd anniversary. It was in 1875, that Louis Prang, a lithographer in Roxbury, Mass., hesitantly introduced the country's first Christmas cards—and wondered whether anyone would buy them.

One of his women employes suggested that he print "Merry Christmas" on some of his floral cards in the space left blank for a signature. They first caught on overseas. But offered to the American public in 1875, they were an instant success. By 1881, Prang was printing five million Christmas cards a year.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Would A Padded Woman Also Pad Her Company Expense Account?

DEAR HELEN:

I applied for a position which entails travelling and meeting the public. I evidently passed the 2-page psychology-type questionnaire included with my application form, as I was called in for an interview at the personnel office.

Dressed in good taste for a woman of 34, and armed with excellent references, I thought there would be no problem. Not so! First the man looked me up and down as if I were a slave at auction, and asked, "Do you ever wear a wig?" I said, "Occasionally."

Then he said, "And I suppose you wear a padded bra too."

I implied that was my business, not his, and he said, "Anyone who would pad her bra might also pad her expense account. Honesty begins at home."

Before he demanded an inspection, I got out of there.

Is this some sort of new approach to hiring? — MISS C. T.

DEAR MISS T:

This is some sort of "Honesty is the bust policy" nut. Report him to the company manager. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Our son has been in and out of Juvenile Hall for the past two years, for running away, being beyond parental control, the drug bit, etc.

He was made a ward of the court and placed in a group home, but that didn't work. He ran away. We hired a lawyer to get him back home and for a while all went well, even his school work.

Then he was picked up for burglary. He is an habitual liar, and I think is mentally off balance. He seems to have a split personality.

My husband, who thinks his way is the only right way to do anything, insists our son should take his medicine at a boys' correctional institution, but I think we should have him committed to a state hospital, where the conflict between him and his father could be examined and treated.

Is there any hope for a boy like this? — MRS. C.

DEAR MRS. C:

The best hope for your son is a consulting psychologist — and probably separation from a family which may go overboard on punishment (father), and protection (mother). Sometimes a child's "split personality" is the result of split discipline and the three-way resentments it creates.

I don't know your case well enough to advise further, but I do know that the juvenile court judge in your city is an outstanding man. His decision will be fair, and for the best. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I want my child baptized in the church. The only trouble is her father is married to a woman who won't divorce him. Can I have my little girl baptized in her father's name? His name isn't on the birth certificate as he is a well known businessman here. But I think he owes his daughter something, if only recognition in church. Don't you? — OTHER WOMAN

DEAR O.W.:

The "other woman" has no right to a married man's name, nor should she use the church to advertise her affair.

Whether you're out to win him or ruin him, this isn't the way. —H.

Couple Stays Young And Happy, Will Celebrate Golden Wedding

By JOAN LISETOR

It is difficult to believe that Mr. and Mrs. Alva Nipper have been married for 50 years, since neither of them appear to be much over 50 years old.

Mr. Nipper says, "We stay young by fighting with each other." But it is apparent there is little friction in their San Anselmo home.

The Nippers are natives of Grants Pass, Ore. and were graduated from high school in the same class. Mrs. Nipper then attended San Jose State College, graduating in two years.

"Everyone looks surprised when I tell them I went through college in two years, but it was a three-year-school and during the war they really crammed us through," she explains.

Mr. Nipper attended the University of Oregon and the University of Washington before being sent overseas in the Air Service of World War I. Following his release from the service they were married by her grandfather, who was a justice of the peace, on Dec. 31, 1918.

"People think there is something funny about our being married on New Year's Eve, but it was actually at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. We had planned to be married before Christmas, but Alva's release from the service was delayed, and he had to make what was then a long trip from Ft. Lewis, Wash. to Grants Pass," Mrs. Nipper recalls.

In the 45 years the Nippers have lived in Marin County they have seen many changes. The panoramic view of the skyline from their Alpine Avenue home in San Anselmo has completely changed since they moved there 15 years ago.

"There were no homes then, just grassy field," says Mr. Nipper. Mrs. Nipper pointed out large trees which she said were very small when they planted them. "But we still have a deer family that lives below our house," she said pointing to a grassy slope that runs down the hill behind their home.

The Nippers have a daughter, Jean Marchant, two grandchildren: Susan, a student at the University of California at Davis; and Jon, a student at Redwood High School.

Mr. Nipper is still very active in the real estate business with his son-in-law, Hugh Marchant. He is a past president of the Marin County Real Estate Board and the San Anselmo Rotary Club, has been a member of the Ross Valley Sanitary Board and for 32 years and is a member of the Fairfax Masonic Lodge 556, San Rafael Elks Club, the American Legion and the San Anselmo, San Rafael and Marin County Chambers of Commerce. He is also a member of the Marin Golf and Country Club, where he "loves to play golf."

Mrs. Nipper is a charter member of the first Toastmistress Club in Marin. She served as president of that club and is a member of the Tamalpais Centre Women's Club and the Marin Society of Artists. Her hobby is oil painting, and in the past she has given piano lessons.

A party at the Meadow Club in Fairfax on Dec. 31 will be given to celebrate their 50th anniversary by the couple, their daughter and son-in-law and grandchildren.

The only advice the Nippers offer to young married couples for a successful marriage is "give a little and take a little." It seems to have worked very well for them.

Kitty Knapp Is Bride Of Vic Martino

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Knapp of Mill Valley and the bridgeroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Martino of Burbank.

Maid of honor was Lorraine Perry of San Francisco and bridesmaids were Kathryn Barnhart of Santa Cruz, Jill Rutledge of Mill Valley and the bridgeroom's sister, Ilene Martino of Burbank.

Greg Martino of Burbank served his brother as best man. Ushers were Mark Pepple of Patterson, Craig Scharlin of Burbank and David and Christopher Goff of San Francisco.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Tiburon Penninsula Club. On their return from a wedding trip to Hawaii the couple will live near the University of California at Los Angeles, where the bridegroom, who was graduated from the University of California at Davis, is attending graduate school in business administration.

The bride is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and the University of California at Davis and plans to obtain teaching credentials. She has a brother, Phillip Knapp, who is serving with the Army in Vietnam.

Dining Room

Are chair rails merely dining room artifacts? By painting them to contrast with walls or correlating them to doors, windows and wainscoting, you can give a dramatic effect to a dining room. Wide chair rails, painted a vivid color, can be as contemporary as an abstract painting. And that broad band of color across a room will help to "lower" a too-high ceiling.

Pair Wed In Mission

A ceremony Saturday at Mission San Rafael Arcangel united in marriage Alan Kenneth Burton and Nancy Jeanne Purvis.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Purvis of San Rafael, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Burton of Hampshire, England.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. James Purvis of Novato, was matron of honor. Peggy Bowden of Santa Rosa and Helen Hart of Corte Madera were bridesmaids.

Nancy is a graduate of Terra Linda High School and will be graduated next month from Mills College in Oakland. Mrs. Sabra Jouper of San Rafael is her grandmother.

Alan was graduated from Bromsgrove School in Worcestershire, England and Camborne School of Mines in Cornwall, England. He is employed by Alcoa as a mining engineer in Perth, Western Australia, where the couple will live. Catherine Jill Burton of London is the bridegroom's sister.

Fat Cookies Best Packers

AMES, Iowa (UPI)—Phyllis Olson, extension nutritionist at Iowa State University, has these hints on packing and shipping homemade Christmas cookies.

Bars and drop cookies work better than thin, crisp or fancy roll cookies, she advises. Don't cut bar cookies before sending them—they're apt to dry up and crack easily. She suggests that the sender should try to cut one large sheet of bars to fit her packing box exactly.

Wrap each sheet individually and layer with cardboard for protection, Miss Olson says. Enclose a plastic knife for cutting.

To pack drop cookies, place them back to back, wrap in foil or plastic wrap and line them up, standing on end, in a foil, plastic wrap or waxpaper-lined box.

ON THE AGENDA

MEMBERS OF PRECEPTOR Alpha Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority will hold their annual Christmas exchange at the home of Mrs. Burt Rourche, 4 Acela Road in Tiburon tomorrow at 8 p.m. Secret sisters will be revealed and Christmas presents wrapped for each of the patients at Marin Manor Rest Home.

Sunday, members and their husbands will hold a cocktail party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oran Baptist, 396 Montecello Road in San Rafael.

OAKVIEW LADIES Rover Golf Club will have a Christmas luncheon at the Meadow Club Wednesday. Highlight of the noon luncheon will be presentation of the Selma Samuels perpetual trophy and the Berven Ace of the Year putting trophy.

CLASSES OF the Dancers' Workshop in Kentfield and Sausalito will be suspended until resumption of regular classes the week of Jan. 6.

THE NOTATO Newcomers Club will meet at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael for its Christmas luncheon and exchange of gifts on Wednesday.

A social hour at 11 a.m. will feature champagne punch, the luncheon will be served at noon. Mrs. Thomas Laughlin and Mrs. Noel Weaver of Novato are reservations chairmen.

Prizes will be awarded for the most traditional, original and modern hand-made decorations which members bring to the luncheon.

Christmas music will be provided by members, Mrs. Allen Dahl on the accordion and Mrs. Leland Embry will sing.

Members have been requested to bring wrapped toys or games to be presented to needy children in the area.

THE SENIOR Citizens of Mill Valley were entertained Tuesday afternoon at a Christmas luncheon by the Mill Valley Chapter of the American Women's Volunteer Service at the Mill Valley Community Recreation Center.

Chairman Mrs. F. D. Fellows was assisted by members Mmes. Wayne Bingham, Archer B. Forsyth, Forest J. Sur and Anna Roorda.

Guests remained afterward to play cards. The AWVS holds a monthly luncheon for senior citizens on the second Tuesday of each month.

MRS. DON KELLER has been elected president of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist Church of Petaluma for the new year. Other officers elected for the guild are Mmes. Burl McNamee, vice president; Karl Kohl, secretary; James McNaughton, treasurer; and William Gardiner, coordinator.

Holiday Punch

Spicy tea punch makes a refreshing and colorful holiday beverage. Make 1 quart of tea using either 2 rounded teaspoons of loose tea or four tea bags of spicy, citrus-flavored tea. Cool. Pour into punch bowl and add 2 (6-ounce) cans of frozen lemonade concentrate, 2 (6-ounce) cans of frozen orange juice concentrate, 1 (4-ounce) jar of maraschino cherries, drained, 1 (1-pound) can of crushed pineapple and juice and 1 quart of orange ice sherbert. Stir until frozen concentrate is dissolved, add 2 quarts of gingerale and a large block of ice. Makes 5 quarts or about 40 (4-ounce) servings.

CANDLELIGHT REVIEW

Bach Group Performs In Brilliant Fashion

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Last night's second concert in the ninth annual Candlelight Series at Brown's Hall, Mill Valley, offered such a variety of featured instruments, voices and program selections that it was one of the most enjoyable performances we have heard from the Bach-to-Mozart Players.

Setting a light, gay mood appropriate to the holiday season were the Three Dances for Harpsichord and Percussion by Clementi that opened each of the three sections of the program.

They gave Margaret Fabrizio the opportunity to show her artistry on the harpsichord, with rhythm marked by the triangle played by Edward Haug, the group's trumpeter, and the tambourine by Raymond Duste, the group's leader and oboist. These dances were quite a surprising departure for Clementi, founder of the modern style of piano playing.

Highlight of the evening for us was Mozart's aria "Schon Lacht der Holde Fruehling" because of the scintillating performance by lyric soprano Gwen Curatilo. It was a perfect showcase for the extraordinary instrumental-like flexibility, control and power of her voice.

In the Four Songs for Soprano and Violin by Holst, she showed her exceptional ability to communicate mood and feeling, despite some surprisingly flawed violin playing in intonation and precision of technique on the part of George Nagata. Since his playing was better as part of the string ensemble, one assumed the cause might have been insufficient familiarity with or rehearsal of the songs.

Another highlight was the duet, "Lord, Thy Mercy" from Bach's "Christmas" Oratorio, in which the voices of Miss Curatilo and baritone Edgar Jones made a beautiful blend together. And with the two oboes d'amore played with such unanimity by Duste and guest oboist Eleanor Biondi, they occasionally sounded like an amplified single instrument.

Because of the fluent agility of Duste's playing of the florid upper part of Telemann's Trio Sonata in C Minor, it seemed almost like an oboe solo with obbligato, though Asbjorn Finess' smooth, mellow-toned viola and continuo provided by harpsichordist Miss Fabrizio and guest cellist Rolf Storseth added much to the total effect.

Handel's aria, "The Trumpet Shall Sound" from the "Messiah" was a real tour de force for baritone and trumpet with Haug showing top form on trumpet and Jones demonstrating his mastery of the baroque style of singing.

The instrumental triumph and finale of the evening was Telemann's concerto for Trumpet and Two Oboes in D major. Again Haug was brilliant, tonal quality of the oboes was lovely and the dialogue between the three solo instruments and the string ensemble was expertly handled.

MUSIC REVIEW

Orchestra Has Evening Of Balance

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

The College of Marin Community Orchestra, under the baton of John H. Myers, presented an excellent balance last night of Mozart and Haydn mixed with tonal poetry of Delius and Ives.

With the continued improved acoustics of the Fine Arts Theater, the unit was never better in Frederick Delius' "The Walk to the Paradise Garden," the intermezzo from the opera, "A Village Romeo and Juliet."

In this number there was complete harmony from all sections of the orchestra. There was no over balance from any section. It was as though the orchestra had come astutely alive to capture the majestic feeling of Delius' composition.

For the finale last night, Myers selected another excellent work, Charles Ives' Symphony No. 3, "The Camp Meeting."

Like most of Ives' works, this symphony is intertwined with revivalist hymns from which the other melodic elements spring. Here again the "talk"between sections was unhurried and balanced.

The orchestra opened the evening with the familiar overture to Don Giovanni, K. 527 by Mozart. While there were moments of uneveness at the start, the orchestra rebounded for an excellent finish.

For the big number of the program, Myers selected Joseph Haydn's Sinfonie Concertante, Op. 84 for violin, cello, oboe and basson.

The Haydn is big-time music, calling upon the strings to develop the theme which is then transferred to the individual soloists. While all four solosits were well-schooled for their roles, Miss Bowers and Leones were outstanding. The voices of both instruments were pure and lyrical, filling the theater with velvet sounds.

It is good to see a college-community orchestra tackle such a demanding score and come up batting over the .500 mark. It is a sure sign of competence at the helm.

Graham Carrying Nixon Message To Viet Troops

TOKYO (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham said today he is carrying Christmas greetings from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, President Johnson and President-elect Nixon to U.S. troops in Vietnam.

Graham said he visited Eisenhower at Walter Reed Hospital and the 78-year-old former President shed tears when he asked that his Christmas greetings and prayers be conveyed to the troops.

Graham arrived in Tokyo yesterday to visit wounded Vietnam veterans hospitalized in Japan, before he leaves for South Vietnam to spend Christmas with the troops.

Linda Robb Bids Husband Goodbye

BANGKOK (UPI) — Lynda Bird Robb and her marine major husband, Charles, said farewell for another four months today and he flew back to his post in the Vietnam War zone near Da Nang.

Mrs. Robb, President Johnson's elder daughter, drove her husband to the military air terminal at suburban Don Muang and said goodbye to him inside the car. She wore a blue wool, short-sleeved dress.

Robb, clad in brown pants and a sports shirt, left the car shortly before noon and joined the same group of GIs he arrived with Wednesday for the five-day "rest and recreation" leave from Vietnam.

Streisand And Astaire Honored

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Barbra Streisand and Fred Astaire were named Stars of the Year yesterday by the Hollywood Women's Press Club and received the club's Golden Apple awards for 1968.

Diahann Carroll, star of the television series "Julia," was chosen Female Newcomer of the Year. There was a tie for Male Newcomer—between Robert Brown, star of TV's "Here Come the Brides," and singer Glenn Campbell.

The club's traditional Sour Apple Award to the most uncooperative star was not awarded this year. A spokesman said "no one was worthy of it."

Kirk Douglas' Son Will Marry Sunday

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) — Joel Douglas, son of actor Kirk Douglas, and Susan Jorgensen of Great Falls will be married Sunday at the First Congregational Church.

Douglas and Miss Jorgensen are drama students at the University of Montana, Missoula. The wedding was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sganley Jorgensen.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Careful Watch Of December Earnings Can Avoid A Crisis

Wikel

Taxes are the biggest bill you will ever pay. Therefore, you should shape your affairs to produce the lowest tax result, using every option permitted under the Internal Revenue Code.

Watch your earnings this month.

If you use the optional tax table you can earn up to $50 with no additional tax or you can earn one dollar and have it cost you nine to ten dollars more tax.

Check your earnings and a tax table. For instance: if you earned $4,900, you can go ahead and earn $4,949.99 without paying more tax. If you earned $4,949 and you earn one more dollar it would take you to $4,950.00 and you've added nine dollars to your tax bill on a separate return or eight dollars on a joint return, plus surtax.

CHECK INCOME

If you're going to itemize your deductions this year be sure and pay every deductible expense before the end of the year. That is: charitable contributions, interest, deductible taxes, medical expense, etc. Pay it so you can claim it on this year's tax return.

If you are going to use the standard deduction this year, don't pay any more deductible expenses. Wait and pay them in 1969 because in 1969 you might be able to itemize your deductions to greater advantage than taking the standard deduction.

Do you have stock market losses? If so, then consider selling the stocks now and using the loss to reduce your tax.

Warning! Do not purchase like or similar stock within 30 days before or 30 days after the sale. If you do, the loss is not allowable.

PROFIT POLICY

Do you want to make a sale now, but hesitate to do so because of the additional tax you would have to pay this year? Then consider selling now and reporting the profit on the installment basis. You can make the sale now, elect to report your profit as you collect the installments.

If you make no collections in 1968, then you will have no tax to pay. In other words, don't pass up an opportunity to sell now at a profit. Make the sale and be sure that you collect 30 per cent or less, or nothing, down this year. Then make your collections in later years and report and pay the tax on the profits as you collect it.

INSTALLMENTS

You can elect to report your profit on an installment sale in installments as you are paid, if:

1. It was a sale of real estate and the total amount collected in 1968 was not more than 30 per cent of the selling price.

2. It was a sale of personal property where — (A) The total amount you collected in 1968 was not more than 30 per cent of the selling price; (B) It was personal property not of a kind you would include in your inventory at Dec. 31, 1968, if you still had it; (C) The selling price was more than $1,000. The total collected in 1968 cannot exceed 30 per cent of the total selling price. This includes the down payment and all later payments collected in 1968.

LEGISLATURE–1969

Tax Reform Looms As Major Item On Lawmakers' Agenda

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Legislature convenes Jan. 6 for what could be a long and bitter session. What are the big issues? This question is discussed in the first of a five-part series prepared by United Press International.)

By NORMAN KEMPSTER

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Most legislators hope to redeem a campaign promise of across-the-board tax reform but it is becoming increasingly apparent that the task will be difficult and could prove impossible.

A UPI poll showed an overwhelming majority of the lawmakers think tax reform will be the most important single issue to face the sessions which begins Jan. 6.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has called repeatedly for comprehensive tax revision to spread more fairly the cost of state government. Many legislators promised tax reform during their campaigns last fall.

Reagan vowed there would be no increase in the total tax take. He said increases in one tax will have to be offset by reductions in another.

The governor and Finance Director Caspar W. Weinberger promise to trim the state budget to fit available revenue. The budget for the current fiscal year is $5.7 billion.

Reagan's budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 is expected to total more than $6 billion but the increase can be financed through normal growth of state revenue.

Although most legislators said tax reform was desirable, only a little more than half of the lawmakers who responded to the UPI poll expressed optimism that the job could be done.

The Democratic and Republican floor leaders in the Senate —Sens. Gerge Moscone, D-San Francisco, and Donald Grunsky, R - Watsonville — agreed comprehensive tax reform was possible this year.

Assembly Speaker-to-be Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, also predicted success.

But the prospective No. 2 man in the lower house, Assemblyman Charles J. Conrad, R-Sherman Oaks, said tax reform was "doubtful in view of the close division in the Legislature."

The Senate is divided evenly between the two parties with 20 Democrats and 20 Republicans. The GOP controls the Assembly by a narrow 41-39 margin.

Assemblyman Leroy F. Greene, D-Sacramento, summed up the problem the Legislature will face when it tries to overcome inequities in the tax structure.

"Reform requires that some taxes go up while others go down," Greene said. "In a comprehensive reform, major changes are necessary. I cannot see agreement on major tax shifts."

One thing seems certain. There will be another bitter fight over legislation to collect state income taxes by payroll withholding.

Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R - Modesto, has already announced he will introduce a withholding tax bill. Gov. Ronald Reagan is adamantly opposed to withholding.

The UPI poll produced almost a dead heat on withholding. Three more lawmakers favored the proposal than opposed it and there were some very "iffy" answers.

Monagan, who led a nearly solid bloc of Republicans against withholding during the last session, said he might favor the measure this time "if it is part of overall reform."

Several other Republicans also said they might back withholding if the conditions are right.

A special commission, headed by State Controller Houston I. Flournoy, has been working since last summer on an overall tax reform program.

Flournoy said it probably would be very late in January before the commission files its report. And he warned lawmakers not to expect too much because state income must be maintained.

"For everyone who gets a tax reduction, we have to find someone who takes up the burden," he said.

He said the commission hoped to recommend a distribution of the tax burden that "will approach crude but substantial justice."

Ridgeway Park Rezoning Due Second Hearing

The Fairfax Planning Commission will hold another public hearing at 8 p.m. Thursday on rezoning from commercial to multiple residential 25 lots in Ridgeway Park on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The commission approved the rezoning on Nov. 21 by a 4-1 vote, but City Atty. Wallace S. Myers has advised the commission that the approval needs a two-thirds vote of the seven commissioners, whether or not they are all present.

Commissioners Leo T. Cronin, chairman, and Hugh O. Winn were absent at the Nov. 21 meeting. A favorable vote by five of the commissioners will be needed to approve the rezoning.

Also on the agenda is an application by Mrs. Dell Blodgett for a special use permit to open a drive-in secretarial service at 85 Bolinas Road in a building formerly used as a service station.

Sanitary Directors Will Review Salaries

Salaries of the six employees of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District will be reviewed by directors at an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the district office, 300 Smith Ranch Road.

Also to be discussed is renewal of a contract with Rodding and Cleaning Machines of Los Angeles, which has a four-year contract to maintain district lines. The four-year cost is about $24,000.

Annexations On Novato Agenda

Two annexations will be before the Novato City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Novato Community House.

One is of 890 acres south of Highway 37 and west of Black Point for Jack Kinney and others; the other, 62 acres of Los Robles Mobile Home Park site, the new Marin County Humane Society site and Soiland Co. on Bel Marin Keys Boulevard.

Other items on the agenda include: discussion of aims and goals of the beautification committee; creation of a liaison library committee; location of the Hill Road extension, and a report on projects planned for gasoline tax fund financing.

Restaurant Owner Loses Alcohol Plea

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control has denied a petition of Don H. Banks, operating the Houndstooth Inn, 10 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, to remove conditions of his on-sale beer and wine license.

Banks had petitioned the department to remove the condition that no alcoholic beverage be sold or consumed after 10 p.m.

Bagley Hits College Fund 'Retaliation'

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, warned Saturday night of pressures on the Legislature to withhold funds from the University of California and state college system "as retribution and retaliation" for student unrest.

Persons who call for such punishment "would destroy the pre-eminence of our institutions — and that is exactly the thing that the revolutionaires who are causing the unrest would want," Bagley said in a dinner speech before the Sonoma County chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union. The dinner was held on the Sonoma State College campus at Rohnert Park, and was attended by more than 100 persons.

Bagley commended the ACLU for being "in the forefront of those taking a positive stand against a repressive society," noting that the national organization also "realizes that when demonstrations get so far out of hand that they destroy and disrupt —then those demonstrations become instruments of repression of the majority."

He said the ACLU not only served those on the left of the political spectrum, but also those on the right. He recalled that the ACLU recently helped win a court test for a Berkeley member of the John Birch Society.

The San Rafael Republican legislator predicted that the civil liberties record of the GOP-controlled 1969 Assembly would be a good one. "We're not going to find the repressive atmosphere that some of you think will occur," he said.

Turning to San Francisco State College, Bagley said he had "mixed emotions" about the college's acting president, Dr. S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley. "For a semanticist, he's not communicating," said Bagley, "but someone has got to put a stop to the rock throwing and the disruption of classes."

Asked if he would join the Nixon administration, Bagley said he had made no commitment to leave the Assembly. Such a decision might be made in a "relatively few months," perhaps in June, said Bagley.

Officer Assault Booking Is Made

Colin Herbert Sparks, 25, was booked into Marin County Jail early today for investigation of felony assault on an officer, resisting arrest and for being drunk.

San Anselmo police said officer Richard Standridge approached Sparks, of 31 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo, at 3:25 a.m. after seeing Sparks' car parked at the rear of a building in the 800 block of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

He said Sparks became belligerent, demanded that Standridge turn off a flashlight the officer held and then struck him on the left arm. The blow knocked the flashlight to the ground, according to the report.

Sparks, free on $1,000 bail, was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Auto Seats Stolen

Two bucket seats worth $100 were reported missing from a car for sale at James Boys Used Cars at 625 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, Saturday, police reported.

Kaiser Hospitals, Including One In San Rafael, Hit By Strikers

A total of 26 Kaiser Foundation and Permanente Medical Group hospitals and clinics in Northern California — including a facility in San Rafael — were struck at midnight last night by nonprofessional workers.

There were picket lines outside all effected facilities today.

The strike was called by the AFL-CIO Hospital and Institutional Workers Local 250, San Francisco, against 11 Kaiser Foundation and 15 Permanente Medical Group hospitals and clinics.

The strike involves some 3,000 nonprofessional workers. The union represents licensed vocational nurses, nurses aides, X-ray and laboratory technicians, orderlies, clercial workers, maids, porters and culinary workers.

The strike was called after last-minute efforts by state conciliators failed to bring an agreement on a new contract.

Kaiser Foundation said it has planned to keep the hospitals and clinics functioning as normal as possbile with some 4,000 nonunion employees helping out.

A spokesman said all urgent cases would be handled and some nonemergency patients, too. In some instances, he continued, service for nonurgent cases would be delayed.

Kaiser's contract with the hospital workers expired Nov. 1. Two state conciliators met with Kaiser officials and union representatives during the weekend in Berkeley, but negotiations broke off at 10:30 p.m. yesterday.

Union representatives said there were no plans for further negotiations.

Hospital workers last week, by a 3-1 margin, rejected a Kaiser offer for a two-year contract.

The foundation had offered a pact that would have raised the pay of most union employees by 30 cents an hour and liberalized their fringe benefits.

The union, however, has been seeking a one-year contract with a generally higher pay increase.

The union claimed that Kaiser demands more of its workers than of workers in similar jobs in other hospitals. Kaiser officials wouldn't comment on that charge, but said their employees are paid as well or better than those in other hospitals.

Most of the union employees are now paid from $2.10.5 to $2.97 an hour, although a few technicians get as much as $4.99 an hour.

Also hit by the strike are hospitals and clinics in San Francisco, Oakland, Antioch, Hayward, Napa, Vallejo, Redwood City, Richmond, Sacramento, Santa Clara, South San Francisco, Sunnyvale and Walnut Creek.

Owner Of Restaurant Beaten Up

Clay L. Wright, 53, owner of Clay's Farmhouse at Olema, was reported in good condition at Marin General Hospital today after being beaten by two men in the restaurant last night.

Witnesses told sheriff's deputies the men came into the place about 9 p.m., ordered drinks and sat in the middle of the floor.

Wright, objecting to their choice of seats, moved the drinks to the counter, witnesses told deputies. The two men became loud and boisterous, shoved and tripped Wright and then kicked his head, witnesses said. The men left after the attack.

On the descriptions of the witnesses, Layton Joseph Thorn, 23, of 105 Piper Court, Fairfax, was picked up and booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of disturbing the peace and being drunk in and about a vehicle. He was released on $125 bail and scheduled to appear at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court.

Thorn's wife provided the identity of another man, Brian Peter Hagan, 30, of Forest Knolls, who was picked up later walking along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, deputies said. He was booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon and held in lieu of $3,150 bail.

Hearing Set On Refuse Plan

The Stinson Beach County Water District board Saturday set a public hearing for Jan. 11 on an ordinance to set up a refuse collection system in the district.

The hearing will be at the board meeting at 10 a.m. in the Stinson Beach Community Center on Belvedere Street. Under the ordinance, the district would issue a franchise to a private refuse company, secretary Harriet M. Greene said.

Refuse is now collected by a private firm, Henry's Service of Stinson Beach.

The board also heard a report that county counsel's office is drafting a joint powers agreement for construction and operation of a joint sewage system with the Bolinas Community Public Utility District.

Seven Reports Of Burglaries Over Weekend

The theft of two television sets and a painting from the Robert Varner home, 47 Pigeon Hollow Drive, San Rafael, was reported Friday, sheriff's deputies said today. There were no signs of forced entry, deputies reported.

The burglary was among seven reported over the weekend to deputies.

Gail J. Marshik of Gate 6, Sausalito, reported Saturday an heirloom ring and $7 in cash were taken from her houseboat while she was out Friday evening.

Ruth L. Fleck and Mary Jane Winterhalter, both of 254 Cecelia Way, Bel Air, reported their coin collection of more than $75 was taken from their home Friday evening.

Robert Barbieri of 358 San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, reported Friday that a tenant, Donald Barrett, left without notice, owing two months rent and taking several blankets and all of the kitchen ware.

An auto stereo, tapes and a camera, valued at $335, were taken from her car while it was parked in her driveway at 356 Jean Street, Tamalpais Valley, Thursday night, Michele Quilici reported Friday.

Jeremiah R. Guiney of San Francisco reported Saturday a saw, clock and liquor were taken from his weekend home in Lagunitas sometime after Dec. 7.

Fined $350

Chico Mercado, 50, of 585 Midway Street, Novato, has been fined $350 and placed on 18 months of probation in Marin Superior Court for possessing marijuana Oct. 2, 1967, in Tiburon. Judge Joseph G. Wilson imposed the punishment.

Ex-Marinite Returns To Face Charges

A former San Rafael man now living in Australia, who allegedly disappeared with almost $2,500 worth of paintings from the Marin Art and Garden Center three years ago, has returned to face justice.

Maurice Bernard Houghton turned himself in to San Rafael police Friday on warrants which had been issued on two charges of embezzlement arising out of the art work's disappearance and bad check warrant from 1966.

According to the Marin Society of Artists, Houghton rented 13 oil paintings from the center in September, 1965, giving bank references and paying rental through December of that year.

At the expiration of the rental period, the society wrote requesting return of the paintings but received no answer. A phone call to Maywood Way house showed the phone had been disconnected. Representatives of the society also visited the house and found it vacant.

After subsequent unsucessful attempts to locate Houghton at a San Francisco office he had maintained, the society reported the missing paintings to Ross police, and the district attorney's office issued the warrants for his arrest.

Prior to that time, Houghton had been sought on a warrant for bad checks issued to two San Rafael firms.

According to San Rafael police, Houghton was aware of the warrants and returned to clear up the matter.

He was freed on $6,600 bail and was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Clothes Stolen

Jerry Lenihan, 510 Stuart Drive, Petaluma, reported clothing valued between $60 and $70 was stolen from his car during Friday night while it was parked at 828 Kentucky Street.

Four Youths Held In Auto Theft Probe

Four Southern California boys were booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall last night on suspicion of auto theft and burglary of a Cotati used car lot.

Arrested were Robert Kaye Roark, 16; Steven Maurcie Sibley, 15; Thomas Kail, 16, and Allen Ward Lister, 15, all of Lawndale, Los Angeles County.

California Highway Patrol officer Gerald Alkup stopped the four hithchiking on Highway 101 northy of Novato at 7 p.m., not far from an abandoned car later found to be stolen from Gem Used Car Sales, 7424 Healdsburg Avenue, Cotati.

The boys said they drove up from Lawndale Thursday, wrecked their own car somewhere in Sonoma County Friday and stole the car in Cotati yesterday. But the stolen car broke down and the four abandoned it and started hitchhiking when Walkup found them.

In the car was an assortment of items which Cotati police said matched a list of things taken from the sales trailer at the used car lot —a lamp, towel rack, knife, wall clock, radio, candles, tool box and two blue ribbons from the Sonoma County Fair.

School Bond Plans To Be Presented

Campaign plans for the San Rafael Elementary School District's $2.1 million bond proposal to be voted upon Feb. 18 will be presented to the San Rafael Board of Education at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the administration building, Third and E streets.

The board also is scheduled to adopt a policy on teacher evaluation, and grant sabbatical leave requests for the 1969-70 school year.

Session Canceled

The regular meeting of the Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission, scheduled for 8 p.m. today, has been canceled because of a lack of business, according to secretary Shirley Lane.

'Synanon Games' Not Greatest School Need

At Synanon House in Marshall, the weekly "Synanon Games" are an attraction and an institution. In them, Synanon residents "take down their hair" to probe each other's deepest feelings. The sessions are dedicated to awareness and understanding. Sometimes the language becomes extremely blunt and insults are hurled that would lead to blows in a group without Synanon's strict self-imposed discipline.

Something like those sessions could occur in school classrooms in "sensitivity training" which is among the innovations being urged in the heady atmosphere of California school districts' newly acquired curriculum control.

Of course, it may be assumed the soul-bearing conversation would be less earthy and the insults less degrading among a group of students, whose background would not include the drink, dope and depravity that are common to those who have turned to Synanon. But they would cut no less cruelly. And the boys and girls would be far less prepared to endure them.

THESE ARE AMONG the perils of carrying psychiatric exploration into the schoolroom that have caused Dr. William M. Lamers, a Marin psychiatrist familiar with the experiment, to warn "it may be as dangerous as allowing a two-year medical student to perform brain surgery."

The Tamalpais High School District Board tonight will consider a proposal for introducing sensitivity training in the three high schools of the Tam district.

The proposal has been carefully worked out by a team within the district, composed principally of school psychologists. Small groups of students would participate. None could do so without his own and his parents' freely given consent.

Dr. Lamers has high regard for the quality of the personnel in the Tam district who are working on the program. Teachers who would be involved have been given experience as participants in sensitivity training sessions themselves. "The Tam district is well prepared" for the experiment, according to Dr. Lamers.

NEVERTHELESS, the psychiatrist is fearful of the introduction of such a program in the schools without much longer preparation.

One of the techniques used in sensitivity training where it has been tried has the children face each other in two lines to be told, "do whatever you feel like to the person opposite you." Another is to blindfold students, have them touch each other and describe their feelings.

Dr. Lamers said he and other Marin psychiatrists "have had to pick up the pieces" from such experimentation. "These can be very frightening to a child," he said.

Sensitivity training, he and other psychiatrists believe, may serve a useful purpose in helping to understand one another's personality. "I would hope in years to come it would be taught in the schools," he said.

But not now.

WE AGREE with Dr. Lamers. Much needs to be done to reenforce the school curricula in the basic fields of education. That was the ostensible purpose of the George Miller Jr. Act that provided local curriculum control.

We suggest the school people attack these needs. Innovation for its own sake has little merit. And we are not convinced that it is time yet for "Synanon games" at school, regardless of the qualifications of any district's staff.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

William Bonelli, Forgotten Man —The State Invests His Pension

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The case of William G. Bonelli, California's figurative "man without a country," seems doomed eventually to be forgotten in the cobwebs of time.

But the state controller's office is not forgetting the case, which is wrapped up in peculiar financial fiascos resulting from the vagaries of California law and rulings by attorneys general.

The controller maintains a special "Bonelli Fund," which now has grown to $70,240.50, which is the amount Bonelli, former member of the state Board of Equalization has drawn from the state for retirement benefits.

THE CATCH is that Bonelli hasn't drawn the money, which is impounded by the state controller, and has been ever since the ex-state official put in his bid for the funds on Dec. 1, 1958, more than 10 years ago.

More than 14 years have elapsed since Bonelli's case rocked the state in 1954, when he was defeated for re-election to the board, and subsequently indicted in two counties, Riverside and San Diego, for allegedly accepting under-the-table payments for liquor licenses, which the board at that time dispensed.

The then liquor czar for his district fled to Mexico City, and efforts to return him to California for prosecution under the indictments were unsuccessful, largely on the grounds that Mexico held him to be a political refugee.

Since that time, he has not returned to the United States to the knowledge of authorities. His last known habitat in Mexico, as listed with the controller's office, was Hermosillo.

WHILE BONELLI vegetates in Mexico, now about 75 years of age, his political enemies in California have grown in stature. Former State Controller Alan Cranston, who refused to pay his $445 a month pension, is now United States senator-elect. And former Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, who ruled that Cranston's decision was correct, is now a member of the state supreme court.

The strange thing about the case is that it never has been decided by the courts. A suit filed by Bonelli's lawyers to force payment seems to have disappeared in the limbo of forgotten legal annals, and apparently can't be revived until Bonelli returns to render an accounting.

He allegedly received funds which were supposed to be paid to the state. The figures range all the way from $130,000 to $320,000, and the state treasury isn't likely to see any of it.

Meanwhile, the state treasurer is investing the impounded money that represents Bonelli's state pension, and it is drawing interest, but for Bonelli, but for the state of California.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Novato Students Proud Of School

On behalf of the entire student body at Hill Junior High School in Novato, we would like to inform you and your readers that we are very hurt and upset over an article by Mr. Theron Newell ("Reporter's Notebook") in the Independent-Journal on Dec. 10. We have worked long and hard to make Hill Junior High a school which is second to none and to enhance our image in the community. Now, in one short article, Mr. Newell has unfairly cast derogatory aspersions on our school and its entire student body and staff.

In general, we are disturbed not only about the negative attitude of Mr. Newell's article, but specifically we are upset by such sentences as, "For several years we (?) have heard rumblings of parental discontent in Novato about discipline, especially at Hill Junior High School." The way in which Hill School was singled out in this article would cause the average reader to come to the conclusion that all the problems mentioned in the article are at their worst at Hill. This is simply not true. . . We wonder where Mrs. Newell has been getting his information. We feel very strongly that he has been listening to the verbal, but uninformed few. . . .

Abuse Of Tenure By Faculty Charged

Too many members of San Francisco State College's faculty are contributing to the disruption of that institution's legitimate activities. A suggestion that they are a "gaggle of learned fools" would be a charitable understatement of another tragic manifestation of decadence in the academic community. From the rich treasury of gutty American invective one could draw a more apt characterization of the puerile posturing of pseudo-scholars.

The continued employment of the poseurs is a flagrant abuse of whatever privilege of tenure may be applicable. To negotiate is to retreat to a position of weakness. Malignancies exist. College authorities must recognize that radical surgery is indicated.

Communication Need Reported

"Sensitivity training" is a type of therapy which has been somewhat surreptitiously, replacing education in Marin County schools (because, its proponents say, "civilization is sick").

Tamalpais Union High School District has a committee studying this matter, not really to investigate it but with an eye to procuring a federal grant to finance its expanded use. All members of the committee are people already involved in its promotion.

Their report says some interesting things.

Let's have a look at some of the communication skills of the committee itself.

"In the sensitivity training group," they write, "attention is focused upon the 'process' (as opposed to a content orientation) and 'feeling' (as opposed to intellectual, theoretical, or cognitive) aspects for the group's interaction. This focus is on the 'here and now' (as opposed to the 'then and there') experiences of the participating individuals, and participation is focused upon the specific and personal (as opposed to the vague and general) experience and interaction."

THIS is communication?

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

IN GREECE there is a legend about two men who became embroiled in a bitter argument, which culminated when one yanked out the pendulum of a big clock, and killed the other by cracking it down on his skull. The murderer then swallowed a poison pellet, so both belligerents now were dead.

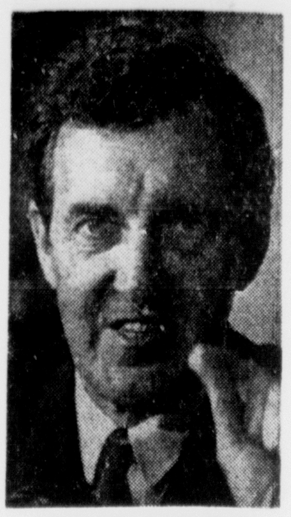
A philosopher, reflecting on the tragedy, remarked, "What a pity violent use was made of the pendulum! given time, it would have killed both men peacefully!"

MOTHER AND father were in the kitchen washing dishes while their two spoiled kids were sprawled out in the living room watching television. Suddenly the kids heard a crash of falling dishes.

They listened eagerly for a few moments, and then the young son declared, "It was Mom." "How do you know?" his sister demanded. "Because," he explained, "she isn't saying anything."

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

'We Want Muskie' Continues For Defeated 'Veep' Candidate



EDMUND S. MUSKIE
The cry won't down

WASHINGTON — The same cheer which followed him throughout the presidential campaign is still in its afterglow: "We want Muskie!"

Whatever happens in national affairs in the next few years, there is evidence that a very large number of voters want Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine to be in the middle of it.

They want him to be a strong force in the U.S. Senate.

They want him to be an influential voice in the shaping of the future of the Democratic Party.

Many hope he will run for President in 1972.

ONE CLUE to the remarkable empathy which Muskie as Hubert Humphrey's running mate built up with the American people during the campaign is the fantastic flow of letters — about 8,000 already — which is continuing to inundate his office.

They come from Democrats, independents and Republicans. They come overwhelmingly from young voters and still younger students who can vote four years from now or who will be old enough to ring doorbells for Muskie as many did for Eugene McCarthy and Robert Kennedy this year. They also come from senior citizens — one man 89 years old said he wanted to live long enough to vote for Muskie for President — and from college presidents, business executives and labor.

It is a remarkable outpouring of good will, admiration and, above all, trust. I doubt that any winning or losing vice presidential nominee has ever received anything like it.

BUT THERE NEVER was a presidential campaign quite like the one this fall in which the man in the second spot, virtually unknown outside of Maine and the Senate when he was chosen, played such a significant role.

After the voters came to realize what Humphrey had given to them in the person of his vice presidential candidate, they greeted him in ever larger numbers, and a Muskie rally became a local event, not just a political chore.

UNQUESTIONABLY, Humphrey bore the heavy burden of a miasmic convention, a deeply divided party and truculent anti-Vietnam demonstrators, especially young people. He was the main target of their hostility and their violence.

But Muskie, in part perhaps because he was second man and perhaps because he was a fresh face and a new force in national politics, has unusual success in quieting and communicating with those who first thought they wanted to shout him down.

And they found after a while they didn't want to shout him down, and on some occasions, when the heckling threatened to break up a rally entirely, Muskie invited the spokesman of the hecklers to share his microphone on the premise he would listen to them if they would listen to him.

They did and, even if they didn't agree with what they heard, they respected the man they were listening to — and trusted him.

THAT WAS the theme of the Muskie campaign — the need, as he once remarked, "to inspire the American people to trust each other, to take chances on each other, to work with each other in order to do the things which must be done to heal the divisions among our people. There is no other way to do it but in the hearts and minds of Americans themselves."

He asked over and over again: "How can we make our democracy work without trust?" And it is apparent that he spoke of trust in a way which made a profound impression.

This was the bread he cast on the troubled campaign waters and it is now returning to him many-fold.

Obviously, there is no predicting what's next for this man, but my judgment is that we will be hearing from Muskie more and more and that he will turn aside nothing which will keep him in the mainstream of his party's future.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Thurmond's Former Aide Now White House Link

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., President-elect Richard Nixon's man in the South, now has his own man in the Nixon White House.

That is the real meaning of Nixon's appointment of Harry Dent, South Carolina GOP chairman, to be an associate White House counsel. The importance of the new President's action goes well beyond the naming of a $30,000-a-year aide.

Officially, Dent will help, at the White House, in the shaping of legislation and do other legal chores. That assignment will make him privy to much of what goes on in the Nixon Administration, especially when respect to plans and programs for consideration by Congress.

Unofficially, Dent will be charged with selling Nixon initiatives to southern lawmakers. He will, of course, work closely with Thurmond — his long-time boss — and their performance could prove to be vitally important for the new President.

WITH CONGRESS controlled by the Democrats, and Democratic majorities in both House and Senate, Nixon will need Democratic votes for all his undertakings with Congress. Very often the conservative southerners will seem to be the most accessible Democrats for the legislative programs of a new Republican President.

On those occasions Dent and Thurmond, with help of a few other southerners such as Sen. John Tower, D-Tex., will be out to harvest the House and Senate votes which, for Nixon, will spell the difference between victory and defeat.

THURMOND'S efforts in behalf of Nixon's candidacy have been widely publicized. At the Republican National Convention it was Thurmond who kept Southern delegations from jumping to the support of California' Gov. Ronald Reagan. In those Miami Beach maneuvers Dent was at Thurmond's elbow, as he had been for most of his adult life. Dent, now only 38, joined the staff of the then Democratic Senator Thurmond when Thurmond first took his Senate seat in January, 1955. He was then fresh from college and an Army stint which included service during the Korean War.

By 1957 he had become Thurmond's top staff aide, the youngest man to be assigned as a senator's administrative assistant. In all, Dent worked with Thurmond, here in Washington, for 10 years. Attending law school at night he acquired bachelor and master of laws degrees.

Youth Clinic Exciting Idea— Not Just A Place To Hang Out

They kept insisting they are drowned with organized play like table tennis and hop scotch and want "something more meaningful, something with a useful purpose." We figured these were just high-sounding phrases to camouflage their desire for licentious behavior, free of adult supervision.

But listen to them plead for a youth clinic, and you begin to realize they are on solid ground, completely in touch with reality, and one step ahead of many of us adults.

WHILE WE THINK in terms of swimming pools, ice cream parlors and gyms to divert their attention, and pray they won't get mixed up with drugs and the wrong crowd, they aren't hung up with such illusions. They accept the fact that they (perhaps not personally, but their friends and acquaintances) are already mixed up with drugs and going with the wrong crowd.

While we start with the premise that most kids are angels, they don't. They look the problems — drugs, unwed mothers, venereal diseases — straight in the face and ask: Where do we go from here?

THEIR YOUTH CLINIC program would work like this: Set up a youth clinic in some large building, take in the runaways, the diseased, the unwed mothers, give them a place to sleep, some warm food, and basic medical attention, with encouragement from others of their own age who understand their problems.

The youth clinic is an exciting concept, which goes one step further than the traditional teen center idea of rock music, dancing, and a forum for small talk.

The youth clinic, if operated along lines envisaged by the youth power leaders, would be more of a crusade for social betterment than just a central location for youth to while away idle hours.

Some of their plans will undoubtedly hit snags, and accomplishments may fall short of goals, but we hope these won't discourage them.

We echo the enthusiasm expressed by members of the county parks and recreation commission. The idea is great; more power to them!

IT'S NOW OFFICIAL — Dogs, no matter how friendly, will not be allowed to participate in the board of supervisors' meetings at the Civic Center.

Chairman Ernest Kettenhofen politely asked for the dog's ouster. "If it's a behaving dog, why not let it stay?" asked Thomas Storer.

"Because it may be followed by a non-behaving dog," replied Peter Behr.

HELP BIAFRA — A medical and pharmaceutical group in Marin is conducting a drive to collect medicines and high protein food for the hungry and ill in Biafra.

Frederick Mayer of San Rafael is chairman of the Marin County Committee to Save Biafran Children. His group is asking Marin doctors to donate non-perishable "samples" and leave them at these collection points: Sausalito Pharmacy, Lawson-Dyer Pharmacy, De Martini Pharmacy, Poehlmann Pharmacy, and Novato Pharmacy.

Violence Flares

MANILA (UPI) — Shootings throughout the Philippines last week took 57 lives including five perons shot to death by a man who opened fire in a crowded dance hall, the Philippine News Service (PNS) said today.

T. N. ALEXAKOS

When Fate Spares Us, There Is That Haunting Question—Why?

One foggy morning recently, a Japan Airlines DC-8 descending into San Francisco Airport made a lovely landing in the gray waters of the bay, just short of the runway.

Newspapers headlined the accident, and because it hadn't resulted in disaster and death, they declared it was a million-to-one occurrence.

By all odds the jet should have burst open like a giant mellon, scattering passengers like seeds. It could have caught an engine pod or wingtip in the water and cartwheeled in a crazy, fantastic display of instant disintegration. It could have dug its nose in the mud abruptly and crushingly, mutilating all on board.

It could have, but it didn't.

Instead there was a smooth, safe landing with the passengers unaware they were becoming a million-to-one event.

I WONDER how many of those passengers, looking back as they must have at the ship lying sullen and dejected in the cold waters of San Francisco Bay, asked themselves the eternal question: Why? Why did I escape? Why was I, at this moment in time, passed by? And why me?

On another crisp, winter dawn, a long time ago, with fog cupped in the valley floor at Chattanooga, Tenn., a C-46, heavily laden with cargo, came in for a landing. Two pilots were aboard and no one else. The approach was routine; everything normal.

Short of the runway, they struck trees and cut a swath through the yellow pines as long as a football field. On the approach end of this particular runway there was a railroad track on a high bed and between it and the landing strip there was a small river.

Striking the tracks, the airplane bounded over the embankment and came to rest, nose in the river and tail sticking high and ignominiously in the air over the railroad bed.

Then the right engine burst into flames.

THE FIRE extinguisher valve was but an arm's length from either of the pilots, yet neither could reach it. The metal of the cockpit had so crunched around them they were unable to move — almost as if they had been wrapped in tinfoil. Horrified, they listened to the engine hissing as it burned, unable to extinguish it.

Water entered the cockpit and rose slowly. Reaching the captain's boot top, the water trickled inside, but his head was so securely pinioned he was unable to look down and he imagined his boot was filling with his own blood.

At that time the crew didn't know it, but in seven minutes a freight train was scheduled to come racing by. Nor were they aware that if the airplane had buried its nose in the river just eight feet more to the right, they would have slid into a deep hole that was there and would have drowned.

IT WAS JUST as well they didn't know about the deep hole and the coming train for they were concerned enough with the fire which they were expecting at any moment to reach the fuel tanks and explode. Instead, the plane settled a bit more into the river mud — just enough to put out the fire.

As for the freight train, the tower operator, having seen the accident through the thinning fog, called and had it stopped. Help arrived and with acetylene torches and five hours the two pilots were finally cut free.

There wasn't a scratch on them.

AND AGAIN there came that splendidly winged "why?" In my moments of solitude while studying the veins of a green leaf or listening to the sounds of a forest, I find myself wondering — why?

Pledge Omitted

The Marin Lutheran Church in Corte Madera was among nine groups to pledge $200 and become members of a new interfaith association to promote low and moderate income housing for Marin Wednesday night. The church was accidentally omitted from the list published Thursday in the Independent-Journal.

Debaters To Vie In Yule Tourney

Reagon Wilson and Lee Harris, president and vice president of the San Rafael High School Debate Club, will leave for Toledo, Ohio, during the Christmas holidays to participate in the National Glass City Holiday Forensics Tournament Dec. 26 to 29.

The tournament is expected to attract some 3,000 high school students from throughout the United States.

Wilson and Harris will debate the topic, "Resolved that the U.S. should establish a system of compulsory service for all students." The winning team will receive full tuition scholarships to the University of Toledo, Ohio.

Harris will also compete in the extemporaneous speech division, and Wilson in the original oratory speech category.

The San Rafael High School Key Club and the San Rafael Lions' and Toastmasters clubs are financing the debaters' trips.

Adjourned Meeting

The Novato Planning Commission will hold an adjourned meeting at 8 p.m. today to discuss the proposed mobile home park ordinance, according to Planning Director Brian W. Mattson.

LOAN NO. 1-25426-6

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN:

That on Monday, December 30, 1968 at the hour of 11:00 a.m. on the steps of the Fourth Street entrance to the County Courthouse in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, CORPORATE AGENCY, a corporation, as trustee under Deed of Trust executed by FRANK M. BURKE and CATHERINE H. BURKE, his wife and recorded October 1, 1965 in Book 1985, Page 489 of Official Records of Marin County, State of California, under which Deed of Trust SECURITY SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a corporation, is the beneficiary, by reason of default in the payment or performances of the obligations secured thereby, and notice of default and beneficiary's election to cause to be sold the property hereinbelow described having been recorded as provided for by law, and more than three months have elapsed since said recordationn, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, payable in lawful money of the United States of America, at the time of sale, without warranty, express or implied, as to title, possession or encumbrance, the interest conveyed to and now held by it as such trustee in and to the following described property in the County of Marin, State of California:

PARCEL ONE:

COMMENCING at the Northeasterly corner of Lot A, as shown on the map entitled, "Map of Short Ranch, Subdivision One", filed for record May 9, 1912 in Book 4 of Maps, at page 19; running thence South 22° 04' West 120 feet, South 59° 10' 30" West 38.34 feet, South 55° 37' West 56.68 feet; thence North 62° 04' West 52.23 feet; thence North 27° 56' East 177.30 feet to the Northerly line of said Lot A; thence along said line South 79° 06' East 91.84 feet to the point of commencement.

PARCEL TWO:

A NON-EXCLUSIVE EASEMENT for ingress, egress, driveway purposes and for the installation and maintenance of utilities and appurtenances thereto over the following described parcel of land:

BEGINNING at the Northeastern corner of Lot A, as shown on the map entitled, "Short Ranch, Subdivision One", etc., filed May 9, 1912 in Book 4 of Maps, at page 19, Marin County Records; and running along the Southeastern line of said Lot A, South 22° 04' West 120 feet; thence leaving said line and running the following courses and distances South 59° 10' 30" West 38.34 feet, South 55° 37' West 59.68 feet to the actual point of beginning of the parcel of land to be described herein; running thence South 36° 07' West 72.24 feet and South 29° 45' West 236.94 feet to the Northern line of a 40 foot road known as Oakcrest Road, as said road is described in the Deed from Irene Ward to Mary Harris, recorded April 9, 1952 in Book 738 of Official Records, at page 78, Marin County Records, and in the Deed from George A. Harris, et ux, to Robert S. Cary, et ux, recorded April 9, 1952 in Book 738 of Official Records, at page 74, Marin County Records; running thence along said 40 foot road North 60° 15" West 40 feet to the Southeastern corner of the parcel of land described in the Deed from Mary Harris to Fred F. Coons, et ux, recorded May 15, 1952 in Book 743 of Official Records, at page 410; running thence North 29° 45' East 176 feet to the Northeastern corner thereof; thence North 27° 56' East 132.53 feet to the point of intersection thereof with a line drawn North 62° 04' West from the actual point of beginning; thence along said line so drawn South 62° 04' East 52.23 feet to the actual point of beginning.

PARCEL THREE:

A NON-EXCLUSIVE EASEMENT for roadway and utilities over and along a 40 foot roadway, said roadway to extend from the Southerly corner of the secondly above described parcel and running Westerly and Northerly to Deer Hollow Road, and being the same 40 foot roadway easement as described in Deed from Irene Ward to Mary Harris, recorded in Book 738 of Official Records, at page 78 and in Deed from George A. Harris, et ux, to Robert S. Cary, et ux, recorded in Book 738 of Official Records, at page 74.

for the purpose of paying the obligations secured by said Deed of Trust, including fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the Sale.

Dated: November 20, 1968.

/s/ LaVERNE ZIDNAK, Assistant Secretary
No. 1636 Dec. 2, 9, 16, 23, 1968.

NOTICE OF HEARING RESOLUTION NO. 30

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 23rd day of December, 1968, the Board of Directors of the Tamalpais Fire Protection District shall conduct a hearing pursuant to Resolution adopted December 3rd, 1968, on the question of whether certain properties located in the vicinity of Richardson Bay should be annexed to the Tamalpais Fire Protection District.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the maps of the territory designated as Richardson Bay Annexation, as well as the aforesaid resolution, are available for public inspection at 309 Poplar St., Mill Valley, Marin County, California.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that any interested person desiring to make written protest against said annexation shall do so by written communication filed with the Clerk of the Tamalpais Fire Protection District not later than the hour set for hearing. A written protest by a landowner shall contain a description sufficient to identify the land owned by him.

BY ORDER of the Board of Directors of the Tamalpais Fire Protection District this 3rd day of December, 1968.

Collegians Fete House Speaker

BOSTON (AP) — Speaker of the House John W. McCormack, 76, who was forced to drop out of high school at age 13 because of the death of his father, is now a member of a college fraternity.

Phi Alpha Tau, a fraternity with chapters at Emerson College and Suffolk University, made McCormack an honorary brother yesterday in a service at Emmanuel Church.

McCormack, who did odd jobs as a youth to help support his mother and younger brothers while studying law, said he was "proud I could rise, without even a high school education, to the position of speaker of the House."

"Only in America could it happen," he said.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

When Drinker's Liver Sickens It's Often Too Late To Help

VAN DELLEN

The incidence of cirrhosis of the liver in the United States parallels the consumption of alcohol. Every person who drinks too much should consider the state of his liver.

This largest single organ of the body takes a lot of abuse without complaining, but once it gives up, the situation is hopeless.

In minor or moderate cirrhotic involvement, the outlook is better, provided the disease is treated properly. Potential candidates should take this hint and be examined periodically.

MANY ALCOHOLICS find solace in reports that cirrhosis is not due to booze but to the fact that drinkers usually do not eat properly. Plausible as this sounds, it is hard to ignore the evidence — alcohol is the common denominator in more than 80 per cent of all sufferers of cirrhosis of the liver.

What is even more surprising is that many boozers never get the disease, regardless of their diet. There is a possibility that the liver cells are destroyed by impurities in liquor or by other factors associated with cocktail-circuit living. Or perhaps these people are immune.

AT ANY RATE, heavy drinkers who develop unexplained lassitude, easy fatigability, dyspepsia, or loss of appetite are getting on SOS from their liver. Weight loss and tissue wasting are other warnings. These manifestations are not specific for liver disease, but do demonstrate slight early departures from health that so many cirrhotics tell about — after it is too late.

Eighty per cent of the liver must be destroyed before there are obvious signs of failure. The prevalence of cirrhosis is becoming a serious problem. Among adults, it is the fifth most common cause of death, outranked only by heart disease, cancer, strokes, and accidents.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies requie to the I-J.)

NERVES AND DANDRUFF

M. Y. writes: Is dandruff caused by nerves or germs?

REPLY

Neither — if you refer to ordinary dandruff. Infection plays a role in some instances when the scalp is diseased. White flakes on a navy blue suit are embarrassing but this is the only nervous aspect associated with dandruff.

DOESN'T RINSE DISHES

A reader writes: If dishes are washed with a detergent and not rinsed, will any harm be done to food served on them or to the stomach?

REPLY

The food may have an underlying taste but the stomach won't be harmed. Do you have any special reason for not rinsing the dishes?

SKIPPED BEATS

S. E. writes: Could coffee and cigarettes produce premature contractions of the heart?

REPLY

Yes. This irregularity of the beat occurs when the heart is irritable. Smoking and overindulgence in coffee and tea are known offenders, but occasionally skipped beats develop for no apparent reason. The condition is most troublesome when sitting quietly or lying in bed.

RAYNAUD'S VARIATIONS

T. W. writes: What is the difference between Raynaud's disease, Raynaud's syndrome, and Raynaud's phenomenon?

REPLY

Dr. Maurice Raynaud (1834-1881) first described the condition in which the extremities became cold and numb after exposure to cold or to an emotional upset. Victims with the symptoms exactly as he described have Raynaud's disease. But there are many variations. Modifications of the original symptoms usually are referred to as Raynaud's phenomenon, or syndrome.

Today's Health Hint — Fearfulness clouds good sense.

Sensitivity Program Due Trustee Study

A policy to govern "sensitivity training" sessions which are proposed in the three high schools of Tamalpais High School District will be presented to the district board at its 8 p.m. meeting today in the district office at Redwood High School.

At the same time, a report urging the board to "go slow" on authorizing any such sessions will be presented by an ad hoc parent committee.

Sensitivity training is defined in the proposed policy as "a unique small group experience, so designed as to provide the maximum possible opportunity for the individual participants to interact freely, give and receive feedback, experiment with new behavior, and develop awareness of self and others."

The technique, also sometimes called awareness groups, encounter training, transactional analysis, etc., is based on psychiatric approaches. It relies on feelings rather than intellectual stimulus.

The proposed policy, which is intended to qualify the district for a federal grant to underwrite the training project, was devised by a committee of district psychologists, psychology teachers, counselors and supervisors, headed by Dr. Walter Lee, psychologist.

It emphasizes that no student would be permitted to participate in the sessions without freely given consent of the student himself and his parents.

The parent committee, headed by William E. Henderscheid and Nan Hepp, both of Mill Valley, contends the definition in the policy is too vague, and that the guidelines for selecting personnel to conduct the sessions leave too much to the discretion of a selection committee within the district staff.

The parent group contends also that the committee working on the policy was committed to the project in advance and did not study whether it was really worthwhile to be introduced in the schools.

Terrorists Hit Five Times With Bombs In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Terrorists struck again twice early today, bringing to five in the past 36 hours the number of bomb explosions.

Shortly after 2 a.m., a bomb exploded in the main bus terminal in Guadalajara. Nine persons were injured.

At about the same time, a bomb exploded at the entrance of the police station in Ixtacalco, about four miles from the center of Mexico City. It is a suburb that has now blended into the city. There was no report of injuries.

The deputy commander of the metropolitan police, Gen. Raul Mendiolea Cerecero, said patrols have been doubled in an effort to prevent further bombings.

A bomb exploded near the massive glass house of the government party early Saturday. Early yesterday another charge went off in front of the building occupied by the Mexican Workers Confederation, the most powerful group of labor unions in the country.

Ferryboat Study Up For Approval

The Marin County Transit District board will meet briefly at 9 a.m. tomorrow in the civic center to approve a $45,000 contract for a ferry feasibility study.

The San Francisco-Marin Water Transportation Study Committee last month selected Arthur D. Little Inc. of Cambridge, Mass., from among 30 applicants to make the study.

Transit directors will also discuss a joint powers agreement with Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to finance a bus system, both inter-county and intra-county.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KRON (4), 7 p.m. — "Wide Wonderful World" presents "Ski Down the Years," a history of skiing as a sport as pictured by master skier and world-famous photographer John Jay.

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 8 p.m. — Douglas Fairbanks Jr. guest-stars as a wiseman, a toy promotor and a Christmas story reader on "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In."

KRON (4), 9 p.m. — Cliff Robertson (in a dual role) and Dina Merrill star in the espionage drama "Sunshine Patriot." The motion picture showing is a world premiere.

KQED (9), 9 p.m. — "NET Journal" offers "A Plague on Your Children." It is a report on the disturbing, yet little-known development of chemical and biological weapons and their awesome potential.

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 10 p.m. — Opera singers Eileen Farrell and Marilyn Horn provide Christmas music on "The Carol Burnett Show."

KPIX (5), 12:30 a.m. — David Niven, Teresa Wright and Evelyn Keyes star in the dramatic motion picture "Enchantment."

TELEVISION REVIEW

Nilsson—New Musical Artist On The Horizon

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Nilsson. It's a splendid name. When I first heard of the contemporary musical artist who bears that name, I imagined a gaunt Swedish mystic who spoke only in parables. The rumors among Hollywood insiders heightened the mystique. Nilsson? Genius, they said. Nilsson? In a class by himself, added the tough guys.

Nilsson has a first name, but why ruin the mystique by spreading it around: Mystiques are too few and far between in modern Hollywood. I did, however, want to tell you about this singular composer, performer and singer—but as you know, in my line of work I need a television angle, and I'm happy to say I found one. He did the score for the pilot of a planned ABC-TV series, "The Courtship of Eddie's Father." Well that takes care of the television angle.

The first thing you have to do regarding Nilsson is go out and buy his first album, "Pandemonium Shadow Show." The second thing you have to do is go out and buy his second album, "Aerial Ballet," which is marvelous. The feeling among industry insiders is that RCA, for whom he records, should have achieved enormous public recognition for this piece of work. RCA, however, apparently has learned its lesson. It considers him a multi-million-dollar property, which is precisely correct.

Nilsson is not at all a gaunt Swedish mystic. He came from Brooklyn. He is 27 years old, blond, lanky, loose and well-built, and has been described as looking like Mike Nichols in a David McCallum haircut.

Woman's Screams Rout Attacker

Police said Mary Ann Hartman of 8 Charlotte Drive was jumped from behind by a man at 2:30 a.m. as she was unlocking her apartment door after returning home from work.

The assailant was described as 5 feet 7 inches tall with black curly hair, wearing a blue jacket, green slacks and suede shoes, police said.

Trustees To Hear Land Swap Request

A request by Fairfax developer Mathew Farr to exchange a small piece of his property adjacent to White Hill School for similar school property will be considered by the Fairfax School District board at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow in the district office.

Dr. H. Reginald Hammond, district superintendent, said that Farr earlier made an exchange of property with the district because a road running to his development encroached on school land. He now wants to make an additional exchange, Hammond said.

Raiders Hold On To Edge Chargers, Tie With Chiefs

Oakland Playoff Sunday

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The Oakland Raiders don't seem to do anything the easy way. They beat Buffalo by three points, Denver by six and the San Diego Chargers by seven.

But those last three games helped the Raiders (12-2) tie Kansas City for the Western Division lead in the American Football League.

The two clubs meet next Sunday at Oakland for the right to play New York, winner in the East, for the AFL championship.

DOWN TO WIRE

Raider Coach John Rauch, after yesterday's come-from-behind 34-27 victory over the Chargers in San Diego Stadium, indicated what type of game he expects against the Chiefs.

"It looks like we have to play this type game right down to the wire," he said.

Some Raiders thought Rodger Bird's touchdown return of 22 yards on an interception, giving Oakland their first lead 17-13 early in the third quarter, was the turning point.

But Rauch said, "The big ones were Dave Grayson's interception and the two big passes Daryl Lamonica threw to Charlie Smith and Warren Wells."

Grayson's interception stopped a third-quarter Charger drive and set up Lamonica's third touchdown pass of the day —a 40-yard toss to swift halfback Charlie Smith, who had beaten middle linebacker Chuck Allen on a mismatch that Rauch said was in his game plan.

RACE

And Wells outraced Jim Tolbert to haul in a Lamonica pass on a Raider scoring play that covered 55 yards.

"We were saving those plays to Wells and Smith until we got field position," said Lamonica, "and they worked."

Grayson, who led the league with 10 interceptions, doesn't mind the close scores, as long as the Raiders win.

"When you win it makes it easier to play the next game," Grayson said. "Those guys on the Chargers have too much pride. We knew they'd be after us."

In the end it was up to the Raider defense to stop the Chargers after San Diego rookie Ken Dwyer fell on a fumbled punt in the end zone for a touchdown and a seven-point San Diego deficit with 10 minutes to play.

'BEAT-UP'

But defensive end Ben Davidson and other Raiders were able to stop the Chargers.

"We're tired and beat up," Davidson said. "I'm beat. I'm down 10 pounds to 255."

Charger flanker Lance Alworth, who won the AFL pass-catching title with 68 catches for 1,312 yards by grabbing five for 80 yards against Oakland, believes the Raiders will catch their breath.

"It's really hard to choose," said Alworth of the impending Raider-Chief fray. "The Chiefs have tremendous talent but the Raiders have been winning on guts all year."

WILLARD'S BIGGEST DAY

A 49er Winning Season

ATLANTA (AP) — The way the San Francisco 49ers finished the National Football League season looked like just another instant replay.

San Francisco, led by fullback Willard, came from behind in the second quarter against Atlanta and played to a scoreless tie in the second half to top the Falcons 14-12 yesterday.

The victory gave San Francisco a final record of 7-6-1, not much different than five of the previous seven seasons. Except for 1963, when they were 2-12, and 1964, when they were 4-10, the 49ers have barely managed to break even.

Last year they were 7-7, hardly improving on their 1966 record of 6-6-2. In 1965 and 1961 they were 7-6-1 as in this season, and in 1962 they finished at 6-8. Team spokesmen keep talking about rebuilding but, the more things change, the more they stay the same.

Willard steamed for 69 yards and one touchdown in the 20-degree weather, then plunged one yard for San Francisco's other tally. He rolled up 162 yards in 25 carries to finish the season with 967 yards.

Only moments earlier Burson had been the hero, intercepting a John Brodie pass and racing 73 yards to score. The 49ers blocked Carl Etter's try for the extra point so, when the Atlanta kicker booted field goals of 33 and 39 yards, it gave the Falcons a 12-7 second-quarter lead.

Willard's second touchdown in effect ended the offensive battle for the day although Atlanta did threaten in the final quarter.

"I said to myself I have to get that ball," Witcher recalled. "Brodie threw a fine pass but the wind caught it slightly and I had to turn back in order to make the catch. I knew that I simply had to do it."

The 49ers' defensive line, led by Charlie Krueger, turned in a key play in the fourth quarter by dropping Falcon quarterback Randy Johnson for a 12-yard loss after Atlanta had driven to the 49ers' 18, mostly on a 60-yard pass to Ray Odgen.

It was the fourth time Johnson was spilled in the game and the 69th time this season that an Atlanta quarterback had been caught for a loss, setting an NFL record.

Willard received the game ball but gave it to John David Crow, who played his last game of an 11-year career.

Grappler Scores Fast Fall

Mike Wong of San Rafael High School, competing in the 103-pound class, pinned his opponent in 33 seconds to win a trophy for scoring the fastest fall Saturday in a novice school wrestling tournament hosted by Novato High.

There were 124 entries from seven schools, including Novato, San Marin of Novato, Redwood of Larkspur, Terra Linda, San Rafael, Tamalpais of Mill Valley and Montgomery of Santa Rosa.

103 — Ed Wast (S.R.), Jeff Sloane (Redwood), Jeff Grant (Terra Linda), Mike Wong (S.R.).

Lowell Cagers Take Drake Tourney Title

By GARY TISCHLER

Lowell High School's basketball team, which came into the tournament winless in in four starts, struck it rich last Saturday, just shading Novato, 50-47, to capture the Drake Invitational Basketball Tournament for the second straight year.

The Indians from San Francisco made the once-beaten Hornets their third straight victims after wins over previously unbeaten Petaluma Friday and once-beaten Terra Linda Wednesday.

BOUNCES BACK

Petaluma bounced back to hold off Drake, 88-75, in a wild-scoring game for third place. Terra Linda easily downed Napa, 59-55, for the consolation title and Redwood of Larkspur overcame Marysville stalling tactics to win, 41-26, for seventh place.

Lowell landed three players on the all-tournament team, including most valuable player Gordon Glasgow, a 6-5 center, as well as guards Ron Mosley and Bill Leong. Host team Drake has two — guard Dave Alvarado and center Fred Westcott. Novato landed the one-two scoring punch of Steve McNalley and Ed Herrnberger. Others named to the ten-man team were Petaluma whiz Pete Daggett, Terra Linda center Mike Timmel, and Napa shooter Kirk Schultz.

STYLE

Lowell's title was a triumph of style over talent. Again playing its deliberate style of set-'em-up basketball and catering to its giant front wall, Lowell broke away from a one-point lead early in the final period.

Novato got back into the game when Gene Barnes made a couple of steals and lean-bean sophomore center Don LaFerrierre, who stands 6-7, came into the game to grab three rebounds and hit on two baskets to tie it at 47-47 with 1:23 left.

The Hornets played for the last shot twice, but missed the first time and had it blocked the second time. In the interim, Mosley hit a free throw and Bill

Marin Catholic In Bottom Spot

Marin Catholic of Kentfield finished dead last in the eight-team St. Elizabeth High School Invational Basketball Tournament after suffering its third straight loss, 73-49, to Mira Monte High of Walnut Creek Saturday at Oakland.

Oakland won the championship by defeating host St. Elizabeth's in Saturday night's finals.

Marin Catholic	8	10	12	19—49
Mira Monte	10	19	26	18—73

Marin scorers: Marty Hanson, 2-2-6; Tim Hanrahan, 2-2-6; Steve Telander, 2-2-6; Mike Luchessa, 0-2-2; Mike Murray, 6-1-13; Mike Parnow, 1-0-2; Roger Offenback, 1-0-2; Roger Schulz, 2-0-4; Steve Powers, 1-0-2; Tom Bertoli, 0-2-2; Seamus O'Reilly, 2-0-4.

Sacramento Team Wins Tar Tourney

American River Junior College of Sacramento, blew a 14-point lead, then had to rally to carve out a 77-72 win over surprisingly tough Napa Junior College in the finals of the College of Marin Invitational Basketball Tournament Saturday.

Reedley J.C. captured third place with a 100-87 triumph over Yuba and Sierra, of Rocklin, took the consolation title, whipping Santa Rosa Junior College, 101-83.

College of Marin was not around for the finish, dropping its first two tourney games, to Napa and Sierra.

Clark headed the all-tourney team, which also featured Phil Wash and Bill Steinmetz of American River, Wayne Aalto and Jim Mitchell of Reedley, and Cliff Swesey of Sierra.

Eight team records and seven individual marks were set in the three-day tournament.

Redwood Profs Take On Oneders

Redwood High School faculty will play the Radio KYA Oneders basketball team in exhibition game tonight, 8:15, at the Redwood gymnasium in Larkspur.

Undefeated in nine games this season and in 29 in a streak dating back to last year, the Oneders have five players averaging in double-figures, led by Don Delbon with 31.7 points per game, Don Novitsky 21, Johnny Holliday 18, Breck McClaran 16.4 and Sal Bando, third baseman for the Oakland Athletics, with 10.9.

Holliday, who lives in Tbiuron, is one of four members of KYA's 10-man roster who reside in Marin County. The others are Bud O'Shea and Tom Sgro of San Rafael and Sam Saraniti of Mill Valley.

The barnstorming KYA team has raised $11,500 for charity thus far this season.

AAU CHAMPIONSHIP

Marin Runners Win Marathon

Doug Butt's third place finish led the Marin Athletic Club to the team championship yesterday in the fourth annual Pacific Association, Amateur Athletic Union marathon at Petaluma.

The individual championship went to Byron Lowry of San Jose State's cross country team who outran 103 other finishers. He covered the 26-mile, 385-yard course in 2 hours, 30 minutes and 41 seconds.

Second place went to Bob Waldron, running unattached from the University of California at Berkeley, in 2:31.1, followed by Butt's 2:31.22 clocking over a circular course that started in Petaluma, touched into Marin County, and finished in Petaluma.

Heavy rains and winds buffeted the runners throughout most of the race. More than 200 started and 104 finished.

Other runners who helped Marin A.C. to their championship, their times and places, were: Daryl Beardall, 2:36.48, 7th; E. W. Hildreth, 2:41.8, 11th; Raymond Menzie, 2:41.58, 12th; and John Noonan, 2:42.12, 13th. The first five finishers for each team count in team standings.

Lowry is a newcomer to distance running in Northern California. Last August the 21-year-old San Jose State senior won fastest time trophy in the historic Dipsea Race, 6.9 miles from Mill Valley to Stinson Beach.

Walter Stack of San Francisco, at 60, was the oldest finisher and the youngest was Sean Cochran, 10, of Redwood City.

Following Lowry, Waldron and Butt among the top 10 finishers, and their times, were: Skip Houk, Reno, 2:33.35; Darold Dent, San Jose, 2:34.58; Darren George, Angwin, Calif., 2:35.23; Beardall, 2:36.48— Richard Delgado, Berkeley, 2:37.15; Steve Dean, Carmichael, 2:37.34; and H. O. Riordan, San Jose, 2:40.49.

Ashe Wins; Graebner Not On Team

BRISBANE, Australia (UPI) —The United States will walk away with the Davis Cup later this month if Arthur Ashe and Stan Smith go after the Australian opposition the way they tear apart each other's game.

America's premier tennis stars staged a 55-game, three-hour and 15-minutes marathon yesterday before Ashe came up with a 6-4, 1-6, 9-7, 4-6, 7-5 victory in the title round of the Queensland Men's singles championships.

Ashe, an Army Lieutenant from Richmond, Va., really never extended himself with the famed cannon ball serve because of a sore elbow. Still, the wily Ashe was extremely accurate on placement shots that finally wore down his opponent from Pasadena.

Smith and Ashe were named to the Davis Cup team by Captain Donald Dell yesterday, along with Bob Lutz and the surprise nomination of Charlie Pasarell over Clark Graebner.

Seals Lead 3-0; Pow! Lose 7-4

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Oakland Seals, shocked by an aroused Chicago Black Hawk team, take on the Minnesota North Stars in a National Hockey League contest tomorrow night.

The Seals, in third place a point ahead of Minnesota in the west Division, took a 3-0 lead over Chicago last night before the roof caved in.

Former Champion Willard, 86, Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jess Willard, the giant boxer who was The Great White Hope of those who wanted the world's heavyweight title taken from Negro champion Jack Johnson, is dead at 86.

The 230-pound Willard lost his title four years later to Jack Dempsey. It was 45 years after that before boxing experts, studying films, acknowledged Willard's greatness.

He died yesterday in Pacoima Memorial Lutheran Hospital of a cerebral hemorrhage following treatment for a heart attack. His wife Hattie was by his side.

STARTS AT 30

In 1911, at the age of 30, Willard began a boxing career from which he retired 12 years later.

Johnson was champion when Willard became a boxer, in Willard's words, because "everyone was looking for what they called a white hope."

Controversy over the fight started five years later when Johnson, broke and living in Paris, sold a magazine article in which he claimed he took a dive in Havana.

Willard denied it. He said he beat Johnson "fair and square and knocked him out with a right hand punch."

In the Broadway play, the Johnson-like hero agrees to take a dive before the fight, but changes his mind in the ring and admits he was fairly beaten.

FILMS

"I always said," Willard once commented," if he was going to quit, why did he wait 26 rounds, one hour and 44 minutes, under a sun that was 115 degrees hot, to quit? Or wait five years to say he took a dive?"

Proof of Willard's skill came 45 years after the big bout because a law prohibiting interstate shipment of prizefight films.

When experts viewed the movies in later years, along with films of Willard's other fights, they agreed that he was an excellent boxer with a punch, not the awkward giant some pictured him to be.

"I'm glad some of these things finally came out, even it it was 45 years too late," Willard said recently.

When he lost the title to Dempsey in 1919 more controversy ensued. Again it was a broiling hot day—July 4 in Toledo, Ohio.

BROKEN JAW

Willard, who had never been knocked off his feet, was floored by Dempsey seven times in the first round. By the fourth round, Willard, with a broken jaw and cheek bones, one eye closed, was unable to get off his stool.

Films showed that Dempsey stood over the fallen Willard and hit him before he could get to his feet.

"I'd say," commented Willard, "the referee didn't exactly give me the best of it."

All his life, Willard contended that Dempsey's gloves—or at least the left one which did all the damage—contained something more than the usual padding.

He blamed Dempsey's manager, the late Jack Kearns. Kearns joked off the accusation, telling The Associated Press: "Naw, I didn't use plaster of Paris on the bandages. It was cement."

CIRCUS

Willard's colorful career included a tour with the old Sells Floto Circus and another circus which he eventually bought and a brief career in silent movies.

After he retired from the ring he made some unlucky investments in oil, real estate and a supermarket. But in spite of losses, Jess and Hattie salvaged their home and some rental property. They lived comfortably in suburban La Crescenta and Sunland.

In his last years he suffered from chronic heart trouble. He was hospitalized and released early in the week, but returned to the hospital Saturday.

The Willards had two sons, Jess Jr. and Alan, who live with their families in the metropolitan Los Angeles area.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

It's John David Crow's Last Game

ATLANTA (UPI) — One doesn't often run into much sentiment in the tough world of professional football. But then, it isn't often that the likes of John David Crow reaches the end of the line.

Crow, the all-American from Texas A&M who spent 11 seasons as a headliner in the National Football League, was calling it quits. He was going back home to Pine Bluff, Ark., and maybe live the life of a businessman.

"This is it," Crow said yesterday after he and the other San Francisco 49ers had closed out another season by beating the Atlanta Falcons 14-12. "I'm not just saying that was my last game: it was my last game.

"It's been a great 11 years," Crow said. "I only hope I have put back into the game a little of what I have gotten out of it."

Ken Willard said it best for his teammates. He took the game ball which had been presented to him for his star ring role in the win over the Falcons and handed it to Crow as a going away present.

"I'm going back to Pine Bluff and put my business affairs in order," Crow said. "I'd like to get a job handling color for radio or television—something that would keep me close to the game that has been so much of my life since I was just a kid."

How about coaching, Crow was asked. "I haven't definitely ruled out coaching," he replied. "I suppose it depends on how I feel in August.

"It doesn't bother me now, but I know it will be hard come fall."

Crow has plenty to keep him busy back in Pine Bluff. He's president of an insurance business and distributor for a gasoline company there.

"But, you've got to realize that I've been playing football since I was seven years old—that's been a quarter of a century," Crow continued. "It's not easy to change the habits of a lifetime."

Crow won the Heisman Trophy while playing under Bear Bryant at Texas A&M and was a professional star from the start. His two biggest seasons were 1960 when he rushed for 1,071 yards and 1962 when he scored 17 touchdowns.

Willard, a 225-pound four-year veteran from the University of North Carolina, had his best day as a pro Sunday. He gained 162 yards rushing to fall only 33 short of a 1,000-yard season and scored both of the 49ers touchdowns—the first on a 69-yard burst up the middle.

"That was my longest touchdown run since I was in high school," Willard said. "It was certainly my best day, at least in yardage, in pro football."

Willard once had said that he wanted to play for an Eastern team in order to be closer to his Richmond, Va. home.

"I'd still like to play in the East," he said. "But this is an improving team with a genuine belief that we are going to be a winner. I'm happy playing in San Francisco and I'd like to stay here until the 49ers are a winner."

Injured Bruin Gridder Home At Christmas?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA sophomore football center John Chrestman, seriously injured in the UCLA-Tennessee game, may be able to leave a Los Angeles hospital and go home for Christmas.

Chrestman was transferred to the UCLA Medical Center from a Knoxville, Tenn., hospital several weeks ago. His neck is still partly paralyzed but he is gradually regaining control, said Vic Kelley, UCLA sports publicist.

Kelley said. "He showed marked signs of progress in the last four or five days."

Fresno Wins State J.C. Grid Title

It rained all week. Ratcliffe Stadium looked like a pile of quicksand Saturday as Fresno's Rams took control in the second quarter and rolled past East Los Angeles 16-7.

The game ended an 11-game East Los Angeles winning streak and was the first defeat of the season for the Huskies.

Freshman Vic Lamanuzzi, undaunted by all the muck and goo, raced for 170 yards on 32 carries and gained almost as many yards as the entire Huskie offense. Quarterback Chris Jaramillo of the losers passed only seven times, completing one for 38 yards.

Broncos Win Cage Tourney

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Santa Clara Broncos' timber-tall front line powered them to a championship in the Cable Car Classic — and a probable top-10 rating among the nation's basketball teams.

The undefeated Broncos, No. 16 going into the tournament, whipped No. 12 Houston in the semi-finals and followed up with a 78-56 trouncing of University of San Francisco for the title.

Houston won the consolation game against Brigham Young, 98-75.

The final game was dominated by Santa Clara's tall Ogden brothers, Bud and Ralph, and 6-foot-10 center Dennis Awtrey.

Bud Ogden scored eight points during a 10-point surge that lifted Santa Clara into a commanding lead early in the game. Bud was voted the most valuable player in the tournament.

Also on the all-star squad were Awtrey, Pete Cross and Curtis Hinton of USF and Houston's Olympic Games center, Ken Spain.

NFL HIGHLIGHTS

Vikings Win Playoff Spot

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Don Horn started the day backing up Green Bay's back-up quarterback and wound up throwing the Chicago Bears for a fatal loss.

He had an unlikely band of Packer-backers from Minnesota behind him all the way.

Horn, activated Saturday night by the Packers as standby for Zeke Bratkowski, Bart Starr's relief pitcher, came off the bench yesterday and keyed a 28-27 triumph over Chicago that knocked the Bears out of the National Football League championship picture.

RALLY

But the Vikings, who followed the Green Bay-Chicago game via clubhouse radio after the finish of their game, had to sweat out a furious Bear charge in the final minutes before nailing their first division title in eight years as a NFL expansion franchise.

In yesterday's other regular season finales, Baltimore edged Los Angeles 28-24, Dallas thumped New York 28-10, Washington topped Detroit 14-3, San Francisco nipped Atlanta 14-12 and New Orleans trimmed Pittsburgh 24-14. St. Louis upended Cleveland 27-16 Saturday.

Dallas meets the Browns in Cleveland next Saturday for the Eastern Conference title and the Vikings and Colts collide at Baltimore the following day for the Western crown.

Horn, released from the Army just 10 days ago, entered the Packers-Bears scrap with Chicago leading 10-7 in the first quarter after Bratkowski, who had started in place of the injury-plagued Starr, was shaken up.

NO. 1 PICK

The 23-year-old San Diego State alumnus, Green Bay's No. 1 draft choice last year, uncorked a 67-yard touchdown pass to Jim Grabowski and then set up Chuck Mercein's one-yard scoring plunge with a 45-yard pass to Boyd Dowler as the Packers grabbed a 21-10 halftime lead.

Horn capped an 83-yard third quarter drive with a 25-yard TD strike to Dowler, boosting the margin to 28-10, before the Bears struck back.

Ronnie Bull's eight-yard touchdown run and Mac Percival's 26-yard field goal closed the gap to '8-'0 and Dick Gordon grabbed a 51-yard TD pass from Jack Concannon with 3:58 remaining in the game. Percival's conversion left the Bears one point back.

The Packers, unable to move the ball after the kickoff, were forced to punt. Chicago stormed back to a first down on the Packer 43 with 1:19 to play, but Concannon was thrown for a five-yard loss, two passes failed and Ray Nitschke intercepted Concannon's desperate fourth down toss, sealing the Bears' fate.

"It was one of the most inspired comebacks I've ever seen," said Green Bay Coach Phil Bengston of the futile Chicago rally.

PRAISE

Then the Packer pilot, whose club finished 6-7-1 and out of the money this season after winning three consecutive NFL championships, praised third string quarterback Horn.

"Here's a boy who merely knew what we had to do but hadn't practiced it," Bengston said. "He's a cool customer. That's why we drafted him No. 1. He did as good a job as we could have expected from Bart Starr under the circumstances."

Joe Kapp, Minnesota's unsuing quarterback, led the Vikings past the stubborn Eagles, firing a pair of scoring passes and running for a third touchdown.

He hit Bill Brown for a 57-yard touchdown bomb in the second period, tossed a 30-yard payoff pitch to Gene Washington in the third and wrapped it up with a two-yard scoring jaunt in the fourth.

Johnny Unitas, sidelined by an elbow ailment most of the season, engineered two second half touchdown drives at Los Angeles, leading the Colts to their eighth straight victory and a 13-1 finish.

He took over for Earl Morrall, who had thrown a 61-yard touchdown pass to Preston Pearson, and flipped nine yards to Pearson for one score before setting up the winning points with 37 and 11-yard strikes.

MORTON

Craig Morton replaced ineffective Don Meredith for the Cowboys in the second quarter at New York and paced the Capitol Division kings to their 11th victory against two setbacks. He ran for one touchdown and threw a 13-yard TD pass to Bob Hayes, who also scored on a 63-yard punt runback.

Harry Theofiledes, Washington's third-string signal caller, drove the Redskins to two touchdowns in the last five minutes to overcome Detroit.

Rookie defensive back Jim Smith of the 'Skins suffered a broken neck in a first half collision with a teammate. The team physician said Smith should recover without permanent injury.

The Saints toppled the Steelers behind the strong passing of Bill Kilmer, who connected for 291 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

Dads, Kids Happy; Huck Finn Is Late

NEW YORK (UPI)—This time it was Huck Finn, not Heidi, waiting in the wings.

One month ago NBC cut away from the last 55 seconds of the Oakland Raiders-New York Jets football game with the Jets leading 32-29. The game seemed in hand and the network had Heidi, a long-awaited special of the children's classic, ready to roll at 7 p.m. EST.

Oakland fouled the strategy by scoring two touchdowns in the closing seconds to beat the Jets, and NBC apologized after the nation's football fans flooded the network's switchboards with complaints.

Yesterday it was Huckleberry Finn, and NBC was taking no chances. Oakland was playing San Diego and needed a victory to clinch a tie for the American Football League's Western Division championship. The Raiders led 34-27 at 7 p.m., but the Chargers were threatening an upset that would have given the crown to the Kansas City Chiefs.

NBC's decision was to stay with football—and they did, for nine extra minutes.

In fact, none of NBC's Sunday night programming did. Everything after Huck ran nine minutes late, too.

NBC said its decision to delay all programs rather than cutting was unprecedented for the network.

Warriors Can't Do Any Worse

NEW YORK (AP)—No matter what the San Francisco Warriors do tonight against the New York Knicks, it'll probably be better than what they did Saturday night in Philadelphia.

The loss dropped the Warriors' record to 13-18 for the season. They are fourth in the Western Division.

"It's the same old thing," said Warrior Coach George Lee. "Nate Thurmond hurt himself again against Boston and all he did against Philly was stand around. He couldn't run or jump.

"And besides Nate, Clyde Lee and Jeff Mullins didn't play. Clyde has tendonitis in his heel, and Jeff got kicked in the ankle against the Celtics.

We sent Clyde home and, if Nate doesn't get better, we'll send him home too," Lee lamented.

AFL ROUNDUP

Raiders Now Wait For Chiefs

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a bird, it was a plane. Well, for Oakland, it was a Bird—Rodger Bird flying down the sideline with an intercepted pass to spark the Raiders into a playoff for the American Football League's Western Division title.

"That put us ahead and pepped us up," Coach John Rauch said yesterday of Bird's 22-yard touchdown run with the interception that put Oakland ahead of San Diego 17-13 and keyed the Raiders to a 34-27 victory.

Oakland finished its regular season with a 12-2 record and in a first place tie in the West with Kansas City, which trounced Denver 30-7 Saturday.

The Raiders will play Kansas City in Oakland next Sunday for the right to meet the Jets, Eastern Division champions, for the AFL title in New York Dec. 29.

New York closed out its regular schedule yesterday with a 31-7 romp over Miami, and, in the only other game, Houston trounced Boston 45-17.

Mat Snell, Emerson Boozer and Bill Mathis ran for touchdowns and Babe Parilli passed for one as the Jets rolled over Miami, which played without injured quarterback Bob Griese who was replaced by Rick Norton and rookie Kim Hammong. Larry Csonka bulled one yard for Miami's touchdown.

Leading 21-17 in the third period, Houston broke its game open with touchdown runs by Hoyle Granger and Woody Campbell, a score on an interception by Ken Houston and Wayne Walker's field goal. Granger also ran for a touchdown and Don Trull passed for two more for the Oilers. Tom Sherman passed for both Boston touchdowns.

Mississippi Wins Liberty Bowl From Virginia Tech

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Virginia Tech caught Mississippi off guard with the Deacon Special but then outsmarted themselves with an onside kick in the Liberty Bowl, the first of the major postseason attractions.

Ole Miss Coach John Vaught says the onside kick turned the game around Saturday and started the Rebels toward their 34-17 victory, their ninth postseason bowl triumph against seven losses.

The Gobblers tried the onside kick with a 17-0 lead in the nationally televised game at Memphis, Tenn. But the ball failed to go the required 10 yards and the Rebels took over on the Tech 48.

The Gobblers' first score came in an explosive second quarter when quarterback Al Kincaid picked up the ball on the line of scrimmage and pitched it to Ken Edwards who dashed 58 yards to score. The play worked against the Wake Forest Deacons in 1964 and Tech dubbed it the Deacon Special.

Ole Miss rallied to clobber the Gobblers with scoring passes of 21 and 35 yards by Archie Manning and a 79-yard run by Steve Hindman for the go-ahead touchdown. Bob Bailey wrapped it up by running 70 yards with an intercepted pass in the final period.

Elsewhere, the small colleges had their day in a line-up of post-season classics ranging from the Camelia Bowl in Saramento, to the indoor Boardwalk Bowl in Atlantic City, N.J.

Humboldt State downed Fresno State 29-14 in the Camelia Bowl while Delaware pulled out a 31-24 victory over Indiana University of Pennsylvania in the Boardwalk Bowl in Atlantic City Convention Hall.

North Dakota State held off Arkansas State 23-14 in the Pecon Bowl at Arlington, Tex., and Louisiana Tech walloped Akron 33-13 in the Grantland Rice Bowl at Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Byrd fired five touchdown passes in a 43-35 decision over Texas A&I.

Two other Little All-Americans shone in the Pecan Bowl. Halfback Paul Hatchett of top-ranked North Dakota State gained 106 yards and was named the outstanding offensive player while Arkansas State linebacker Bill Bergery figured in 21 tackles and intercepted two passes to win defensive honors.

Louisiana Tech's Terry Bradshaw showed how he became the NCAA College Division total offense leader as the Bulldogs drubbed Akron. Bradshaw completed 19 of 33 passes for 261 yards and two touchdowns and scored twice himself.

Delaware fell behind 24-23 on Bob Tate's 33-yard field goal with a minute to play. But the Blue Hens pulled it out when Don DiMuzio passed nine yards to Ron Withelder with 15 seconds left.

Three field goals in the second quarter by quarterback David Banducci made the difference for Humbolt State. Banducci also threw a four-yard touchdown pass in the final period.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

A higher backswing has some built-in risks, but it will give you added speed if you feel that is necessary. The angle shown in today's illustration indicates the maximum height you should allow your swing to reach, however. With this much swing, it will be doubly important to keep your arm straight and close to your body to avoid looping the ball behind you.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mars and and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1773 the Boston Tea Party took place. American patriots, dressed like Indians, boarded a British vessel in Boston Harbor and threw 342 chests of tea overboard to protest taxation.

In 1835 property loss was placed at $20-million when a fire broke out in New York City. It was so bad a fire that Philadelphia firemen were called to assist.

In 1944 the Germans launched their last great World War II attack with the Battle of the Bulge in Belgium.

In 9165 some 15,000 persons were feared dead when a cyclone hit Pakistan.

A thought for the day: Henry Louis Mencken said: "Injustice is relatively easy to beat, what stings is justice."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

This Series Geared To Help Clear Responses To No-trump

How should you respond to your partner's opening bid of one no-trump? Most players find the answer by guess and by golly, sometimes landing on their feet, but just as often on their noses. This week's articles may supply the guessers with some helpful suggestions.

OPENING BID

South's opening bid of one no-trump promises 16 to 18 points in high cards. North can afford to pass with seven points (or less) since the partnership total cannot reach the 26 points usually needed for game.

In today's hand, North should raise to two no-trump with his eight points. This invites South to go on to game if he has 17 or 18 points, but allows him to pass if he has only 16 points. In this case South has only 16 points and should therefore pass, refusing the invitation.

South needs three diamond tricks to make his contract. He can easily win these tricks if each opponent has three diamonds, since then South's last diamond will become good, but he must be careful if the diamonds break 4-2.

BEST TECHNIQUE

The best technique is to take the first spade trick with dummy's king in order to lead a low diamond toward the two honors in the South hand. East plays low, and South wins with the king.

On the assumption that East has the ace (or West would have taken the first diamond trick), South leads a heart to dummy's king to return another low diamond. East must play the ace, and now South easily wins a diamond trick with dummy's queen and another with his own jack.

DIAMOND TRICKS

This method allows declarer to win three diamond tricks, if the singleton or doubleton ace must play immediately ahead of the hand with two diamond honors. If this is not the case, South must hope for a 3-3 break in diamonds.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠- Q 10 8 7
♥- Q J 9
♦- 10 9 7 3
♣- Q 10

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

Since you have only seven points, the combined count is only 25 points at most, and you need 26 points to have a reasonable play for game. If your partner is a very fine player, you might count this as an eight-point hand because of the wealth of tens and nines; and you would then raise to 2 no-trump.

Union Oil To Begin Building Sir Francis Drake Station

Construction is scheduled to begin on the long sought service station of Union Oil Co. at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo (Red Hill Shopping Center) early in January—with completion expected about 60 days after that.

Meanwhile optometrist Dr. Gar C. May, who has his offices at 1129 Fourth Street, San Rafael, has leased 1,100 square feet for a second office at Red Hill through Tom Ireland of Grubb and Ellis.

Red Hill still has 3,000 square feet unleased that is roofed over but unfinished inside, and also the 5,000-square foot location near Sonoma Avenue formerly occupied by House and Gardens. Still another 5,000 square feet is projected for another building for a bank adjoining the Safeway Store.

FORMER LARKSPUR RESIDENT Bruce Sedley, who has been general manager of the security control division of Card Key Systems, Inc. in Brubank for the past year, has been appointed director of advertising and product planning for Liquidonics Industries, Inc., western division. Card Key is a subsidiary of Liquidonics. A former radio, television and motion picture producer, Sedley developed several audio publicity and guide systems while he was living in Marin.

DARRELL L. CRAEMER of Marinwood has been appointed a realty negotiator for Safeway Stores and will handle leases and land purchases for new store locations. He and his family will move to the Washington area after the first of the year. He has spent the last two years as a real estate analyst in the development department at Safeway's Oakland headquarters. He joined the firm in 1962 as a retail food clerk in the San Francisco division.

Market Is Setback In Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed with a substantial loss today. Trading was active.

The market rose at the start as it followed up on Friday's brisk rally. Little in the way of bullish news appeared, however, so traders took profits.

Prices near the close included:

Occidental Petroleum, down about 2 points, was boosted to the top of the most-active list by a block of 144,100 shares. American Cement, a fractional loser, also was among the volume leaders, thanks to a big block, this one of 99,000 shares.

Paper Firm Is Growing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Do you think it is a good idea at this time to buy International Paper Co.?—M.R.

A. International Paper's decision to step up its participation in the health-care industry has broadened its appeal as a growth issue. The recently completed acquisition of Davol, Inc., included a 10 per cent ownership of C.R. Bard, a hospital specialty product manufacturer. More significant, however, IP has acquired Davol's well-established marketing network, which will be of great value in the distribution of its new line of nonwoven hygiene products.

IP's Long Bell division has experienced a strong demand this year for its building products. Construction of a new plant and an acquisition will expand the building materials segment of IP. A portion of the 6.5 million acres owned by IP has, because of shifting demographic patterns, become more valuable for real-estate development than for timber farming. In order to exploit the full potential of these holdings, the American Central Corp., a land development company, has been acquired.

Despite the growing recognition of IP's potential — as witness its strong uptrend this year — shares still do not command an excessive multiple; thus, purchases for future capital gains are advised.
